

To Honor Dr. Gores At June 18 Dinner

SPECIAL PRESENTATION is made by Congressman Lawrence Curtis to Mike Damelin, member of Newton's East Little League championship team, who was ill when the Curtis trophies were awarded to other team members last January. Mrs. Herbert S. Damelin of 832 Dedham st., Newton Centre, Mike's mother, watches proudly.

Civic leaders in the fields of education, government, and business, are planning a giant testimonial dinner to honor Dr. Harold B. Gores, Newton Superintendent of Schools who has been tapped for a high post with a branch of the Ford Foundation.

The dinner will take place Wednesday evening, June 18, in the Meadowbrook Junior High School auditorium and 600 Newtonites are expected to gather at 6:30 p. m. to pay tribute to the man who has added considerable lustre to the reputation of the Newton school system during his nine years as superintendent.

The committee of key figures planning the affair includes School Committee Chairman Haskell Freedman, chairman; Dr. Charles O. Richter, assistant superintendent, treasurer, and Justin T. Horan, executive director of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, secretary.

Other luminaries organizing plans for the dinner are Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr.; Harold W. Hawkes, president of the Teachers' Federation; and Irving J. Helman, president of the Newton PTA Council.

The subscription price for the roast beef dinner is 5.00 per person, with an absolute limit of

Quartet Of Lebanese Misses To Live Here

America has four new residents this week, named Madeline, Helen, Nancy and Susan, and from now on their address will be 36 Whittemore Road, Newton Corner. The tree-shaded residential street will be quite a change for the girls, after leaving strife torn Lebanon, where the sound of gunfire was not unusual.

The four sisters, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Haroutune Hanessian of Beirut, arrived at Logan Airport early Tuesday morning on their flight to freedom. Only hours before they had been reminded of the changing conditions in their homeland by the fact that no one was allowed to see them off on their long journey.

3 Newton Boys Saved in Near Boat Tragedy

Seeking help for two comrades clinging to a capsized sailboat, a Newton youth swam about a mile through tough, wind-swept water in a near triple-tragedy off Marblehead.

All three were finally rescued. The hero, Peter Mayer of Franklin street, Newton, a strong swimmer, decided to go for help when their craft, a 12-footer, was overturned by the wind about a mile off the Marblehead shore. Clinging to the bottom of the boat, were Paul Gleason, 18, of Blackstone terrace, and Peter

Furcolo Reportedly Fearful Of Delegate Swing to Powers

Governor Furcolo apparently is apprehensive that a movement might develop at the Democratic pre-primary convention to give the gubernatorial nomination to State Senator John E. Powers.

That is the only explanation political experts can offer for Furcolo's failure to step in and halt the fight Speaker John F. Thompson of Ludlow is making to wrest the convention chairmanship away from Powers.

Whatever the outcome of the contest between Powers and Thompson may be — and most political onlookers foresee an eventual victory for Powers — Governor Furcolo is certain to be hurt by the rifts and feuds it will cause within the Democratic party.

Yet, the Governor as far as is known has not made a single move to stop the clash which is assuming such proportions that the choice of the convention chairman may overshadow all other events at the Democratic conclave.

Any fears Furcolo or his lieutenants may have that a grounds-well for Powers may spring up at the convention appear to be without any foundation whatever — unless Powers undergoes a complete change of mind.

There is no question but that Powers would be a very powerful adversary against Furcolo at the Democratic convention if he were to give his nod of approval to those

Mrs. Slotnik New President Of Women Voters

Mrs. Isidor Slotnik has been elected president of the Newton League of Women Voters for the coming year to fill the office vacated by Mrs. Martin Greenberg, who, with her family, is going to Geneva, Switzerland, for the next two years. The election took place at the recent meeting.

Mrs. Slotnik brings to her new job ten years of experience in the League of Women Voters, where until her election, she served as first vice-president. She has also filled the positions of voters' service and membership chairman, and has been a discussion leader.

The United Fund, Girl Scouts and PTA are among Mrs. Slotnik's civic activities.

$35,000 Blaze Fails to Close Warren Jr. H.S.

Heavy smoke caused the hospitalization of two firefighters, and a dozen others were overcome in a two-alarm fire which resulted in damage estimated at $35,000 at Warren Junior High School, Washington street, Newton.

The firefighters worked in relays to reach the fire between beams in the sub-basement of the structure. They prevented it from reaching other parts of the 43-room structure, and due to an excellent clean-up job by

MTA Starts Change-Over As Highland Branch Dies; M&B Opens Stop-Gap Express Line

Conductor George Hedberg, a railroader since 1912, shouted "All Aboard," without too much enthusiasm and gave the signal which started the 5:28 p.m. Newton Highlands branch train out of South Station Saturday. No ceremony marked the start or finish of the 5:28's run.

When it pulled into the Riverside station, it marked the end of an era which had lasted 110 years. On Monday morning this week no flags bedecked the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway buses which traveled unfamiliar routes to the Newton Corner railroad station. No ceremony marked their arrival or departure. Their passengers fumbled with change and tokens and generally behaved like unbroken veteran rail commuters.

$250 Transplant Of Nice Orchids

An orchid-lover—or, quite possibly, a lover of the ready cash which nice orchids command these days—is being sought by Newton police. They don't want to pin an orchid on him. They would like to place him before the courts on a charge of larceny.

From the store of Pearson, the Florist, 1250 Beacon street, Waban, the orchid devotee transplanted $250 worth of the potted plants the other night from a rack in front of the store, presumably to a truck. Some of the blossoms, it's believed found their way into the holiday trade.

Yet the buses marked the beginning of a new era. The old era which began in 1848 was filled with hope and confidence. The new era which began on Monday was filled with uncertainty and undisguised annoyance.

Actually the 5:28 on Saturday was the last official train over the Highlands branch. However, as far as the commuters it served were concerned the Highland Branch went out of business on the day preceding the holiday—the last business day of the week; the last day to see the branch carry its full complement of commuters.

The buses are merely a stop-gap service. They will seek to fill part of the void created in the period between the official closing of the Highland Branch and its re-opening 18 or more

B.U. Professor Is Ward 7 Alderman

John P. McCarthy, a Boston University professor who has lived in Newton for the past 40 years is the new alderman-at-large from Ward 7. He was unanimously elected Monday night to fill the unexpired term of Benjamin Shattuck, who resigned recently due to the pressure of business.

The 51-year old father of three, who has been active in many civic affairs, was nominated by alderman-at-large William M. Powers and his nomination was seconded by Alderman Paul S. Rich.

Prof. McCarthy, who makes his home at 9 Eldredge street, is a graduate of Newton High School, and won both B.A. and M. of Ed. degrees from Boston

"Politics and Youth" Title Of 99th Graduation Address

To the traditional stirring strains of Pomp and Circumstance, close to 800 seniors will march into Dickinson Stadium Saturday evening to receive their diplomas.

Members of the 99th graduating class at Newton High School will be presented their coveted parchments by Mrs. Genevieve R. Oncley, member of the Newton School Committee, assisted by Harold B. Gores, superintendent of schools; Harold Howe II, NHS principal; and Warren M. Switzer, director of the Newton Technical High School.

A special music program by the NHS concert band will be given from 6:30 to 7 p.m. after which the graduation address, "Politics and Youth", will be delivered by Philip K. Allen, assistant general manager of WGBH in Cambridge.

Close to 5000 parents and friends of the graduates will attend the exercises on the Newton High School grounds. In case of inclement weather Saturday evening, the program will be held at the same hour on Sunday.

Rabbi Murray I. Rothman of Temple Shalom in New Newton will deliver the invocation. Senior class president Robert E. Calvert will present the class gift, and Charles Clark Macomber of the Class of 1918 will announce the winner of the Meserve Fund Scholarship.

The A Capella Choir, directed by Miss Geraldine Seaver, will offer two selections prior to Mr. Allen's address.

Herald and Globe Follow Our Lead

Both the Boston Herald and The Boston Globe have followed the leadership of The Transcript Publications in printing advertisements in four colors.

The Herald announced last week it had become the first metropolitan daily newspaper in New England to carry four-color advertising in a daily edition.

In a front-page notice The Globe reported that advertisements in four colors may now be printed on its new presses.

That was old news, however, to The Transcript Publications, Metropolitan Boston's outstanding weekly newspapers. We have been using four colors since last year.

Sacred Heart H.S. Graduates 41 In Solemn Exercises at Church

The Most Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie, auxiliary bishop of the Boston Archdiocese, presented diplomas to 22 boys and 19 girls in the annual graduation exercises of Sacred Heart High School at Sacred Heart Church in Newton Centre.

The Rev. Robert W. Bullock delivered the graduation sermon.

Bishop MacKenzie was celebrant of the pontifical benediction. The Rev. Arthur T. McClory was deacon, the Rev. Patrick J. Gilmore, sub-deacon and the Rev. John W. McElroy, deacon of the exposition.

Attaining the highest average in four years and the highest average in English and religion, William J. Egan, son of Dr. and Mrs. William J. Egan, 1547 Centre street, Newton Highlands, was class valedictorian.

Daniel F. Sheehan, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Francis Sheehan of 175 Parker street, Newton Centre, had the highest average in mathematics and physics. He was finalist in the school department and city workers classes were resumed without interruption on Monday.

Cause of the fire was undetermined, brought to Newton-Wellesley Hospital were firefighters James Hand, 33, and Charles Orne, 32, victims of smoke inhalation.

The first alarm was sounded at 8:10 p.m. Saturday night. Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr., ordered a second alarm a few minutes after he arrived at the scene. He also directed the shutting off of all power and gas lines.

The fire attracted many residents from the nearby neighborhood and it was necessary to re-route traffic.

Most of the damage was due to smoke and water damage with property in the athletic supply room and the wood-working and metal shops being hit the hardest.

27 Democratic Delegates for Hub Convention

Twenty-seven delegates from Newton have been elected by their respective Ward Committees to attend the Democratic State Convention in Boston, June 20. Mrs. Jean S. LeCompte, chairman of the Newton Democratic city committee, in announcing the names of the delegates, noted that in 1958 Newton has six more Democratic delegates than in 1956.

These additional delegates reflect the increased Democratic vote in Newton. The number of convention delegates is based on the number of Democratic votes cast in the preceding gubernatorial election.

Delegates who will attend the Convention are:

Ward 1, Joseph P. Bradley, John P. Barton, and Ruth A. Shapiro.

Ward 2, William R. Farrell, Morris Horowitz, Susan Rothenberg, and Lawrence C. Sullivan.

Ward 5, Sidney Berkman, Mary A. Gallo, Barbara Fine, James T. Flynn, Alvin S. Hochberg, and Catherine P. Reardon.

Ward 6, Milton Cook, John P. Curley, Jean S. LeCompte, and Morris R. Spiefogel.

Ward 7, Judith E. Auerbach, Melvin H. Chalfen, and Frances C. Goldsmith.

The League also elected Mrs. David Cooper as second vice-president, Mrs. Stanley Ebb, treasurer, and Mrs. Martin Phillips corresponding secretary for two-year terms. Elected as a director for one year was Mrs. Harold Isaacs, and as directors for two years, Mrs. Alton Meister, Mrs. Lester Radlo, Ms. Edward Richmond and Mrs. Joseph Schaffer.

Officers who were elected last year to serve for two years are Mrs. J. Ernest Smith, first vice-president and Mrs. Howard Arbetter, recording secretary.

Special tribute was paid to Mrs. Maurice Strauss, who has given the longest continuous service on the board of directors of the Newton League. Mrs. Strauss has served on the board since 1949, in many capacities. For the past several years, she has been chairman of the communications committee, in which position she has played a vital role in keeping all aspects of the league functioning smoothly.

Reports of the past year's work were given by Mrs. Lester Radio, voters' service vice chairman; Mrs. Harold Isaacs, individual liberties; Mrs. Lester Havens, conservation; Mrs. John Locke, world trade and taxation; Mrs. Stanley Levenberg, parole; Mrs. Warren Rabb, education; Mrs. Albert Mezzoff, regional planning; Mrs. J. Ernest Smith, first vice-president, Mrs. Spencer Deming, nominating committee; Mrs. Howard Arbetter, recording secretary; Mrs. Martin Greenberg, president; and Mrs. Arnold Mork who reported on state legislation and the national convention.

art classrooms of junior and senior high school students in more than 30 areas of the U. S. were presented by the regional sponsors of the awards. Those students whose works exhibited were presented with Gold Achievement Keys and certificates of merit.

In the local regional contest more than 4000 entries were received from public, private, and parochial schools, from which 675 were selected for exhibition. Of the Gold Key winners, 100 were chosen as Blue Ribbon finalists and sent to New York for national judging.

Here juries of distinguished artists and art educators made their final selections from over 100,000 entries which represent the best works of the nation's artistic teenagers. The award winning works will be shown at the National High School Art Exhibition at the Riverside Museum in New York from June 5 to 30th.

For five consecutive years, Ruth has been a regional Globe Art Contest winner, and she has received six Gold Keys. This year her award winning entry is a transparent watercolor, and it will be shown at the Riverside Museum Exhibit.

Ruth, who is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Maurice G. Evans of Chestnut Hill, is an active member of the Senior Class. In addition to being on the art staff of the 1958 Newtonian, she is also a member of the A Capella Choir, the Music Club the Senior Class Committee, and one of 30 students chosen to participate in the Newton - Yarmouth Exchange. She has been accepted at Rhode Island School of Design, where she plans to enter in the fall.

Russian Class At Newton High

Bruce E. Williams, who has served for three years as a translator for the Army Security Agency, will introduce the study of the Russian language to classes at Newton High School in the fall. His appointment for the course has been approved by the Newton School Committee and its introduction into the high school curriculum will make N.H.S. one of the few public secondary schools in the nation offering study of Russian.

Williams is a graduate of University of Pennsylvania and is studying for his Masters degree at Harvard.

Newton Fireman Injured Fighting Brookline Blaze

Firefighter Thomas Shordone, a member of Ladder 8, suffered an eye injury while fighting a stubborn two-alarm fire in the Waldorf restaurant at Coolidge Corner, Brookline. Newton firemen under direction of Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr., were called in to assist Brookline in battling the stubborn blaze.

The Newton units remained at the scene from 6:15 p. m. to 11:03 p. m. Shordone was treated at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

3 Boys Saved—

Dorow, also 18, of 25 Edgemoor road, also suffered an eye injury while fighting a stubborn two-alarm fire in the Waldorf restaurant at Coolidge Corner, Brookline. Newton firemen under direction of Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr., were called in to assist Brookline in battling the stubborn blaze.

Nearest point of land was Coney Island, a mile offshore from Marblehead. He was picked up there by a helicopter from the Salem Coast Guard base and carried to Salem Hospital.

Meanwhile, Daniel Sweeney, commanding the Salem Willows excursion boat, spotted the other two Newton boys' plight as his craft passed near the scene.

He pulled them from the water, and they were taken to Salem Willows and from thence to Salem Hospital.

All three boys were released after treatment for exhaustion and immersion.

Rawson Opposed To 2nd Harbor Tunnel Crossing

The move to give the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority power to build a second tunnel across Boston Harbor is an attempt to sabotage the Massachusetts Port Authority, in the opinion of State Representative George E. Rawson of Newton. Opposing a bill which would give the Turnpike Authority that power, Rawson called upon the State Senate to "appraise this bill for what it really is and kill it." The bill passed the House during a marathon session.

The Summer tunnel is a money-paying proposition, Rawson asserted, and is necessary to the Port Authority. "As for the construction of a second tunnel to East Boston," he declared, "engineers of the Massachusetts Port Authority have stated that it is not advisable at this time."

James Etmekjian of 4 St. James terrace, Newton, received the Ph.D. degree in Romance Languages at Brown University's annual Graduate School Convocation on Monday.

St. Bernard's Diplomas to Class of 19

The 1958 class at St. Bernard's High School, numbering 19, was graduated at services held at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton.

The Right Rev. Bernard S. O'Kane, pastor, presented the diplomas. The Rev. Daniel F. Quinn gave the graduation sermon.

For general excellence Miss Sally deCastro was presented a top award and Miss Mary Cox won first honors. Second honors went to Sheila Gough, Dorothy McGarry and Rose M. Walsh.

Miss Gough won the award for Christian Doctrine and Miss Walsh the gold pin for the Gregg Shorthand Award.

Bronze pins for the CBEA type awards in business education were awarded to Miss Walsh, Margaret Ryan, Rose M. Panzer, Virginia Yeagle and Patricia Randall.

Perfect attendance records went to Miss Gough, with only one day's absence in the fourth year; Joan Carmen with three years, and Sally deCastro and Eileen Monahan, perfect attendance in the fourth year.

The diploma winners were: Mary Ann Barry, Joan Frances Carmen, Margaret Cox, Mary Noreen Daley, Sally Louise deCastro, Sheila Margaret Gough.

Julia Bernadette Lyons, Sara Anne McCormack, Dorothy Marie McGarry.

Junior Chamber of Commerce A.A.U. Olympics on June 14

Saturday, June 14th at Dickson Stadium in Newton a large and eager group of young track and field talent will compete in a variety of events in the first A.A.U. Junior Olympics ever to be held by neighboring cities. This special event for teenagers of Junior High School age is co-sponsored by the Newton and Waltham Junior Chambers of Commerce.

Getting underway at 1 p. m., youngsters in the 12-13 and 14-15 age brackets will set off a sports program of dashes, jumps, shot puts and other track and field events used in any traditional competition.

Awards will be made to the top three winners in each event. Suitable certificates of merit be awarded by the A.A.U. All youngsters of Junior High School age wishing to enter are urged to get application blanks from the gym instructors in the school in the city in which they reside.

Events in the 12-13 age bracket will be: 50 yard dash, 75 yard dash, standing broad jump, running broad jump, running high jump and soft ball throw.

Events for the 14-15 year old age group: 100 yard dash, 200 yard dash, 400 yard run, running broad jump, running high jump, 8-pound shot put and 440 relay.

All applications must be returned to the gym instructors at the schools not later than Tuesday, June 10th.

Field Day On Saturday Set By Bowen PTA

The annual Field and Fair Day sponsored by the Bowen School PTA will be held on Saturday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the school grounds, Cypress street. Theme of the event this year will be "Mother Goose Land."

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fisher, chairman of the day, announce the program will include games, races, pony rides, cake sale and an elephant sale.

The "festive affair" also will feature such fine favorites as ice cream, luncheon and tonic for the kiddies. "Fortune telling" also will be on the agenda. This annual event is the major money-raising effort of the Bowen School PTA, so enthusiastic support is requested. Girl Scouts will provide baby-sitter service during the day.

Mrs. Douglas F. Farrington of Chestnut street, Waban, was elected president of the Epilepsy Information Centre, 73 Tremont street, Boston, at the organization's annual meeting. She is the mother of four children.

Highlights and Headlights From Newton High School

By JUDY ARNOLD

HIGHLIGHTS . . . The three years of high school have been compared to three of Shakespeare's plays: "Much Ado About Nothing" for the sophomore year, "As You Like It" in the junior year, and "All's Well That Ends Well" as the senior year.

The American Association of Teachers of French sponsored a written examination contest for students of French. The 6000 pupils who took the test were divided into two groups: one of boys and girls with French background and the other with students of American ancestry. Jerry Rogell, a Newton junior in the American division came in first and was awarded a medal from the French government and a French dictionary. The award was presented by Miss Burdon, head of the language department, at a legislature meeting. At a previous legislature meeting, all the other students who have recently received awards, Ruth Evans, Felix Schlaepfer, Mary Auryansen, James Bachman, Sue McClosky, and Edward Conan, were presented with their trophies and checks. Newton High itself also received an award. Joseph Lockett, the president of the Brown University Boston Club, presented Mr. Howe and Doc Zoli with a plaque, because Newton Alumni had the highest scholastic standing at Brown this past year. Fred Bloom, the head of scholarships; Benjamin MacKendall, the assistant dean of advisors, and Don Daniels, representing Newton-Brown alumni, were also present. They were introduced by Mr. Rogers, assistant principal of Newton High.

On Tuesday, Dorothy Gibbs, a social worker at the New England Home of Little Wanderers, showed a movie to all those students interested in psychology, psychiatry, physical therapy, and social work. Afterwards, a discussion was held.

The junior class is actively preparing for their senior year and their graduation as Newton High's century class. Plans are being made for a homecoming week-end on October 17 and 18 for about 1300 alumni. There will probably be no school on Friday the 17 and there will be a banquet and dance at the Hotel Statler that evening. Saturday night the senior play will be presented for all alumni. Try-out are now being held for that production, which will be "Anastasia."

Very definite plans are already being made for next year's graduation and yearbook. There will most likely be two editions of the yearbook; the regular one, and another, without the pictures of the seniors, for the alumni. The entire publication will probably be on a "then and now" basis. Most activities will also be expanded to include that theme. Past stars will be honored at the Senior Play and at the sports banquet. A noted educator will speak at the June graduation and the first two winners of the Centennial Scholarship will be announced.

The Legislature has been holding several meetings a week lately in a last-minute attempt to clear up unfinished business. The hard-working constitution committee presented the body with a completely revised constitution. However, there was not sufficient time to go over the entire paper with care. The parking committee, which was given a hearing on Monday, May 26, by the Board of Aldermen, brought back rather disheartening news. The Board will keep in touch with Newton High and Mr. Rogers, but they will not take the one-hour parking ing bans off the side streets around the high school. The petition will go before the Alderman again in the fall.

Jerry Rogell, this summer's A. F. S. student, will be going to Germany. Dick Cohen, last year's exchange boy, went to France.

The seniors have been very busy lately with their final days in Newton High. A last senior class assembly, which consisted of a class meeting, was held by Bob Calvert, class president. Pat Howard, first vice president, is responsible for all the fun the seniors and many underclassmen will be enjoying to-night at the Totem Pole at the senior prom. And Saturday is the last time the mighty seniors will be at Newton High as then they will graduate in Dickinson Stadium. Rehearsal for the graduation was held on Wednesday morning.

The sophomores have also been undergoing experiences — their routine physical examinations. These exams have been held during gym periods for the most part.

THE OUTDOOR TYPE . . .

After tryouts for drum major, ettes were held, it was decided that Barbara Axt, Eleanor Moore and Susanne Maguire, plus the cheerleaders from this year who have not graduated: Debby Emerson and Judy Sobey, will make up the squad for next year's athletic activities.

Also helping next year's team to victory will be the rally committee. The entire committee is headed by Cindy Rowland. Publicity will be taken care of by Katy Carleton, and her co-chairman, Joann Arcan. Diane Fay is in charge of the football season; Lorraine Trifero, basketball; Marcia Kerr, hockey; and Joy Buell, baseball. Janet Famer is treasurer and Nancy Mahoney, secretary. Sue Fowler heads Orange Book sales.

At the last meeting of the out-club Sylvia Keller was elected president, Elna Anderson vice president, Carol Patterson secretary and Nancy Doherty treasurer for next year's organization.

THE MARQUEE . . . The last of a series of three music assemblies was presented to the various classes of Newton High throughout the day on Thursday, May 29. This day's program consisted of demonstrations of jazz. George Wein, from Storyville, was one of the featured guests.

Also on the subject of music, the music club sponsored its final student music concert of the year last Thursday. One of the most active organizations of the school, its program included Jean Winer, piano soloist, the high school symphony orchestra, original compositions by members of the music theory class, Maxine Cohen singing, Frank Maurer, Dick Gordon, and John Kattwinkle in a jazz quartet, Nancy Durham, and the Newton High School Dance Band in a grand finale.

In recent weeks, Newton High was visited by one of its alumni, a man from the class of 1892. This gentleman spent a few days looking around Newton High School and comparing it with the school he attended. In addition to the very obvious changes, he mentioned the fact that in 1892 the high school sponsored a now non-existent magazine which gave students an opportunity to express their literary talent.

Another film was shown during the past month to Newton students. This time the movie was on Cancer and Medical

Thurs., June 5, 1958, THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

Technology. These demonstrations are presented as aids to students who have already chosen a career or are as yet undecided as to the one they will select.

AFTER-CLASS . . . At the last meeting of the year, the Junior Red Cross Council sponsored a movie for its members. Plans were made for the work that next year's council will do, and the girls discussed the value of their efforts this year.

The Dance Workshop, which has presented many enjoyable programs throughout the year, recently held tryouts for its next year's members.

A special bulletin has been issued to students concerning make-up work for the summer of 1958. Pupils were reminded that there is no promotion on trial in courses which have been failed for the school year. In order to establish credit for such a course or to continue in a sequential course after failure for the year, one must either attend Newton High Summer School, another regular summer school, or make special tutoring arrangement.

Students who miss final exams because of an excused absence are allowed to take a September examination without doing any preparatory summer work. Absence from a final examination is excused only under two conditions: the reason for absence is illness and the student has a passing mark in the course up to the time of the final exam.

The Navy's USS Intrepid has the 20,000th landing made on the new angled deck of the attack carrier.

Miss Rohmer, Mr. Reardon Are Married

Miss Madeleine Rohmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Louis Rohmer, of Chestnut Hill, formerly of Needham, and Francis J. Reardon, Jr., of Newton Centre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Reardon of Brookline, were united in marriage on May 24.

The 10 o'clock ceremony was performed at the Church of St. Ignatius, Chestnut Hill, by Rev. Francis X. Gleason, S. J., and was followed by a reception at the Simpson House.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white silk chiffon gown fashioned with a Sabrina neckline of imported Alençon lace embroidered with seed pearls, a shirred bodice and sleeves and a bouffant skirt that swept into a chapel train. Her triple-tiered, elbow-length veil of imported French silk illusion was caught to a cap of white petals trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white orchids and stephanotis with ivy.

Miss Rosemary Rohmer, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Carmine A. DeSimone of Newton Centre, a sister of the groom.

Harry Riddle of Newton was best man, and Arthur J. Barry of Brighton and Robert D. Elkins of Waltham were ushers.

The new Mrs. Reardon is a graduate of The Archbishop Cushing College, Brookline; her husband served with the Army for three years and is a member of the Class of 1959 at the Mass. College of Pharmacy.

Tigers Get 2nd Place at Brown Interscholastics

New Britain, Conn., nosed out Newton tracksters by one-half a point to take second place in the 49th Brown Interscholastic meet at Providence on the holiday. Hope High of Providence ran away with top honors with a 38-point total.

Hope was paced by Warren and Ed Johnson who won four first places between them. One of the Johnson boys, Warren, led Newton's classy sprinter, Larry Smith all the way to take the 100-yard dash in 10.3 seconds. Jim Yancey was Newton's only first place winner, taking the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet 1 1/2 inch.

Bill Young placed fourth in the discus. Phil Johnson was third in the 440, and Martin Beckwith won a third place medal in the low hurdles to give Newton the rest of their points.

BABARA ANN SHIRE

Graduate From Teachers College

Miss Barbara Ann Shire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Shire of 9 Mount Vernon terrace, Newtonville, is a candidate for graduation at Bridgewater State Teachers College.

Miss Shire, who majored in Math and Science, is a member of Christian Fellowship, the Dormitory Council, W.R.A., the Wood House Board, where she served as treasurer, is vice president of Bradford Fellowship, and was a member of the sophomore and junior show committee and the prom favors committee.

Fiesta and Dance At Jewish Center

A Caribbean Fiesta and dance sponsored by the Twenty-Nine Plus Club (Single Adults Division) at the Brookline-Brighton-Newton Jewish Community Center at 50 Sutherland road, Brighton, on Saturday evening at 8 will culminate a series of dance evenings for the season.

The program will include an hour of free cha-cha and tango instruction, starting promptly at 8. Lou Carter's Florida Ensemble will provide music for the evening.

The fiesta has been arranged by the program committee, including Miriam Ricklin, chairman; Morris Goldberg, Fay Blumer, Molly Hookness, and Lillian Sheines.

The state convention was attended by Mrs. Albert Horton, Mrs. Lewis Simons and Mrs. Samuel Clapper. It was reported that a Jaycee-ette cookbook compiled by Mrs. Simons and Mrs. John Stevens as their talent activity is selling well.

The Colonial restaurant in Lynnfield will be the scene June 17 of a dinner-social which will close the year's activities officially, but a cookout is planned jointly by Mrs. Samuel Clapper and Mrs. Richard Egan for all the families in July.

Democrats To Hold Meeting Next Tuesday

The Newton Democratic City Committee will hold a meeting to discuss "A Meaningful Democratic Party Platform for Massachusetts" on Tuesday, June 10, at 8:15 p.m., at the Women's Club Workshop in Newton Highlands. Speakers will be Representative Alvin Tamkin of Boston and Representative Alexander Cella of Medford.

All Newton Democrats are invited to attend and to take part in the discussion for the information of the delegates to the forthcoming Democratic State Convention.

Candidates who are present will be introduced at the close of the meeting and are invited to stay for the social hour.

Newtonville Man Ends Boot Camp

John Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Simpson of 317 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, Mass., graduated from recruit training May 17 at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The graduation exercises, marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp," included a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

present, and the government imposed an 8 p.m. curfew in the past few months. The girls said nothing about the anti-American activity that is taking place there currently.

But all that is behind them now, and their lives changed from the time they boarded the airplane in Beirut. Four young girls traveling together such a long distance seems to have brought out the maternal or paternal instincts in their fellow passengers, and they were well taken care of for the entire trip.

From the youngest to the oldest, the girls all have plans concerning what they will do now that they are here. Susan, the 12-year-old, will attend school. Susan, by the way, is also called Hasmi. She did not want her friends at home to think she had gone "hi-hat," but all the relatives agreed that Susan would be more appropriate in Newton Corner than Hasmi.

Nancy, 21, hopes to be a secretary and Helen, 20, would like to become a nurse. For Madeline, 17, it will be the completion of her high school education. Nancy, who acted as spokesman for her sisters, conversed easily in English. The girls were still bright-eyed after their long flight, and there is little doubt that they will catch on fast in school or whatever else they decide to do.

It is hoped that eventually their parents will be able to join them in this country. Until that time, the girls will be at home in Newton Corner, learning M.T.A. routes, the mysteries of the frappe, the sack, and the Boston Red Sox. They are very happy to be here and, if first impressions are any indication, Newton Corner will be happy to have them.

Horace Mann PTA Scholarship for Dwight Rideout

Dwight L. Rideout, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight W. Rideout of 107 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, has been declared the winner of the annual scholarship given by the Horace Mann PTA. He is a graduate of the Horace Mann school and a member of this year's graduating class at Newton High School.

The winner is registered at the University of Rhode Island, College of Business Administration. He was elected to the National Honor Society this year and has been a member of the Orange Shield for two years. He also has been a member of the staff of The Newtonian.

Young Rideout has been active in athletics and was on the varsity basketball and baseball teams for three years.

2 Centre Grads To Aid Harvard

Julian L. Yesley of 83 Meadowbrook road, and Julian M. Sobin of 83 Arnold road, Newton Centre, have been named members of the Greater Boston General Appeal Committee for a Program for Harvard College. Yesley graduated from Harvard College in '29, and from Harvard Law School in '32. Sobin received his A.B. degree at Harvard in '41.

The Harvard Program seeks the support of 12,000 Harvard College alumni in the Greater Boston area in the raising of $2½ million to strengthen undergraduate education at Harvard.

Yesley was active in athletics and was on the varsity basketball and baseball teams for three years.

New Crop of Graduates

There's hardly a neighborhood in this community which will not be able to boast about a boy or girl graduating from college this month.

We know one street—a short one at that—which will have seven young persons coming home with degrees. Four of the seven have won all sorts of honors on top of their AB's and BS's.

Not many years ago, a college graduate was a rare bird. Most of them came from wealthy families. Back at the turn of the century, and for quite a while after that, the high school diploma was about as high as the average boy or girl or their parents could hope to aim in the field of education.

High School diplomas weren't easy to get in those days either. Lots of boys and girls started out in freshman year in their town's high school, but by the time four years had rolled by they had quit school to go to work.

It wasn't that they didn't have the mental equipment to carry on their education. They simply had to bow to the economic facts of life. They went to work.

Those who did win high school diplomas were sort of looked up to.

Few boys and fewer girls went on to college. And the few girls who did usually went on to Normal School and came back as teachers.

One of the girls on our street is going to study to be a doctor of medicine now that she has her B.S. degree. Another plans to go to some college where she can pick up a master's in metallurgy.

Times have changed. Not only are the colleges turning out graduates in tremendous volume—they are also giving due notice that in the years immediately ahead they'll be forced to turn away worthy applicants.

Colleges haven't grown and aren't growing fast enough to take care of the demand for higher education.

In such a market you might get the idea that a college degree today isn't something pretty special—something pretty precious—something considerably more worthy than a high school diploma 40 or 50 years ago.

For in a world that's been speeded up many times since horses furnished the motor power to the wheels of transportation education is more valuable today than it ever was before.

It is quite likely, if the recession is projected into any considerable length in the future, that some of this year's college grads aren't going to find jobs right away.

Lots of them are going to discover that you don't leave the commencement hall with a degree under your arm and step right into the first good-looking job you hear about.

As a matter of hard fact, many college graduates are going to find themselves starting right at the bottom rung. They'll have to work their way up.

But eventually, they'll learn that the education they've obtained, often by the hardest sort of sacrifice, is going to pay off.

America's 1958 crop of June graduates is the greatest in its history.

The contributions they make to her welfare and her future will be most important. In their hands and those of the graduates in the years immediately ahead will rest the future of the U.S. and perhaps the world.

Political Overtones

who would like to push him into gubernatorial contention.

The fact is, however, that for the past year Powers has been turning down suggestions from individuals and groups that he become a candidate for Governor. A full-fledged drive for Powers, which could provide plenty of cause for concern in the Furcolo camp, would be underway today if the Democratic Senate leader had given the slightest encouragement to it.

Powers' immediate political objective, however, is to serve as Mayor of Boston, an office he will seek a year from November.

The South Boston Senator undoubtedly hopes to be Governor of Massachusetts some day, but his political timetable does not call for him to bid for the Governorship this year or for some few years to come.

As far as this writer has been able to ascertain, Powers did not set his sights on the convention chairmanship through any political motives of his own.

The idea that Powers be picked as convention chairman apparently originated with Senator John F. Kennedy after it was decided the conclave would be held in Boston. When it was first thought that Springfield would be the site of the assembly, the Mayor of that city was to be the chairman.

Congressional Majority Leader John W. McCormack, Boston's Mayor John B. Hynes and Democratic State Chairman John M. Lynch all went along with the choice of Powers. Governor Furcolo didn't commit himself publicly for or against Powers, but Thompson, who was placed in the Speakership by Furcolo, suddenly and unexpectedly launched a drive against Powers for the chairmanship.

So far it has been a strange sort of contest. Powers has been making no effort to line up any support and has not been asking anyone to vote for him. Thompson, on the other hand, has mustered considerable backing, especially from Democratic members of the House, who, of course, have substantial influence in their respective delegations.

Ironically, however, Thompson must get over several hurdles before he even will be in a position to challenge Powers for the chairmanship on the floor of the convention.

As matters stand at the moment, Thompson is not a delegate to the conclave, and Democratic State Committee Chairman Lynch has cited a law to the effect that the convention chairman must be chosen from among the delegates.

Happenings in the Newtons

The Newton Highlands Garden Club will hold a garden tour on Saturday, starting at 2 p.m., from the garden of Mrs. Harold Sheehan, 34 Oak terrace, Newton Highlands. Other gardens to be visited include those of Mrs. Clifford Rust at 38 Oak terrace, Newton Highlands; Dr. Charles Sheldon, 67 Dedham street, Newton Highlands; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Walker, 711 Chestnut street, Waban; Herbert Fraser, 48 Eldredge street, Newton Corner; Mrs. Arthur Douglas, 47 Maplewood avenue, Newton Centre; and Mrs. John Jenkins, 65 Duncklee street, Newton Highlands. Punch will be served at the Jenkins garden. Transportation will be furnished for those without cars. A 50-cent donation for the tour will help the Garden Club's projects.

Harry J. Greenblatt, Charles Hurwitz, Max J. Landy, Harry Levine, Harry Marks, Nathan Schwartz, Harry Sher, David Shorter, David Short, Stanley Solomon and Louis Zimble.

Mrs. E. Graham Bates was elected president of the Newton Smith College Club at the organization's closing meeting of the season. At a meeting held at the home of the retiring president, Mrs. John C. Campbell, West Newton, other officers chosen were Mrs. Garfield A. Drew, vice president; Mrs. Wadsworth Webber, recording secretary; Mrs. Henry Keyes, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Hugh Tomb, publicity; Mrs. E. Prentiss Jones, project; Mrs. James Young, counselor, and Mrs. Jeremiah, scholarship.

Joseph G. Deitz was re-elected last week to a third term as president of the Temple Emanuel at the annual congregational meeting of the Temple. Other officers re-elected were Benjamin M. Striberg, first vice-president; Irwin Benjamin, second vice-president; Meyer Armet, third vice-president; Arthur Rosenberg, treasurer; Harry Sher, assistant treasurer; Nissie Grossman, secretary and Leonard L. Kabler, financial secretary.

Elected to the Temple's board of trustees for a three-year period were Irwin Benjamin, Frank Breznjak, Edgar Grossman, Nissie Grossman, Guy B. Litchfield, 32 Melbourne avenue, Newton, was guest of honor at a testimonial banquet at the Normandie Room at Norumbega Park. The occasion was his retirement from the Newton fire department after 33 years of service.

The law is fairly clear on that point but is not always observed. Congressional Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., was chosen to preside over Republican conventions when he was not a delegate.

Thompson originally was named a delegate from a small town in Western Massachusetts. Chairman Lynch ruled out him and a number of other so-called "matress delegates" on the ground that they could not be delegates from towns or districts in which they did not reside.

Next, in a strange series of incidents, Chairman Lynch received a letter signed by the chairman and secretary of the Ludlow Democratic Town Committee seeking to substitute John F. Thompson for James Thompson, the Speaker's brother, who had originally been listed as a member of the Ludlow delegation.

Officials at the Democratic State headquarters assert that the signatures on that letter apparently were not written by the same persons who signed the original communication in which James Thompson was reported as a delegate. In one case a signature was even spelled differently in the two letters, it was found.

In any event, Chairman Lynch ruled that the make-up of a delegation cannot be changed and that no substitutions can be made after the official notification has been filed of the election of a delegation.

Thompson is planning to appeal Lynch's ruling to the convention's credentials committee. Should he be turned down there, he presumably will take his fight to the floor of the convention itself.

Unless he gets himself recognized as a delegate he will not be in a position to challenge Powers for the chairmanship since it is unlikely that the delegates would overturn Lynch's ruling that the chairman must be chosen from their ranks should an issue be raised on that point.

In the meantime, however, the behind-the-scenes maneuvering and string-pulling in behalf of Thompson not only is causing a great deal of bitterness in Democratic circles but also widespread conjecture as to the reason for it.

The only conclusion the political pundits have been able to reach is that Furcolo's advisers fear that a swing to Powers as the candidate for Governor might start at the convention.

Actually, the present indications are that Governor Furcolo will be renominated without opposition.

Girl Scouts Take Part in Parade

Newton had ideal weather for its annual Memorial Day parade, and Newton Girl Scouts made the most of it. Arnold Shaw of Waban and his young committee were responsible for the Girl Scout float carrying a missile model and the title, "You Can Count on Her to Rise to the Occasion."

Girls on the float depicting the four levels of scouting were Ellen Ralby and Robin Schmidlein, Brownies, Pam Shaw and Jane McCarty, Intermediates, Carol Berberian and Betty Anderson, Senior Scouts, and Sheila Donohue and Margaret McLean, Mariners.

The Newton Girl Scout Council was also well represented by a motorcade of station wagons and convertibles filled with girls in the brown and green uniforms from the Hyde, Hamilton and Ward School neighborhoods.

Adults in the motorcade included John Higley, Mrs. Thomas P. Hughes, Mrs. Joseph S. Kaufman, Mrs. Ralph Werman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clinton, Miss Ursula Hayden, Mrs. Donald R. Lee, Mrs. Arthur McDaniell, Mrs. Andrew Buntin, Mrs. Edward Gleason, and Eli Eanenberg.

An outstanding color guard made up of flag bearers Andrea Wragg and Marjorie Gilmarin and guards Jan Covitz, Carol Cushner, Susan Maurer and Peggy Bowen, led by a group of student marchers from the Hyde School neighborhood.

Campus Notes On Newtonites

Robert C. Valtz of 500 Ward street, Newton Centre, will be graduated with honors from Harvard on June 12. His sister Sheila Valtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Valtz, will enter Smith College at Northampton next September. Sheila was graduated last Sunday from Newton Sacred Heart School.

Shopping Event-

to handle the clean-up, paint-up and spruce-up drive.

Automobile dealers in the district, already riding a crest of customer acceptance as a result of the "Better Buy Now" campaign which is sweeping the country, are planning a unique promotion to go along with the bargain events in the retail stores.

The dealers plan to line up their best values along the streets in a great outdoor demonstration of down to earth car values, a sales technique which received national recognition in several magazines recently and which has proved successful in other areas.

Merchants are behind the "Clean-up Campaign" to a man. Mrs. Manhard's committee includes Dana W. Gleason, Richard Ware, Ray Clair and Max Shrier. Chairman Burt Miller's committee includes Alex Castoldi, manager of Paramount Theatre, Miss Phyllis Clark, owner of Renee's and Edmund Shea, owner of Shea's Advertising.

The Graphic will carry a special section of advertising featuring rock-bottom prices on all merchandise. The campaign is intended to spotlight the advantages of shopping in the Newton Corner district and to familiarize the entire Newton city-wide area with the values awaiting discriminating shoppers in the "Corner" district.

In one of the biggest all-star value events in Newton history, Chairman Miller and his committee prepared a drive which enlisted the support of all merchants in the area to bring the unusual sales event to the public's attention.

Mr. Miller is intent on launching one of the greatest bargain carnivals in city history as he directs his campaign from his headquarters at Burton's, where he is the manager.

Merchants are also taking action on the parking problem. A committee has been formed to study the matter. Chairman by Lloyd C. Greene, it comprises Alex Castoldi and Albert Sinoyan.

Using the theory that an ounce of foresight is better than all the hindsight in the world, advance planning has already gotten underway for the 1958 Christmas lighting for the area. A committee to handle this is headed by Harold Moye, and consists of Max Shrier, Al Spiegel and William K. Goodbar.

The merchants of Newton Corner are on the march, determined to make the area the neatest, naggiest and busiest of all the Newtons. The promotions are being organized with the full support of and in conjunction with the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

Final meeting of the season of the Mothers' Rest Club of Newton this week took the form of a picnic at the home of Mrs. Chester L. Churchill in Duxbury.

Class of 85 Receive Diplomas At Our Lady's Graduation

Diplomas were awarded to 85 members of the senior class at the graduation exercises of Our Lady's High School.

Three young women from Newton are candidates for the Bachelor of Arts degree from Vassar College on June 9. They are Diane E. Tarmy, Ann Jones, and Sandra L. Borkum.

Miss Tarmy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Tarmy of 29 Audubon drive, and has chosen history as her central field of study. She has been a member of the Child Study Club and Hillel.

She prepared for college at the Weeks Junior High School and at Newton Senior High School.

Miss Jones is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt B. Jones of 58 Plainfield street, Waban, and picked physiology as her major study. She is a member of the Young Republican Club and chairman of her dormitory student work program this year, and in past years has been active in the Glee Club and sports.

Miss Jones prepared for college at Dana Hall. She was recently awarded the Virginia Swinburne Brownell Prize for excellence in physiology.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Max W. Borkum of 159 Ward street, Newton Centre. Miss Borkum is majoring in English. She is editor-in-chief of the Vassarion, the college yearbook.

Miss Borkum prepared for college at the Weeks Junior High School and at Newton Senior High School.

Pack 2 Cubs in Final Meeting Of the Season

Formal activities for Cub Scout Pack 2 were concluded at the Pack meeting Monday evening at the Centenary Methodist Church in Auburndale with an impressive Webelos ceremony. Assisting the Cubmaster, Robert MacLaughlin, were Scouts William Mark, Terry MacLaughlin, Lee Berkowitz, and Thomas Mitchell from Troop 24 with their Scoutmaster, Norman Berkowitz.

Using a ceremonial board with symbolic candles, Mr. MacLaughlin explained the meaning of each step taken through the Cub years to Scout status. Webelos badges were then presented to the boys in Dens 6 and 9 including, George Paul, Ralph Nabors, Robert Gallant, and Joseph Landry; Ross Capon, Jeff Willis, John Palen, Jeff MacLaughlin, and Billy Atwood.

Entertainment was provided by Pack committeeman Robert Brennan, who showed colored slides of the two hikes to Mt. Monadnock—one last fall to the half-way house and one on May 17 to the top.

In appreciation of his excellent service to the Pack in conducting games at each meeting, Pack chairman William Atwood, on behalf of the Cubs, presented Scout Terry MacLaughlin with a gift of money.

A family picnic to be held on June 2 at the Auburndale playground was announced. In case of rain it will be at the church.

Officers for next year are: Cubmaster, John Blodgett; Pack chairman, Glen Hodson; assistant Cubmaster, Robert Brennan.

Refreshments were prepared and served by the Webelos mothers. The meeting concluded with Taps played by Scout William Mark from Troop 24.

Miss O'Donnell won a B. S. degree. She is a graduate of St. Bernard's High School. She served the college paper as advertising manager and business manager and was class parliamentarian for two years.

Miss Vanderslice received an A.B. degree. She specialized in biology and plans to do research work at Harvard Medical School.

She was vice president of her class; vice treasurer of student government and active in many college organizations. She is a graduate of Our Lady of Presentation Academy, Newton.

Arthur DeStefano of 141 Pleasant street, Newton Centre, was a member of the class which was graduated from Villanova University on Monday.

M&B Fare Hike Granted By PUC

The State Public Utilities Commission grant of a 25-cent bus fare to the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Co., became effective yesterday. The 25-cent-a-ride cash levy gives the M & B the highest bus fare in the Greater Boston area and one of the highest in the East.

The M & B, in addition to maintaining its old routes, will attempt to provide stop-gap service for commuters of the no-longer-existent Highland branch by lines to the B & A's main line or MTA stations. The old cash fare was 20 cents, with five tokens for 90 cents.

Under the schedule granted by the Public Utilities the fare will be 25 cents. Four tokens may be purchased for 90 cents. The transit company claimed it would suffer a net loss of $114,977 for 1958 if the hikes were not granted. It figures it will come out $69,316 in the black under the new schedule.

Express Line—

months hence as an MTA transport facility.

How many regular commuters will avail themselves of the bus-railroad service between Newton and Boston and how many will seek other means of transportation remains to be seen.

No one was ready to hazard a guess this week. Until the bus line and the city authorities have had a chance to study the results over a period of a couple of weeks no one will be certain what the final "interim" pattern would be.

Many commuters hoped against hope that somehow or other a last-minute reprieve might be granted and that the Highland Branch could be saved for a few months more at least. However, their hope in the waning weeks wasn't shared by municipal, railroad or MTA officials.

As a matter of fact, on Monday morning the MTA started some of its preliminary work for eventually adapting the roadbed to its own purposes.

Best guess was that it would be in the fall of 1959 before it would be able to open its service. It might be longer than that. It might be accomplished in a shorter period. No one could do more than guess on that subject.

Whether a large percentage of commuters will find other means of getting to and from Boston in the interim will be subject of concern to the MTA trustees.

Elected Head of Heart Association

Dr. Eugene C. Eppinger of Chestnut Hill, assistant dean and associate professor of clinical medicine at Harvard Medical School, has been elected president of the Massachusetts Heart Association.

John J. Ellsworth of Newton was re-elected chairman of the board of directors. Newton residents named directors were Samuel P. Sears and Arthur W. Kimbell.

BERNARD GORDON of Newton, comptroller of Brandeis University, has been elected president of the Mass. Association of Non-Profit Schools and Colleges. He resides with his wife, the former Margaret Cohn, and three children, at 40 Beaumont Avenue. He is a native of New York City.

YMCA Auxiliary Holds Luncheon, Elects Officers

The Women's Auxiliary of the Newton Y.M.C.A. held its annual luncheon and election of officers at the Newton Y.M.C.A. recently.

Mrs. Albert Rogan served as luncheon chairman and Mrs. Raymond Garon, president, presided over the meeting.

The Bigelow Junior High School Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Julia Hubbard, gave a performance for the group following the luncheon.

The following officers were elected for the year 1958-59: president, Mrs. William Scar; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Walter Tower; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Maynard Moody; recording secretary, Mrs. Morgan Campbell; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Benjamin Shattuck; treasurer, Mrs. Charles E. Smith; devotionists, Mrs. A. Wesley Perry.

In addition, the following representatives and delegates were appointed: Mrs. Fred Hawkins, Mrs. John Coleman, Mrs. Franklin Jerome, Mrs. Raymond Wilbur, Mrs. Raymond Garon, Mrs. John Rogan, Mrs. George Strandberg, Mrs. Benjamin Louis, Mrs. Alex R. Miller, Mrs. Everett Olds, Mrs. Harold Suvalle, Mrs. Frank Simmons, Mrs. Edmund Miller, Mrs. Herbert Dunphy, Mrs. Donald Satterfield, Mrs. Louis Morrison, Mrs. William Higgins, and Mrs. Wilbur W. Bullen.

Activities planned for the coming year will include: rummage sale, Lenten luncheon, ministers' luncheon, committee men's dinner, Easter bridge, open house, and annual luncheon.

"Take It Easy" Classes Set Up for Housewives

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association and the Massachusetts Heart Association recently offered informal classes in work simplification, a "Take It Easy" series for homemakers.

Purpose of the course was to teach ways and means of cutting housework time, without extreme fatigue, and to save steps and energy. The class was conducted one afternoon a week for four weeks.

The association has suggested a few pointers that may help mothers when school is out, giving them a chance to share in the fun and not stare listlessly out the kitchen window, tied down by the old routine.

Their health demands a vacation too, according to the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association. Here is their suggestion for June:

Take one small notebook and one pencil. List the household tasks for the week. Ask yourself, "Is this job necessary?" For each "yes" answer, ask, "Can some step in this job be left out or made simpler?"

For instance, it is easier to wash apples than make them into a pie. Serve raw fruit three or four times a week. It's better for family health, too, than cakes or pies. Commercially-prepared puddings may not be equal to your special chocolate soufflé, but with the milk and eggs you add they are healthful and tasty. Why peel potatoes when they have more flavor boiled or baked in their jackets?

Speaking of baking, the modern well-insulated oven won't heat the whole house and will save you time and effort. It's

Gunman In Bungle Job

A six-foot gunman appearing in the Newton Highlands section a short time before midnight, caused a long but fruitless search by police.

At 11:30 p. m., Mrs. Nina Saunders, 127 Dedham street told investigating officers that she was approached in the driveway of her home by a man who asked the location of No. 113 Dedham street. She gave the directions. A very short time later the man appeared from the rear of the Saunders' house carrying a gun.

"Keep Quiet!" he snarled. She screamed. The screams were heard by a neighbor who called police. Mrs. Saunders said that the gunman disappeared along Dedham street in the direction of Needham street, when she screamed.

Two Get Degrees From Therapy School Saturday

Mrs. Esta Freeman Jores, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Allen L. Freeman of 40 Homer street, Newton Centre, and Miss Judith A. Michaelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Michaelson of 11 Trinity terrace, Newton Centre, will graduate from the Boston School of Occupational Therapy on Saturday.

They will receive the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education awarded by Tufts University and the diploma of the Boston School of Occupational Therapy.

Mrs. Jores is a graduate of Newton High School and attended the University of Vermont. She is the wife of Howard G. Jores, a student at Northeastern University.

Miss Michaelson graduated from Newton High School and Pine Manor Junior College prior to entering the Boston School.

Photography has become increasingly important in today's modern Navy, for it has been estimated that during World War II and the Korean fighting 80 to 85 percent of intelligence information came from aerial photo reconnaissance missions.

Urges Early Bids For Admission to Air Force School

Young men who would like to seek an appointment to the Air Force Academy cadet class ending in June, 1959, should apply for a Congressional nomination as soon as possible, Major Albert Auburn, Air Force Academy liaison officer, said today.

"The nomination period for this class opened officially June 1, 1958," he added. "Although the period will not end officially until January 31, 1959, it is important to take action early in order to be considered before members of Congress fill their nomination quotas."

Each U. S. Senator and Representative may nominate 11 candidates to take the entrance examinations for the Academy. Candidates must be at least 17 and not yet 22 years of age on July 1, 1959.

Young men who would like to inquire about requesting a nomination to the 1959 class may contact Major Auburn at 23 Central street in Wellesley. Appointed as an Air Force Academy liaison officer in this area, Major Auburn informs prospective candidates on application procedures, and the Academy's program of education and training.

Complete information on admission procedure and cadet life is available also in the Air Force Academy catalog. Any interested person may obtain a copy of the catalog by writing to the Director of Admission, United States Air Force Academy, Denver, Colorado.

The cadet class ending in June of 1959 will be educated and trained at the Academy's new home near Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Installed for Third Time by Local Hadassah

Mrs. Sidney R. Yoffe was installed for a third time as president of the Newton group of Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America, at the regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Yoffe has been active in Hadassah for over 30 years. She has devoted most of her time to the Youth Aliyah movement of Hadassah, which helps resettle and rehabilitate Jewish youth in Israel. During the war years, she served as chairman of Youth Aliyah for the Newton group of Hadassah.

Other officers installed at the meeting include: Vice-presidents, Mmes. Hans J. Seligman, Charles Aronson, Morris M. Lidman, Philip Faneuil, Sidney A. Govenar; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lincoln Yaldin; financial secretary, Mrs. Harold Cherner; assistant financial secretary, Mrs. Albert Goldstein; recording secretary, Mrs. James Horowitz; social secretary, Mrs. Arthur Hersh; treasurer, Mrs. Hyman Levinson.

Mrs. Clarence Lipman, chairman of the nominating committee, announced the following new board members: Mmes. Lincoln Yaldin, Julian Klein, Mathew Goldbourgh, Arthur Hersh, Alfred Kaplan and Albert Goldstein.

The 1958-59 nominating committee is as follows: Mrs. Charles Aronson, chairman, and Mmes. Jack Hurvitt, Hans J. Seligman, Nathan H. Miller and George Roberts.

Mrs. Julian Ansell served as installing officer.

Critics Question DeNucci's Failure At Body Punching

Joe DeNucci was hailed as the hope for a return of big-league boxing to Boston and as a youngster too prone to throwing most of his punches at his opponent's head by Boston sports writers, following his 13th consecutive professional ring victory.

The Newton boy's win over the canny veteran Johnny Cunningham was universally admitted to be the most important of his build-up campaign. It didn't end in a KO and neither man was off his feet because of a blow.

However, there was no question but that the ex-Tiger baseball aspirant earned the unanimous decision. The fight only drew 1400 fans who paid a net of $2203 for the privilege.

Cunningham, with victories over Carmen Basilio (way back in 1949) and over Jimmy Carter (five years ago) carried more experience and savvy into the ring than any of DeNucci's previous opponents. He didn't carry any devastating punch, however, and only when he went into flurries of punching did he bother the young Newton fighter.

Generally, the Boston boxing writers found DeNucci an interesting subject for post-fight analysis, and all seemed in agreement he is currently the best to lead Boston out of its boxing doldrums.

Most of the critics, too, found fault with Joe's addiction to the head as a target instead of finding some areas around his opponent's body to punish just for variety.

Several thought it was the influence of Tony DeMarco upon the career of the Newton boy. Whether Joe's handlers will get him thinking of more diversified punch-landing points in the immediate future remains to be seen.

His manager, Rip Valenti, plans to throw him in for another Boston bout some time between now and the summer lay-off in Boston ring enterprises.

Music Group Has Final Gathering

The Music Group of the Woman's Organization of the Central Congregational Church held its last regular meeting last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. George A. Edmunds in Newtonville. Soloists for the day were Mrs. Kenneth A. Bernard, soprano, the Reverend Baldwin W. Callahan, piano, and Mrs. Wallace J. Ross and Mr. Callahan, piano duet.

Mrs. Carl P. Birmingham is chairman of the group, and Mrs. Walter P. Phillips was co-hostess of the afternoon. The annual putting in June will be held at the summer home of Mrs. Harold J. Stillman in Jeffrey, N. H.

Alvin Newstadt of 131 Langdon street, Newton, received professional degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy at the annual Commencement exercises yesterday at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Newstadt.

Here and There With Uncle Sam

Dominic E. Bottaro of 80 Boyd street, Newton, participated recently in army field training exercises with the 8th Infantry Division in Germany. A private first class, Dominic is a member of the 12th Engineer Battalion. He attended Northeastern University before entering the army last June. He was sent to Europe last January.

John F. Medaglia, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Medaglia of 318 Austin street, Newton, is serving aboard the nuclear submarine USS Skate which is operating with the U. S. Atlantic fleet. The Skate returned to New London a little more than a month ago after shattering all records for a submerged trans-Atlantic crossing. The eastbound crossing was made in eight days and 11 hours, while the return crossing required only seven days and five hours. It is the third of the navy's atomic submarines. Medaglia is a quartermaster second class.

Montrealer Will Be Joe DeNucci's Next Adversary

Joe DeNucci will seek Win No. 14 to add to an unbeaten pro streak in the professional ring at Mechanics building in Boston next Thursday. His opponent will be Yvon Turenne of Montreal.

Turenne is a veteran campaigner who has met some of the best in the middleweight class.

The bout will be an eight-rounder, one of four carded for that night. The show will give Boston fans a chance to look over Archie Moore's protege, Baby Jones of St. Louis, who flattened Pete Rademacher as an amateur. Jones meets Bob Woodall, Boston heavyweight.

New Haven — It would require about 14 years for sound to span the distance separating the sun and the earth.

Recent Deaths

Josephine L. Dudley

Funeral services for Mrs. Josephine Laura Dudley, widow of George N. Dudley, were held at Trinity Episcopal Church, Newton Centre.

She made her home at 19 Birch Hill road, Newtonville. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Marion Dudley Underhill, a grandson, the Rev. William Dudley Underhill; and a granddaughter, Mrs. Ann Huber Underhill.

Edmund I. Leeds

Funeral services for Edmund I. Leeds, 85, of 193 Tremont street, Newton, prominent Boston architectural designer of schools and public buildings, were held at Elliot Congregational Church.

He was a native of Newton. He graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1893 and studied for two years at Ecole des Beaux-Arts in France.

His design for Athol Town Hall won recognition from editors of the Encyclopedia.

He was a 32nd degree Mason, a Knight Templar, a member of the New England Historic and Genealogical Society, the American Institute of Architects, the Eight O'Clock Professional Club, the Boston Society of Architects and the Shriners.

He leaves a son, Edmund, Jr., of East Greenwich, R. I., and two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Watson of Newton, and Alice W. of Boston.

Alice M. McIntire

Miss Alice M. McIntire of 11 Quindin road, Waban, former supervisor on the Massachusetts Board of Public Welfare, died at a Boston rest home. She was 83 years old.

She was born in New Britain, Conn., and attended Leland Stanford University and Simmons College School of Social Work. She served as secretary of the Family Welfare Society of Boston and later was general secretary of the Family Welfare Society of Boston.

Interment was at the Fair View Cemetery, New Britain.

Brandeis Degrees For 6 Newtonites

Six Newton residents will receive their degrees at the seventh Brandeis University commencement Sunday at the University's Adolph Ulman Amphitheatre.

They include Miss Marilynne I. Alperin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Alperin, 34 Solon street, Newton Highlands; Paul A. Berman, son of Mr. and Mrs.

WINNER OF THE Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club Scholarship is Marjorie Jean Gilmartin, daughter of Mrs. Helen Gilmartin, 24 Elliot Terrace. She is the winner of 15 athletic awards and five varsity letters, and has been a camp counselor for two years. She is active in the Girl Scouts, Pioneer Girls and is president of her Youth Fellowship. She plans to enter Gordon College and will major in physical education.

Louis C. Berman, 76 Hartmann road, Newton; Paul N. Brown, son of Mrs. Belle Brown of 55 Truman road, Newton Centre; Joel Corman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Corman, 412 Fuller street, West Newton, and John L. Rich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rich, 64 Warwick road, West Newton.

SCHOLARSHIP award of the Newton Upper Falls Emerson PTA went to Richard Boardman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Boardman, 53 Thurston road. He has had extensive amateur theatrical experience, was staff photographer for his school paper and was a junior councilor for Newton Chapter. He is a member of the DeMolay. He plans to enter the University of Massachusetts where he will major in chemistry.

Betty Lank of Newton, one of two local nurses invited by the Royal Family of Belgium to visit that country as Royal Palace guests told of her unusual experience in a lecture this week at St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands. Her talk was illustrated by moving pictures made on the trip.

Local Students at Education Center

Several Newton residents are enrolled for the new term of the Cambridge Center for Adult Education, which begins next Tuesday. They are Leslie L'Hollien, 543 Center street, Roger Coffey, 31 Charlesbank road, and Robert Appleton, 15 Philbrick road. Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Movitz, 19 Elmwood park, are on the faculty.

The summer session offers workshop groups in a variety of arts and crafts, courses in tennis and bridge, and discussion groups in investments, modern homes, and great plays. Registration is still open. For further information and a booklet, call KI 7-0314.

Here and There With Uncle Sam

David E. Skerry, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Skerry of 27 Whittier road, Newtonville, has been promoted to specialist third class at Kaiserlautern, Germany, where he is a member of the Counter Intelligence Corps. He is a radio and communications operator and entered the service in September, 1956.

Electronics' Mate Fireman Lawrence J. Crell, Jr., of 20 Clinton street, Newton, participated in "Stroke," a U. S. First Fleet striking force exercise held off the coast of Southern California. He is serving aboard the U.S.S. Columbus. Nineteen ships, plus carrier and land-based aircraft from 15 squadrons took 12,000 naval personnel into the operation.

Democrats Elect Newton Lawyer

Atty. Simon Scheff was elected president of the Newton Democratic Club at the annual meeting of that organization held recently at the Newton Highlands "Workshop."

Other officers elected were Edward L. Hirsch, James P. D. Waters and Patricia Sullivan, vice-presidents; Billie Brenner, recording secretary; Ruth A. Shapiro, corresponding secretary; and David Fleishman, treasurer.

Ward representatives elected were John Barton, 1; Lawrence Cooke, 2; John Black, 3; Paul D'Agostino, 4; Harvey L. Friedman, 5; Milton Cohen, 6; Marjorie Neagle, 7, and Sydney Berkman, 8.

Upon assuming the presidency, Scheff emphasized the need of promoting the ideals of the Democratic Club and redefining the principles of the Democratic party.

C. of C. Sponsors Class in Typing

The Newton Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a Typing Efficiency Program for the benefit of business firms in the city. It is believed to be the first of its kind in the State. The program is available to clerical personnel without charge and will be conducted with the cooperation of the educational services department of the IBM Corporation and Mt. Ida Junior College.

The course will be held at Mt. Ida Junior College from June 9 to June 11 and will be limited to 80 typists in four classes of 20 students each.

20,000 Presbyterians Will Be Represented At Newton Gathering

Twenty thousand New England Presbyterians will be represented by ministers and lay delegates at the 46th annual meeting of the Presbyterian U. S. A. Synod on June 10-12 at the United Presbyterian Church in Newton.

Also present will be representatives of the 21 United Presbyterian Churches in New England which, by action of the General Assembly at Pittsburgh on May 28, became merged with the Presbyterian Church U. S. A. into the new United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

Meeting at the same time and place will be the Synodical Society (Women's Organization) of the Presbyterian Church in New England.

Outstanding speakers at both meetings include Dr. Charles T. Leber, general secretary of the former Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church U. S. A., who will interpret the newly formed Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations in his address, "The Rise of a Mighty Vision" at a popular meeting on Wednesday, June 11, at 7:30 p.m.

Other speakers include Miss Estella M. Chambers, R. N., director of the School of Nursing at Westminster Hospital, Kansas, who will address the Synod and Synodical on her work in Iran.

Dr. Young Kyo Hahn, formerly dean of the College of Theology of Yonsei University in Seoul, and now a fraternal worker from Korea to the United States assigned to the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions in New York City, will address the Synod on Tuesday at 4:30 p.m.

Also speaking will be Senora Josefina de Casas, Secretary of the National Union of Presbyterian Women's Societies of Mexico, and Mrs. Stuart D. Taylor of Vineland, N. J., member of the Executive Board, National Council of Presbyterian Women's Organizations, both of whom will address the Synodical Society.

Synod and Synodical will meet daily for a series of Bible studies led by Dr. George Arthur Franz of Indianapolis, Indiana.

One of the actions of the Synod will be to accept the resignation of the Reverend Walter David Knight as Synod Executive, and to hear a report of the Committee which is working on the selection of a new executive.

A testimonial dinner in recognition of Mr. Knight's 20 years of service to the Synod will be held on Wednesday, June 11, at 6 p.m. He has accepted an appointment to serve on the faculty of the Presbyterian Seminary in San Anselmo, California.

Memorial Service For Firefighters Sunday Afternoon

The annual memorial service for deceased members of the Newton Fire Department will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at headquarters.

Alderman Leo M. Cannon will be the principal speaker. The invocation will be given by the Rev. John Balcom, the benediction by the Rev. Daniel F. Quinn. Fire Chief Perkins will read the roll call of deceased members.

Mrs. J. King Hoyt, vice-moderator of the Synod, will conduct the opening session of the Synod meeting until the new moderator is elected. Synod and Synodical will be convened for an opening service of Holy Communion conducted by the Rev. Donald F. Campbell, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Stamford, Conn.

Mrs. George C. Bevans, President of New England Synodical Society, will preside over the women's meetings. Greetings will be given by the pastor of the host church, the Rev. Charles N. Pickell.

Business sessions of the group will feature reports by standing committees, election of officers, and the approval of recommendations for advance work of the Church in Christian Education, new church development, and benevolence giving.

The Rev. F. Lawson Suetterlein, Chairman of Synod's Committee on Stewardship and Promotion, will report that New England Synod led the church nationally in its percentage of increase in giving to benevolence in 1957 over 1956. The national increase was 7.75 percent while the New England increase totalled 21.4 percent.

The Rev. Robert C. Holtzapple, Jr., Chairman of Christian Education, will report on the greatly expanded program of Leadership Education, including a summer program which will provide training for 650 leaders in the church in this region.

A report will be made by the Rev. David S. DeRogatis, Field Director for Christian Education, in the Synod's first Leadership Training School to be held at Lasell Junior College in Auburndale, July 6-12, and the Pastors Seminar for Church

Newton Girls Are Mount Ida Graduates

LINDA WEISS

GAIL HUBERMAN

NANCY WOODLE

Three young ladies from the Newton area were graduated at Mount Ida College on Monday. They are: Gail V. Huberman, 5 Cheswick road, Auburndale; Linda Weiss, 1745 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton; and Nancy Woodle, 4 Janet road, Newton Centre.

All of the girls are graduates of Newton High School. Miss Huberman graduated from the course of training for airline stewardess. The Misses Weiss and Woodle completed the two-year course for medical assistants.

Miss Weiss served on the staff of "Ye Idler," Mount Ida yearbook. Miss Huberman was recently chosen to model in the annual spring fashion show presented at the Newton Women's Club.

Officer Training at Brookline, October 2-23.

Stephen Nagy, a member of the Westminster Foundation Board of Directors, will report on Presbyterian Student work in New England, including the appointment of the first full-time Presbyterian University pastor at Yale.

GOP Club to Sponsor Gala Social Event

The annual Supper Dance of the Newton Republican Club, is scheduled to take place on Thursday evening, June 12, at the Commonwealth Country Club.

Advance reservations indicate a capacity attendance by Newton Republicans. Prominent Republicans on the national and state level who have been invited as special guests include Congressman Laurence Curtis; Daniel McLean, chairman, Massachusetts Republican State Committee; Mrs. Raymond W. Wheeler and Ralph H. Bonnell, members from Massachusetts of the National Republican Committee; and candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor, George Fingold and Christian A. Herter, Jr.

Reservations may be obtained from Stanley S. Lewenberg, chairman of the supper dance, DE 2-9105.

City Heads Elect Basbas Chairman

The Newton City Department Heads Association elected City Clerk Monte G. Basbas chairman at its luncheon meeting.

Administrative Assistant Harold T. Pillsbury was re-elected clerk and Sealer J. Ellis Brown, treasurer.

Business Manager Robert E. Sliney of the Newton District of the N.E.T. & T. Co., was guest speaker at the luncheon. He told of the phone company's place in a city like Newton and conducted members of the organization on an inspection tour of the telephone building at 787 Washington street, Newtonville, after the luncheon.

rug cleaning, repairing or summer storing... call Able... you will be so glad you did...

How did everything look when you opened the cottage over the weekend. Did you brush away the cobwebs, and open the windows wide to get some of that marvelous spring air. What are you going to do to brighten it up, make it more liveable, before the season starts?

If a new lamp is on the list of "what's new"... I do hope you will remember that I told you about those clever gals at the Lampshade Studio... They will wire your old lamps... fashion a special "beach proof" shade for you or wire up some favorite old novelty for an interesting conversation piece...

Something to think about... Success and Happiness have a funny habit of happening to those who work hard for them.

Chamber of Commerce Launches Drive

"Newton Corner Days" Gala Value Festival Lifts Curtain Today

Merchants in the area are prepared to lift the curtain today on "Newton Corner Days" a three-day extravaganza of bargains and money-saving promotions, for an influx of shoppers is expected to take advantage of the event starting today and continuing through Saturday. The Graphic has a special section today featuring values in a variety of stores.

Burt Miller, chairman of the Newton Corner merchants committee, and Justin Horan, executive director of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, are elated over the rapid development of plans for the affair and are optimistic that it will make merchandising sales history in Newton.

Mr. Horan worked in close co-operation with the Newton Corner Merchants Association to bring today's three-day "Bargain Treasure" promotion to fruition. He blueprinted the idea and was instrumental in assuring its success.

For their part, the merchants have prepared a most inviting array of genuine values. Area stores have seriously and sincerely aligned themselves with

Herter Given Good Chance Of Winning at GOP Conclave

Executive Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., of Newton is considered by political experts to have a good chance of gaining the Republican nomination for Governor at the GOP pre-primary State convention to be held in Worcester Saturday.

A big majority of the Newton delegates will support Herter in his bid for his party's gubernatorial endorsement and the right to head the Republican State ticket in next fall's campaign.

The surprise move which saw former Speaker Charles Gibbons shifted from the U. S. Senate race into the fight for Governor is considered to have taken some votes away from Herter.

But both Councillor Herter and his Greater Boston campaign manager, Representative J. Robert Ayers of Weston, expressed optimism that the Newton Executive Councillor will emerge a winner from Saturday's convention. They brushed aside claims from the headquarters of Attorney General George Fingold that Fingold has the votes of 1200 of the 1700 delegates who will do the voting at the GOP conclave, indicating the impression that Fingold statements were made for psychological purposes.

Political experts who have endeavored to survey the situation in the fight for the Republican nomination for Governor express the belief that Herter and Fingold are fairly evenly matched with the convention

GOP Contest for Governor Still Regarded As in Doubt

A veil of uncertainty still hangs over the contest for the Republican endorsement for Governor as the GOP delegates prepare to converge on Worcester for the pre-primary convention Saturday which will pick a State ticket for next fall's election.

Any analysis of the relative prospects of the three contenders for the right to run as the Republican candidate for Governor—Executive Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., Attorney General George Fingold and former Speaker Charles Gibbons—must be predicated on a number of "ifs."

One fairly safe forecast is that Gibbons has no chance of emerging as the convention's choice for the Governorship unless an extended deadlock develops.

No stalemate can occur if the rule adopted for the past three conventions is again put into effect. That rule provided that if a ballot failed to give any candidate a majority of the votes cast, the low man automatically was eliminated.

It is difficult to see how Gibbons, after switching from the Senate field to the gubernatorial contest 10 days before the convention, can finish any better than third on the first ballot. In such a case he would be out of the fight after one ballot—if the elimination rule applied.

Scores Of Awards Presented At Colorful NHS Graduation

Sandra Douglas, Kenneth Winston Win Senior Cup

Seven hundred and sixty-nine blue-robed seniors marched into Dickinson Stadium Saturday evening to receive Newton High School diplomas as thousands of parents and friends watched the graduation exercises under unclouded June skies.

Philip K. Allen, assistant general manager of WGBH-TV, addressed the NHS 99th graduating class on the subject of "Politics and Youth", urging them to "take some part in partisan politics—no matter how small—to battle for better government and become actors and actresses in the mighty drama of the American destiny."

Diplomas were presented by Mrs. Genevieve R. Oncley, member of the Newton School Committee; Harold B. Gores, superintendent of schools; Principal Harold Howe II; and Warren W. Switzer, director of the Newton Technical High School.

Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., president of the Newton High School Alumni Association, presented the coveted Senior Cups to Kenneth Winston and Sandra Douglas.

These cups go to the boy and girl who most nearly represent the ideal student, in the eyes of the faculty and the students. Winston served as president of the NHS chapter of the National Honor Society this year. He was also parliamentarian of the Legislature, president of the Chemistry Club, and a member of the literary staff of the Newtonian.

He also belonged to the Math Club, the Orange Shield, the Civics Committee and the PTSA board of directors. He lives at 415 Ward street, Newton Center.

Miss Douglas was editor-in-chief of the Newtonian this year, a member of the National Honor Society and the Senior Class Committee, and took a leading role in the senior play and in other Drama Club activities. She makes her home at 11 Fairview street, Newton.

The Dickinson Memorial Athletic Cup was presented to David Craig as the boy who has shown the greatest improvement in athletics. A defenseman on the varsity hockey team, Craig was also a pitcher and first baseman on the varsity baseball team for three years.

It's Official! Summer Arrives Saturday! Crystal Lake Opens

Summer comes to Newton this week. Official arrival time will be 2 p.m. Saturday. Nether mind that calendar. Pay no heed to what the almanac says.

Of course, the arrival will be more propitious with a bit of smiling, ungrudging cooperation from Old Sol and some temperatures reading in the mid-70s and up.

The coming arrival was announced this week by the Recreation Department and its commissioner, C. Evan Johnson. The 2 p.m. Saturday date was fixed for the official opening of Crystal Lake, Newton Centre. And that, naturally, brings summer to Newton.

Starting at 2 p.m. today (Thursday), the sale of swimming permits opens at the Recreation office at City Hall. You may call in person for your permits or you may mail your application.

For the convenience of those who choose to come to City Hall there will be two clerks on duty to handle the applicants. They will be there each business day to meet the demand during the regular office hours from 8:30

Rep. Thresher Is Candidate For Reelection

Representative Irene K. Thresher of Waban, who has served in the Massachusetts House of Representatives for the past eight years, today announced her candidacy for re-election to the Legislature from the 5th Middlesex district.

The mother of four children, three of whom are now married, Representative Thresher has been active in Newton civic affairs for a quarter of a century, participating in Girl Scouts, Red Cross, Community Fund and other activities.

Multi-Talented Housewife To Emote At Art Festival

A blonde Newton mother of three is enjoying a "re-activated career" in the theatre this year, after 12 years of baby-care and home-making, with time out only to win a Phi Beta Kappa key from Boston University.

An unusual and attractive combination of creative talent and intellectual ability, Mrs. Harrison Gass of 120 Lake Avenue, Newton Centre, will do the narration for Henry Lasker's original children's opera this Saturday at the Boston Arts Festival.

Known in the theatre since her early debut at the age of 3 as Blanche Faye, the animated Newton housewife will narrate two performances of the enchanting music-and-pantomime version of "Jack and the Beanstalk", written by a member of the Newton High music department.

"From my earliest days," says the trim young matron, "I was torn between the dual pulls of performing in the theatre and acquiring knowledge. I aspired in both directions."

"At the age of nine months, I won a baby-food contest and that convinced my mother I was slated for a stellar role in the theatrical world."

Yale Awards Honorary Degree To NHS Principal

Newton High School principal Harold Howe II received an honorary master of arts degree at Yale University Monday for "resourceful leadership as administrator in our public school system".

A Yale graduate with the class of 1940, Howe was one of a dozen men and women awarded honorary degrees at Yale's 257th commencement.

Howe came to Newton last fall from the Walnut Hills High School in Cincinnati, where he was principal. A former history teacher, he comes from a family of educators.

His father taught at Dartmouth before becoming president of Hampton Institute, a brother is director of admissions at Yale, and a sister formerly taught at the Shady Hill School.

The degree citation read in part:

"As a member of a family of educators, you have shown the same high quality of courage and altruism for which they have become distinguished."

"You have brought those qualities to the vital field of secondary education. By your resourceful leadership as administrator, you have made a significant contribution."

Firemen Hurt As Engine And Auto Collide

When Engine 8 of the Newton fire department was in collision with an automobile operated by a Newtonville man on Lowell avenue, Newtonville, Lieutenant George F. Herlihy of 29 Warwick road, West Newton, and Firefighter Albert G. Moore, of 3 Chandler street, Newton, were injured.

The apparatus was responding to an alarm for a brush fire. Lieutenant Herlihy suffered a neck injury, while Firefighter Moore, who was taken to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, suffered back injuries.

The automobile was operated by Abraham I. Eastman of 135 Blake street, Newtonville. He suffered no injuries, police said. Paul J. Leone of 37 Clinton street, Newton, was operating Engine 8.

After the collision the engine was able to continue on its way to a brush fire on Valentine Park.

6-Story Luxury Apartments For Hammond Pkwy.

Ground-breaking is planned this month for the construction of a six-story, 48-unit luxury apartment building at 10 Hammond Pond parkway, Chestnut Hill. It is expected the structure will be completed in about a year.

Its design calls for a swim pool and sun deck with garage facilities in the basement. The building will be constructed by the St. Paul Construction Co.

Carpenters End Walkout After Pay Hike Grant

The walkout of 1000 Newton-Waltham area carpenters ended when the tradesmen and employers reached an agreement on a three-year contract. Under its terms the carpenters won a 40-cents-an-hour increase. The carpenters had asked for a 50-cent increase and a two year contract. The new hourly rate will be $3.65.

The walkout which lasted nearly three weeks held up several building projects in Newton including the new Mason-Rice School, Newton Centre; additions to the Countryside School, Newton Highlands; the Hamilton School, Newton Lower Falls and a garage at the city yard, Elliot street, Newton Upper Falls.

Plan 8-Week Summer Tennis Program for Newton Youths

Don't blame it on the Recreation Department if Newton isn't able to boast a couple of months hence that it has more good young tennis players per residential block than any other city in the country.

Starting at 10 a.m. Tuesday, July 1, the Department, in cooperation with the New England Tennis Patrons, is undertaking a program designed to make tennis a universal sport — at least among the younger generations of Garden City residents.

On that date and at that hour a Summer Tennis Program and Clinic for Newton children will be launched.

The program, with the enthusiastic support of the Newton PTA Council recreation committee, will be carried on a no-cost-to-participants.

William (Bill) McClung, New England's top-ranking junior player of '57 and No. 2 on the '58 Dartmouth College tennis team, will be instructor-director representative of the New England Patrons.

Bill is thoroughly trained in the Don Budge method of Coaching. He'll conduct classes every Tuesday for eight weeks for both group and individual instruction from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The clinic opening on July 1 will see a demonstration and instruction period carried out by McClung and Malcolm T. Hill of Auburndale, former national tennis star.

At this session there will be a demonstration of an automatic ball-throwing machine. The machine will be available for clinical use during the Tuesday sessions each week.

The opening session will also be given over to registration and organization with the players-to-be grouped by age and ability so that class groups may be set up for more effective teaching.

Complete details may be obtained at the opening day clinic, from Playground leaders on June 30, or by calling the Recreation Department office.

Candidates At GOP Club Party Tonight

Candidates for State GOP office are looking with much interest towards the annual supper-dance of the Newton Republican Club to be held tonight at the Commonwealth Country Club.

Among the special guests will be Attorney General George Fingold, Christian A. Herter Jr., and Charles Gibbons, all candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor.

Candidates and delegates alike are regarding tonight's party with much interest due to its proximity to the Worcester convention. For many in attendance, it will comprise a pre-convention party, coming as it does just two days before the Pre-Primary convalesce.

Reservations may still be made by contacting Stanley S. Lewenberg, dance chairman, at DE 2-9105.

Carr Nursery School Parents Meet Tuesday

The annual parents' meeting of the Carr Nursery School will be held at the school, Nevada street, Newtonville, next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Election of officers and directors and a short business meeting are on the agenda. Speakers at the meeting will include: Kenneth LaFlamme, school principal; Miss Marion Keyes, grade supervisor; and Dr. Charles O. Richter, assistant superintendent of the Newton public schools. Refreshments will be served.

The nursery school will inaugurate its fifth consecutive season in the fall. Enrollment is now open, for which additional information may be obtained by calling LA 7-4113 or LA 7-2286.

BEN NEEDEL

Newton Man New Sales Manager Of Boston Firm

Ben Needel, of 66 Pleasant street, Newton Centre, has been appointed as industrial sales manager of Radio Shack Corp., with new headquarters at 730 Commonwealth avenue, Boston.

He will direct a new sales division for Radio Shack's national and local distribution of industrial electronic components.

It is reported that the company's expanded facilities will be the East's largest electronic parts distributing center.

Mr. Needel gained much of his experience in this field with the U. S. Air Force and Radio Shack Corp., where he has been employed since 1947. He attended Wentworth Institute and the Massachusetts Radio and Telegraph School.

Mrs. Oncley To Ohio Conference

Mrs. Genevieve Oncley of the Newton School Committee has been chosen to represent this area at a conference on Teacher Education and Professional Standards to be held June 24-28 at Bowling Green, Ohio.

Mrs. Oncley, who is completing a study of problems of accreditation along with the chairman of the Lexington school board, was chosen to travel to Ohio by the Massachusetts Association of School Committees at their annual meeting in Lenox last month.

The T. E. P. S. conference is being sponsored by the National Education Association in an effort to spell out in exact terms the methods of accrediting schools presently used in various parts of the country.

Newton Doctor And Daughters On TV Program

Dr. William B. Chasen of 111 Cedar street, Newton, and his daughters, Barbara, 13, and Laura, 12, played leading roles in a television program presented on Channel 5 last week.

The Newton physician, who is chief of the arthritis clinic of the Veterans' Administration in Boston and past-president of the Massachusetts Academy of General Practice, discussed various types of atomic bombing and fallout.

Dr. Chasen told of anticipated casualties and explained how we could prevent many casualties by proper use of shelters and first aid.

His daughters assisted him in demonstrating simple first aid practices. A Colonel in the Army Medical Reserve, Dr. Chasen is commanding officer of the 803rd Medical Reserve Group in Boston.

Expect 600 At Gores Dinner

Reservations are coming in with every mail at the Chamber of Commerce office for the testimonial dinner to honor Dr. Harold B. Gores, which will be held at the Meadowbrook Junior High School next Wednesday evening.

Dr. Gores will leave his post as superintendent of schools in Newton sometime this summer, and will make his headquarters on Madison avenue, New York, after September 1, as president of the Education Facilities Laboratory of the Ford Foundation.

The high-powered committee planning the June 18 event reports that heavy reservations have been made by scores of Newton teachers and civic and business leaders in the community.

Chairman Haskell Freedman said today that no more than 600 tickets would be sold and urged those anxious to attend to mail their checks this week to the Newton Chamber of Commerce, 1171 Washington street, West Newton 65, Mass.

Reservations will be made on a first-come, first-served basis. Checks for $5 per person should be made out to Dr. Charles O. Richter, committee treasurer.

Mayor Howard Whitmore will be toastmaster at the dinner, and will introduce a roster of distinguished speakers.

Cystic Fibrosis Group Installs Officers Tuesday

The final meeting of the season for the Newton Branch of Cystic Fibrosis Research will be held next Tuesday night at 8:15 o'clock at the Skylight Room, Filene's, Chestnut Hill.

Committee chairmen will give reports on the first year activities sponsored by the recently organized group. The prayer will be given by Mrs. Leon Singer.

Mrs. Harry Shwachman will install the following new slate of officers: Mrs. Milton Gray, president; Mrs. Irving Kadet, vice-president; Mrs. Lawrence Green, treasurer; Mrs. Mervin Gray, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Herbert Nathanson, recording secretary; Mrs. Saul Cutter, financial secretary; Mrs. Joseph Schiff, executive advisor; Mrs. Sumner Tye, liaison officer to the Massachusetts Chapter for CF Research; Mrs. Eric Orne, chairman of the board of directors; and the following directors, Mrs. Alan Edelstein, Mrs. Bernard Freed, Mrs. Stephen Gordon, Mrs. Leonard Levine, Mrs. Stanley Markow, Mrs. Richard Rossman, and Mrs. Murray Waxler.

A book review by Lillian Ostrows will follow the installation. Chairmen for the evening include Mrs. Lawrence Green, Mrs. Richard Rossman and Mrs. Sumner Tye.

Home Building Takes Upward Turn in Newton

Home building in Newton is on the way up again. Reports filed with Building Commissioner Arthur Campbell for May showed an increase not only over the previous month but over May, 1957, as well.

Last month 18 permits for new residential construction valued at $254,900 were issued as compared with 15 dwellings, valued at $216,000 in April, and 14 dwellings, valued at $237,500 in May, 1957.

Permits for all types of construction up to May 31 totaled 258, costing $2,042,367. The five month total ran somewhat behind a comparable period in 1957 when 278 permits for $3,681,625 were issued.

Tennis Tourney Starts June 30

The Annual Mass. State & Tennis Center Championships for Boys will be held commencing at 9:00 a.m. on June 30 and will run through July 4. There will be competition in three classes; 18 years of age and under; 15 and under and 13 and under; both singles and doubles.

This event is sponsored and sanctioned by the New England Lawn Tennis Association and the Newton Recreation Department. This will be the second tennis championship of the season for the city as the New England 13 & under Championships for Boys will get underway at the Fessenden School in West Newton on June 23, continuing through June 28.

HARRIS A. REYNOLDS

Harris Reynolds Seeking Herter Seat in Council

Former Assistant Attorney General Harris A. Reynolds of Wellesley today announced his candidacy for the Governor's Council in the third councilor district.

That district is now represented in the Executive Council by Christian A. Herter, Jr., of Newton who is expected to win the Republican nomination for Governor at the GOP pre-primary convention in Worcester this Saturday.

A former resident of Newton, Reynolds now resides at 5 Rockridge road, Wellesley. He is married and the father of two sons, aged 3 and 5.

Reynolds has been a trial lawyer for the past two decades and a member of the Massachusetts Bar since 1958. He served as an Assistant Attorney General from 1953 to 1956.

He attracted widespread public attention a little more than a year ago when he served as counsel for Matthew J. Collins and Mary B. Schindler whom Governor Furcolo was seeking to remove from the State Milk Control Board because of a stand they took in ruling against a client of Furcolo's.

Reynolds graduated from Belmont High School, Dartmouth College and the Harvard Law School. A lifelong Republican, he is a former member of the Newton Republican City Committee and is a present member of the Massachusetts Republican Club.

He has served as president of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Boston Junior Chamber of Commerce, as executive secretary of the Massachusetts Civic League and as an officer in the Newton Highlands Improvement Association and the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association.

10 From Newton Are Graduated At Mass. Univ.

Ten students from the Newton area were graduated, one Magna Cum Laude, and another Cum Laude, at the recent Commencement exercises held at the University of Massachusetts.

Myron M. Thayer, of 75 Clinton Place, Newton Centre, was graduated Magna Cum Laude and received his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering.

Allen F. Moench, was graduated Cum Laude and received a bachelor of science degree. Other graduates included: Joan J. Murphy, 107 Vernon Street, Victor A. Paddock, 22 Arapahoe Road, West Newton, and Marsha Samoylenko, 37 Duffield Road, Auburndale, bachelor of arts degrees.

Richard R. MacMahon, 150 Otis Street, Newtonville; Marion A. Mandiel, 11 Chesley Road; Mary A. O'Connell, 37 Endicott Street, Newton Highlands; Marguerite A. Oteri, 38 Maplewood Avenue, Newton Centre, and Morton L. Shaevel, 36 Scotney Road, bachelor of science degrees.

Message With Tax Bill Tells How City Spends Each Dollar

Besides the annual jolt — the list of the real estate taxes due the city for the year — Newton taxpayers are getting a couple of interesting enclosures in the envelopes now being sent out from the Board of Assessors' office.

Along with the bill which will record a higher tax due will be a blue slip from Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., and the members of the board, explaining why the tax bill is larger and where the money is going.

Likewise enclosed will be a resume of the laws controlling the city's dog population. This enclosure is in line with an order by the Board of Aldermen to publicize for the benefit of the city's canines and stems from the recent controversy before the board.

The blue slip is addressed—"To You—The taxpayers". One side is a message which reads as follows:

"Municipal government is truly Big Business. Your Board of Assessors and Your Mayor feel that you, as stockholders in the growing corporation that is the city of Newton, should know where your tax dollar will travel in 1958.

"The increase of $4.80 in the 1958 tax rate over the rate in 1957 is due to several factors: Greater State and County charges against the City and the decrease in distributions to the City from these same sources account for an increase of $1.20. The School Department Budget for 1958 is $747,000 (12.9%) greater than in 1957, accounting for an increase of $2.90. The 1958 increase in the budgets of all other Departments and Boards over 1957 is $671,000 (6.3%) equivalent to $2.60.

"As a partial offset to these and other factors, your assessors were able to record $7,600,000 in new valuation on to the tax base and to establish an approved tax rate of $54 for 1958.

"Please read carefully the figures shown in the charts on the reverse side. They illustrate the sources and allocation of your tax dollar to pay the cost of the many services and functions provided and performed by Your City Government for You."

The reverse side of the blue slip gives a breakdown of where the city's revenue originates and where the in-take is spent. The circular pie with wedged-shaped subdivisions is used to put the subject graphically.

The "Where the Money Comes From . . ." pie shows that 62.67 per cent of the city's income is from real estate taxes; 4.04 per cent from personal property; 8.55 per cent from motor vehicle excise; 2.94 per cent from departmental revenue; 2.91 per cent from income tax; 3.6 per cent from corporation tax; 4.88 per cent for surpluses available; 4.4 per cent from State and federal grants; 27 per cent from poll tax and .11 per cent from licenses and fees.

The "Where the Money Goes" pie shows that schools (33.06 per cent) and public works (18.24 per cent) account for most of the out-go items.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton High School

By JUDY ARNOLD

HIGHLIGHTS . . . Ted Bernard's Orchestra played at last week's Senior Prom as the many Newtonites danced at the attractive Totem Pole from 9 until 1 o'clock. The Prom committee was headed by Pat Howard and consisted of Ruth Butterfield, Penny Doswell, Judith Goldstein, Beverly Henrich, Alan Howard, Phil Johnson, Ellen Kahn, Bob Kantar, John McClosky, Charlie Snider, and Virginia Weber. The ushers at the seniors' final activity of the year were Danny Arnet, Phil Currier, Dick Armstrong, James Burke, Bob Calvert, Dave Stafford, Bruce Swerling, William Young, John Deming, Dick Gordon, Dick Gores, Charlie Grimm, James Woodlock, Doc Zolli, Mike Huberman, Dick McCarthy, Charles Peck, Dwight Rideout, Joe Zophin, and chairman Martin Tormey.

The seniors were truly relaxing as they had come to school for the final time on Wednesday, and then only for an assembly and a short graduation rehearsal. The patrons and patronesses present at the prom were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Howe II, Dr. and Mrs. Gores, Mr. and Mrs. George Neilson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Raymond Rogers, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. E. Parker Calvert.

The Prom committee dedicated the songs of the entire evening to favorite memories of their high school years: "You're Sensational"—The Administration; "I've Grown Accustomed to Your Face"—The Faculty; "Moments to Remember"—School Days; "Mr. Wonderful"—The President; "26 Miles"—The Tunnels; "True Love"—Dates; "Feudin', Fightin', and A-Fussin'"—The Legislature; "Thou Swell"—Class Advisor; "No, Not Much"—Homework; "Thanks a Million"—Prom Committee; "An Affair to Remember"—Graduation; "Cockeyed Optimists"—Class Committee; "Some Enchanted Evening"—The Prom; "Thanks for the Memories"—Orange and Black. Now, after Saturday's graduation, the seniors are no longer a part of Newton High.

At a recent meeting of the National Honor Society, an election for next year's officers was held. Tom Martin was voted next year's president; Bill Vachon, vice-president; Betty Anderson, secretary; and Frank Maurer, treasurer.

AFTER-CLASS . . . At the last meeting of the Junior Red Cross Council, a movie was shown and elections were held for president. Cathy Dines was chosen for the office and it was decided that voting for all other positions would be held off until next year, when the new members of the group would be able to voice their opinions.

The members of the Performers' Group in Orchestras held tryouts last week for members wishing to advance from the other groups of orchestra. The only girl selected as a new member of next year's performers was Mimi Shaw. Barbara Fleischer, Penny Axelrod, Robin Marsh, Betsy Cohen, Faith Copeland, Bunny Warshaver, Ellen Kahn, Marion Young, Judy Risen and Diane Costa were the members of this year's group.

The Orange Shield introduced a new system to the cafeteria at the end of this year. For a long time, the shield members have acted as servants and cleaned up the cafeteria after the students; however, for the last two weeks of school, the group determined to only act as guides as they are supposed to and to request students to clean up after themselves and their friends.

JOTS AND DASHES . . . The final issue of the Newtonite was published at graduation. The newspaper put out its usual fifteen issues this year. It is expected that the newspaper staff members will be together in one home-room next year as the Newtonian editors always are.

THE OUT-DOOR TYPE . . . On Monday, June 2, all girls who have participated in sports this spring, such as tennis, archery, softball, etc. were presented with awards. The affair was held in the gym.

THE MARQUEE . . . During the past week, Mr. Spink and Miss Ryan have been holding tryouts for next year's Senior play, "Anastasia". The publishing of the final results showed Carol Oppen as Anna; Barbara Fleischer as the Empress; Dorothy Gurvitz, charwoman; Julie Bergmark, Baroness; Amy McAuliffe, Varya; Steve Kaufman, Putravin; Lee Milner, Bounine; Jim Burdeck, Serge; Dan Krinsky, Drivintz; Steve Wolf, sleigh driver; Jay Mullen, Dr. Serensky; and Bert Norman, Prince Paul. The student directors are Hal Cohen, Adele Lerman, and Jan Lee Clement. The play will be presented on the week-end of October 17, 1958; therefore, the cast has already started its first rehearsals. All students will have their lines learned by the first day of school next fall and, after that, there will be rehearsals on every school day and some Saturdays.

COLLEGE-WISE . . . The main subject of conversation in all grades alike is the college one, and now that the guessing and anxiety is over, everyone is curious as to where the seniors are going to school next year. University of Massachusetts drew the largest number of Newtonites, as Ellen Abend, Lois Anderson, Ruth Butterfield, Joe D'Amico, James Hainer, Ann Havey, Robert Masow, Lorraine Newstadt, Marcia Rosenberg, Edith Schwartz, Bill Shaevel, Gail Thompson, James Woodlock, Gerry Pelzcar, Marion Hockridge, Marcia Katseff, Ken Frail, and Henry Leavitt will be there next year. Right in Boston will be Marsha Beres, Phyllis Gilbert, Byrna Levine, Emily MacMillan, Richard Louie, Malcolm Bessom, Ruth Shriber, Margie Wolleck, Richard Asherman, Joel Bleiwas, and Nancy Butler at Boston University. Also right intown will be Judy Goldstein and Pat Gordon at Radcliffe; and Marty Beckwith, Reiner Beuwkes, Marty Bialow, Ed Berger, Dick Cohen, Peter Derow, Elliot Gardner, Dick Gordon, Dick McCarthy, Dan Morrison, Al Warsow, and Ken Winston at Harvard.

Brad Harding, Benjie Labb, Charlie Nahabedian, Cathy Harper, Marsha Beres, Ronald Cedergren, and Michael Melnick will be at Northeastern; Steve Kates at Mass. Pharmacy; Ruth Gesmer, Sandi

Rosenthal and Margie Wolbarst at Lesley; Richard Raphael at Cambridge Junior; John Kattwinkle at Chauncy Hall; and Dan Alperin, at Emerson; all schools very nearby.

Even closer to home will be Sandi Douglas, Carol Kurson, and Ann Morrison at Wellesley; Judie Becker, Marty Gladstone, Bob Kantar, Howard Shapiro and Ellen Weiss at Brandeis; Francis Zolli at Boston College; Murray Cohen, Simon Shapiro, and Pat Hampe at Newton Junior College; and Pam Smith, Marilyn Phyllides, Elaine Demeo and Emily Ruane at Lasell Junior College.

Several students have selected professional schools as they have already decided on their career. In the nursing field, Sue White and Dorothy Page will be at New England Baptist Hospital; Jerry Berest at Mt. Auburn Hospital; Dorothy Montfort and Nancy Varni at St.

Thurs., June 12, 1958, THE NEWTON GRAPHIC PAGE 3

Elizabeth's Hospital; Elizabeth Brown at the Beth Israel Hospital; and Mary Hyde at Massachusetts General Hospital. Attending secretarial school will be Rita Andler and Sandra Plandon at Chandler's.

Many students have chosen to go to two-year junior colleges. At Colby Junior will be Joan Rosenthal, Barbara Bruce and Arlene Sherter; Grace Ludwig and Nancy DiBenedetto at Fisher Junior; Jane Mara and Nancy Green at Garland; and Ann Sutherland at Vermont Junior.

Picking up a southern accent and a tan will be Ann Holmes, Caroline McFarland and Betty Hoye at Hood in Maryland; Steve Butter, Mike Butter, Richard Fox, Lloyd Gainsboro, Neal Goldstein, Ellen Rothstein, Judy Sussman and Sandi Weiner at the University of Miami; Mary Ellen Clark at Averett College in Virginia; Nancy Scammon at William and Mary; and Bunny Warshaver at Goucher.

Steve Secunda will enjoy Ivy League life at Yale; Mike Huberman at Princeton; Barry Sidel at University of Pennsylvania; and Alan Paulson at Amherst.

After a long delay in election results, the following were announced as next year's officers of the senior class: president, Bill Doyle; first vice-president, Jerry Kenney; second vice-president, Dave Gilvar; Diane Fay, secretary; Marcia Kerr, treasurer; and Paul Daly, Meg Rapp and Ruth Shepard on the associate council. In the junior class: Paul Guzzi, president; Bob Gallagher, vice-president; Margie Casselman, secretary; Alan Copeland, treasurer.

Political Overtones

Attorney General Fingold apparently is gambling on winning on the opening ballot. It will be a serious blow to Fingold's hopes if the blitz tactics he and his campaign lieutenants are employing do not produce a first-ballot victory.

After Gibbons had shifted into the gubernatorial fight, Norman L. Moore, Fingold's secretary and campaign aide, claimed in a statement to the newspapers that the Attorney General had 1200 votes out of a possible 1700. Political observers doubt the accuracy of Moore's estimate.

But in view of the Fingold claims and in the face of the fact that Gibbons appears to be drawing more from Herter's potential strength than from Fingold's, some political experts suspect that if Fingold doesn't win on the first ballot he may not win at all—at least not for Governor.

At this point, almost on the eve of the convention, Herter and Fingold appear to be fairly evenly matched. Herter was picking up support at a steady pace up to the time Gibbons shifted into the gubernatorial race.

Surveys by political experts indicated that Herter was substantially stronger than the Fingold camp conceded. The son of the ex-Governor also was benefiting from the belief of many Republicans that he would be the most potent adversary against Governor Furcolo in next November's election.

Herter's biggest problem, as this onlooker sees it, will be to hold his delegates firm against the efforts which will be made to start a stampede to Fingold. If he can do that, he should have a good chance to win, notwithstanding the claims from the Fingold headquarters that the Attorney General already has the endorsement all wrapped up and as good as in his back pocket.

However, certain psychological factors will be operating for Fingold and against Herter at the start of the balloting next Saturday.

Much of Fingold's strength appears to be concentrated in the delegations which will vote early. Herter's true strength will not reflect itself until the middle of the balloting.

That means that Fingold will pile up an impressive lead on the early voting. The Fingold strategists obviously are hopeful that may make an impact upon wavering delegates who want to be riding on the winning bandwagon and who may become jittery as they see the Attorney General get off to a strong start.

On the voting the senatorial districts, of course, are polled alphabetically. Here is what is likely to happen on the basis of checks made by this writer:

Fingold probably will be the top man on nine of the first 10 delegations to be polled.

The first delegation to vote will be that of the Berkshire district. Herter appears to have the edge there.

Then in order will come the three Bristol districts, the Cape-Plymouth districts and the five Essex districts. Fingold appears to be the high man on all nine districts.

As those nine districts are voting, Fingold lieutenants undoubtedly will be working on undecided delegates and delegates pledged to Herter and Gibbons. If they can shift any appreciable number, it would mean a first-ballot triumph for the Attorney General.

Herter, if he can hold his lines, will begin his drive in the Franklin-Hampshire and Hampden districts and will pick up big blocs of votes from the large Middlesex delegations. Unless the Fingold forces succeed in starting a stampede Herter should have the gap pretty well closed by the time the last of the Middlesex votes are reported.

Then the fight will continue on through the Norfolk, Plymouth, Suffolk and Worcester districts. Herter is very strong in the Suffolk delegations and in some of the Norfolk and Worcester groups.

Councillor Herter will be handicapped, however, by the fact that Fingold's strength in the Bristol and Essex delegations will enable him to get off to a lead.

This picture could be changed if Gibbons succeeds in cutting into the votes of either Fingold or Herter, as he may do to some degree.

If the contest for the GOP gubernatorial endorsement goes to a second ballot, Herter probably will become the favorite over Fingold. If it goes more than two ballots, Gibbons' chances will brighten.

A question many persons are asking is why Gibbons shifted so late in the race from the Senate to the gubernatorial contest.

The answer seems to be that Gibbons decided he would have a better chance of winning election to the Governorship than to the Senate.

Some observers jumped to the conclusion that Gibbons' shift might be part of a stop-Fingold movement. There appears to be no basis whatever for any such opinion.

Gibbons probably will hurt Herter more than Fingold since Herter and Gibbons to some extent draw their support from the same groups. The shift by Gibbons obviously was against Herter's interests. It would be ridiculous, therefore, to assume that Herter was responsible for it in any way.

One question which still remains unanswered is whether Gibbons, having entered the gubernatorial contest so late, will run in the September primary if he fails to achieve endorsement at Saturday's convention. Some persons close to him have intimated that he might. That would place an altogether different aspect on the entire Republican picture.

IN HOMETOWN AMERICA

Day for a Hero

Sunday's Father's Day.

That's what the ads have been saying for a month or so. Lots of things are being suggested to cheer the day for Dad. Some of them carry connotations of work—like lawnmowers which run on gas; rubbish barrels with patented handles so you can lift them nicely; do-it-yourself kits which can nip the top of a finger when you least expect it.

Most Dads will probably wind up with a necktie.

Neckties that go to Dads are usually selected by the distaff side of the house. They are something that Dad encounters trouble with in stifling his enthusiasm. The enthusiasm usually centers in the brain process which begins immediately to figure the better ways of losing ties you don't pick out yourself.

Usually such ties get themselves lost in the rear of the bureau drawers. They get action when Dad's choice finally gets down to the last too-badly wrinkled cravat he picks out for himself. They also serve as reminders. Every time he runs across it in the bureau drawer he is reminded that he needs some new ties.

We don't know who is responsible for picking out Father's Days, Paint-Up and Clean-Up Weeks and such things.

Whether it was some bachelor serving as vice-president-in-charge-of-picking-days at some glittering Park Avenue advertising office or some frustrated pater familias trying to get away with some sort of gag is immaterial.

The principal quality of Father's Day is the excellent judgment displayed in the date selection. It's far enough from Christmas to make Dad forget the blitz which left the family bankroll with that well-flattened look. It's likewise far enough away from April 15 to sort of deaden his tax sensibilities while the politicians at the State House and Washington study new but painless methods of separating him from more money.

Besides that, he hasn't yet got around to figuring out what that summer place is really going to cost.

So when June 15 rolls around, bringing with it another Father's Day, Dad can really enjoy the editorials, the proclamations, the poems and the general literature which sort of hint that he's a pretty important guy.

Comes Monday morning, June 16, it's back to the old grind, of course.

One proclamation we read says he is a hero. Another said he's really the backbone of America. It's quite possible all that literature that is being spewed out this week has some basic elements of truth.

When you come to think of it, this would be a sort of an incomplete existence without Dad.

There would be no one to put on the big squawk when Milady happens to bring home a few dents on the left and right, front and back fenders, or when the dog has chewed up a favorite pair of slippers.

He's sort of a handy guy to have around, too, when Junior needs a fast $10 to keep a date with that comely chick down the street.

Besides, who would cut the grass on Saturday? And who would be there to keep the family budget in near-balance as the HCL skyrocketed and the so-called take-home pay looks smaller every week?

Winner of Herter-Fingold Fight Likely to Pick Rest of Ticket

What will happen Saturday in the contests for the other places on the Republican State ticket?

That probably will depend upon the wishes of the man endorsed as the GOP candidate for Governor. He's likely to have a good deal to say in the selection of the slate which will run with him.

If the three contenders for the Republican endorsement for Lieutenant Governor—former GOP State Chairman Elmer C. Nelson, Attorney Joseph A. Noble and Congressman Donald W. Nicholson—were to run strictly on their own, Nelson probably would win.

Nelson, however, is in the unique position of campaigning for himself for Lieutenant Governor and Fingold for Governor. That has created the impression that Nelson will get the nod for the second spot on the GOP ticket if Fingold wins the gubernatorial fight but that he'll be passed over for someone else if Herter or Gibbons captures the nomination for Governor.

Herter and Fingold would each try to get the other to accept a place on the ticket if he gets the gubernatorial endorsement. That undoubtedly is why there is such a scarcity of candidates for Attorney General.

A lively contest for the Republican nomination for State Treasurer undoubtedly will be waged between State Senator John E. Yerxa, who recently moved from the Back Bay to Dedham, Edward J. O'Donoghue of Newton and Francis A. Walsh of Medford.

The candidates for Secretary of State are Mrs. Marion L. Boch of Norwood and Attorney Charles W. Deasy of New Bedford.

It appears that the Republican convention may be forced to draft a candidate for State Auditor and possibly one for U. S. Senator as well if it desires to pit a potent contender against Senator John F. Kennedy.

The likelihood is that both Herter and Fingold have their own private ideas as to the Republican lineup they would like if they head the Republican ticket. What probably will happen is that there will be a lull in the proceedings at Saturday's conclave, after the fight for the gubernatorial nomination is settled, while the winning candidate passes along his ideas as to the running mates he desires on the ticket with him.

Dog Control

Editor,
Newton Graphic

I just drove by a Highlands school and saw seven dogs cavorting near the entrance. The Board of Aldermen maintain that our dog control laws are adequate. All the principal or a teacher needs to do is ascertain the owners of these dogs, perhaps at the risk of personal injury, sit down, write a letter of complaint, take it to a notary for his seal and send it to the Chief of Police. The Chief will assign an officer to investigate the complaints, "including an examination on oath of the complainant." The Chief may then order the dogs restrained.

The owners may restrain their dogs, or one or more of them may petition the Newton District Court for a review, in which case the complainant principal or teacher will be called to appear as a witness. The procedure is very clear, but it has one serious defect. Who would run the schools and educate our children, while the principals and teachers were expending their time and energy in these legal battles?

I am among the many people who feel that the Board of Aldermen made a serious mistake in refusing to take any constructive action in this matter. If they feel that a full control law would be too drastic a change from our present full freedom for dogs, they certainly should have passed an intermediate measure which would hold to alleviate this dangerous and intensely disturbing situation.

Dogs in school areas, particularly dogs running in packs, are the greatest threat and most serious hazard. As the Aldermen were informed, PTA's, the PTA Council and the School Committee have had this problem before them repeatedly, and have never found a workable solution. The PTA Council showed sincere concern for Newton children in petitioning for legislation, but it appears that the Aldermen were influenced by political considerations or personal bias, rather than regard for the public welfare, when they refused to act to improve the situation.

This outright denial of the petition is a sad example of representative city government. Rarely has a local issue aroused so much spontaneous interest and support as this matter has. True, there was opposition to a full time control law, but many of these opponents advocated a compromise or school time law instead. In fact, the attorney who appeared for an opponent at the public hearing was chairman of the PTA Council committee investigated and unanimously recommended

Librarian Is Guest Speaker

Mrs. Virginia Tashjian, Newton librarian, was guest speaker at the last meeting of the Lincoln-Elliott PTA meeting. Her subject was "The Library Contributes to Reading."

The children who participated in the instrumental music lessons given by Mr. George Doren during the year provided a musical program.

Officers for next year were elected, and Mr. James Fagin, outgoing President, introduced Mrs. Ernest King, president; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Norton, vice president; Mrs. Rocco Ruggiero, secretary; Mrs. Michael Volpe, treasurer; Mrs. Eberhard Wahl, program; Mrs. Anthony Patuto, ways and means; Mrs. Maxwell Greenstein, membership; Mrs. Russell Martin, skating; Mrs. Henry Borey and Mrs. Alexander DeNucci, hospitality; Mrs. Ralph Hamill, publicity; Miss Eliza Capuzzo, Halloween; Miss Marie MacAuliffe, teacher representative; and James Fagin, Mrs. Ernest King, and Irving Feldman, delegates to the PTA Council.

ed a school time restraint law one year ago.

Those of us who solicited signatures for the PTA Council petition found that 75 percent to 90 percent of the Newton residents approached on an unselected basis were glad to sign the petition for a full time law. Few people expressed strong opposition.

Do the Aldermen truly believe that all these interested citizens will be appeased by a mere restatement of the dog laws? Considering the indignation which prevails now, it is unlikely that the Aldermanic president's desire "I hope it" (the restraint law petition) won't be heard again next year either" will be fulfilled.

Unfortunately, over 350 persons in Newton will be bitten by dogs this coming year (as history repeats itself), and the Aldermen, other than Alderman Mann, can hardly expect that families of such victims will continue to vote for those who failed to protect them.

Evelyn M. Horovitz,
16 Shuman Circle,
Newton Centre.

Thanks Police Officers

Editor

The Graphic:
I wish to express my deep gratitude to Newton Police Officers Kennedy and Rousseau for their rapid and efficient response to an emergency call at 4:30 a.m. recently.

Within eight minutes the police officers arrived with an oxygen tent thus saving the life of my husband.

Mrs. Herbert Camp,
Newtonville, Mass.

Host of Friends Pay Tribute to Miss McCaulder

More than 250 friends attended the reception for Miss Florence A. McCaulder, retiring Horace Mann school teacher, at the Second Congregational Church, West Newton.

The reception was tendered by the Horace Mann PTA and the Horace Mann faculty. Guests included former students, parents and many others from professional and community groups in which Miss McCaulder has been active during her long residence in this city.

Among those who attended were her sister, Mrs. Robert Morris of Damariscotta, Me.; Mrs. Myrtle Kuehling of Newburyport; Miss Ethel M. Spiller of Wells, Me., a childhood friend; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones and Mrs. Charles Elliott of Biddeford Pool, Me.; Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Chadbourn of Bow Lake, Stratford, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Chadbourn Jr. of Durham, N. H. Mrs. Chadbourn Sr. is a former roommate of Miss McCaulder at the Grahame Normal School in Maine.

Also present were Superintendent and Mrs. Harold B. Gores, Assistant Superintendent and Mrs. Charles O. Richter and Mrs. Genevieve R. Onley of the School Committee.

The receiving line included Mrs. Morris, G. Winthrop Brainerd, former principal of several Newton schools, including Clafin and Horace Mann, and Mrs. Brainerd; Principal and Mrs. Kenneth J. LaFlamme of Horace Mann, Miss Florence Hickey, and the new PTA presidents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Canha.

Robert V. Frost, past PTA president, presented Miss McCaulder with a purse on behalf of PTA members and her many other friends. Mr. Brainerd and Mr. LaFlamme spoke in testimony of her many years of able teaching and the special qualities of imagination, tact and humor which have endeared her to all.

Davis PTA Fair Held at School

The Davis School PTA fair was held at the school yard of the West Newton school. It featured bicycle and doll carriage decoration contests and games, with prizes for all competitors. Mr. and Mrs. John Carder served food and beverages. Mrs. Richard Lowell was general chairman, with Dr. and Mrs. Murray Ginsburg serving as ways and means chairmen.

Other committee members included Mrs. Warren Dutton, Mrs. Richard Roche, Mrs. William Brighton, Mrs. Carroll Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. A. Flynn.

the Chamber of Commerce idea to spotlight interest on the area. A "Clean-Up and Paint-Up" campaign preceded the big bargain event and was commended by Mayor Howard Whitmore. Everybody pitched in to spruce up the "Corner" neighborhood in order that it might present a natty appearance for the big days.

Harold Moyer, of Moyer Chevrolet, chairman of the auto dealers' committee, reports that all local dealers are behind the "Newton Corner Days" idea and will offer top-flight bargains in cars, new and used.

A unique feature of the affair will be a "Free Cokes" program at the Newton Corner Furniture Company, on Washington street, opposite the Paramount Theatre.

An attractive outdoor patio, featuring colorful summer furniture, will be the setting for the refreshing feature. Children must be accompanied by adults to enjoy the treat.

Mrs. Warren B. Manhard served as chairman of the clean-up campaign and reports complete co-operation among all area merchants. Mrs. Manhard's committee included, Dana W. Gleason, Richard Ware, Bey Clair and Max Shrier.

Brooms, brushes, paint pots and all related utensils were pressed into service as the "Corner" businessmen went into action in the spruce-up maneuver. Shoppers taking advantage of "Newton Corner Days" will be enjoying top values in the cleanest business environment possible through the co-operation of men, muscles and tools.

Chairman Burt Miller's committee on the three-day bargain festival includes Alex Castoldi, Miss Phyllis Clark and Edmund Shea.

The Graphic today publishes a special section in co-operation with the three-day shopping event. In it are listed innumerable money-saving items. The section deserves the study of all prospective shoppers concerned with securing the best possible buys for the least amount of money.

Chairman Miller and his committee feel that every effort has been made to make "Newton Corner Days" one of the memorable shopping events in this city.

Local Firm Gets Service Contract

James Farina Corp., of 53 Bridge street, Newton, has been awarded a contract by the USA Corps of Engineers for the construction of an electrical radio chemistry laboratory at Hanscom Field in Bedford.

The Newton firm, according to Gaine's Construction News-letter, daily New England building reporter, submitted a bid of $269,900 for the contract.

Anderson Nichols & Co. of Boston is architect. Technical Constructors Inc., of Dallas was awarded a $185,770 contract for the construction of jet test cell at the field.

Joseph L. Paley of Boston is engineer.

Newton Sailor On Helicopter Detail

Edward J. Drab, aviation machinist's mate first class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. McHugh of 10 Parker avenue, Newton, and husband of the former Miss Mary J. Hardy of Boston, is serving with Helicopter Anti-Submarine Squadron Eight at the Ream Field Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Imperial Beach, Calif.

Local Man Is Commissioned In "Ancients"

I. Jerome O'Connor, 88 Thornton road, Chestnut Hill, was commissioned First Lieutenant of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts at a ceremony on historic Boston Common on June 2. Governor Furolo conferred the commission at the service marking the 320th anniversary of the organization. Placed second-in-command of the company numbering 700 members, Mr. O'Connor will serve as First Lieutenant for one year.

The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, chartered in 1638 by Massachusetts Governor John Winthrop, was formed to protect the young Boston settlement against possible attacks by hostile Indians. It is the third oldest in the world, falling after Italy's Vatican Guards, chartered in the early 15th century, and England's Honourable Artillery Company founded in 1537. The present-day company, while exempt from the general state of national laws relating to the militia or voluntary forces, is dedicated to the preservation and advancement of civil liberty and self government.

Newton Student Graduates Today

James J. Hennessey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Hennessey, Sr., of 171 Highland avenue, Newtonville, will be among the 126 graduates of Cheshire Academy, Cheshire, Conn., who receive their diplomas at commencement exercises to be held today. Mr. Arthur Waugh, provost of the university, will be the commencement speaker.

A member of the traditional Wheeler Club at Cheshire, Hennessey distinguished himself in numerous extra-curricular activities. He was a member of the Class Day committee, the editorial staff of the ACAD-EMY REVIEW, student newspaper, and the Inter-Club Council. He also held membership in the exclusive Key Club.

The local boy aided the Cheshire tennis team to one of the best seasons in the school's history.

Hennessey plans a career in law, and will matriculate at either Pennsylvania or Brown in the fall.

Newton Recreation in the amount of $1 for each adult and 50 cents for each student permit up through high school age.

(4) Enclose self-addressed stamped return envelope.

(5) Your permits will be mailed to you the day following receipt of your application.

The beach and bathhouse will be open daily from 2 p.m. to dusk each day during the first week June 15 to June 20.

Beginning on Saturday, June 21, the beach and bathhouse will be open daily from 9 a.m. to dusk daily, except on Sunday. Sunday swimming will be restricted to the afternoon from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

The following special information is important for those who intend to use the bathing spot:

- (1) No swimming is permitted from the park area on Lake avenue near Berwick road and Laurel street.
- (2) No swimming is permitted off the railroad right-of-way between Centre street and Rogers street.
- (3) Control of swimming off private property is the direct responsibility of the property owner. It is recommended that property owners do not allow swimming off their properties without proper supervision. Long distance swimming is not permitted under any conditions.
- (4) Private property owners should be as severe in their controls and regulations of swimming as the city is at the public beach.
- (5) Rules and regulations governing the use of Crystal Lake will be posted at the bathhouse.
- (6) Each person who purchases a permit should request a copy of the Crystal Lake Bulletin. Read it carefully.

The public swimming area is completely enclosed by a chain of white booms extending from the fence and abutment to the left of the bathhouse to the railroad property on the right of the bathhouse.

This arrangement provides for complete control and supervision by the lifeguard crew. This program is followed because the deep waters at Crystal Lake are known to be treacherous.

Beach and Bathhouse manager this year will be Paul Kin-care; assistant beach managers are Mark Peterson and William Waters; first aid attendant and leader will be Mrs. Frances Kin-care.

The lifeguards will be King Webster, David Wood, Samuel Vangel, Joseph Gleason, David Louis, William Lowry, Harry Hansen, John Walsh, and Bruce MacDonald. Michael Nugent, Francis Rice.

Bathhouse attendants are Karen McGreener, Elaine Hearn, Regina Hearn, Kathleen Sullivan, Thomas Lynch, and Neil J. Cronin.

The Body Wave is a form of permanent waving used on hair that either has a little natural wave or hair that waves easily.

It does not add appreciably to the amount of wave already in the hair, but gives such strength and resiliency to the wave as to make the hair seem naturally wavy and remarkably easy to put up.

It is for hair to which the ordinary permanent wave (however soft) gives too much curl.

Rep. Thresher—

Mrs. Thresher served as a member of the Newton School Committee for nine years before winning election to the Legislature in 1950. She was one of the 40 Massachusetts delegates to the White House Conference on Education.

As a member of the House of Representatives, Mrs. Thresher has served on the legislative committees on education and public welfare.

In 1954 the Speaker of the House appointed her to the important House Ways and Means Committee—the first woman to be elected to a three-year term as first vice-president of the Bradford Junior College Alumnae Association.

The Association, with a membership of more than 5500, is the third oldest alumnae organization in the country. It was founded in 1870.

Mrs. Thresher graduated from Bradford in 1936. She is currently serving as president of the Boston Bradford Club. She was chairman of Bradford's sixth annual Alumnae Council Conference in 1957.

In addition to her regular legislative duties, Mrs. Thresher has been active on recess commissions studying public welfare problems, child guardianship and adoptions, hospital reimbursements for welfare patients, educational television, state teachers colleges, and is at present on one commission studying the problems of the blind and another studying nursing homes.

Mrs. Thresher has filled many speaking engagements in her capacity as vice-chairman of the Republican State Committee and president of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Republican Organizations.

In 1956 she was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in San Francisco. She has been a member of Newton Republican City Committee for more than 25 years.

Thresher is a graduate of Vassar, and last November received an honorary doctor's degree from Emerson College.

Two from Newton Receive Degrees

Two local men were among approximately 750 students receiving degrees at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute's 152nd commencement Friday.

Degree recipients were George L. Rice, son of Mr. Willard W. Rice, 106 Summer street, Newton Centre, bachelor of electrical engineering; and Harvey B. Berman, son of Mr. Matthew M. Berman, 363 Highland street, Newtonville, bachelor of mechanical engineering.

Let's talk about gifts for the "Man of the Hour... Dad"... What will be the most POPular gift of all?

Why something from Atwood's Camera Shop, that he can enjoy with the family, of course. Polaroid Camera... movie projector... carrying case... or just a wonderful supply of films for summer picture taking...

You could even surprise him with the latest film on the market that is making news among picture taking enthusiasts... It is the new Kodacolor film for 35 millimeter... available for the first time... There are ever so many gifts to please a man, at this friendly little shop in Newton Centre...

By the way notice the clever art work on the rear door (by the Municipal Parking lot). The big flash camera has you in focus... so be sure to take a step in the right direction... towards Atwood's.

Allets suggest accessories for the Home Bar to make the King of your Palace happy... See the handsome set of matched bowls for onions, olives and cherries or cocktail shakers, glasses, tongs... comic ash trays and all sorts of novelties he will love.

Shop at Edward's in West Newton and get a bonus for yourself. You know, you should get the habit of shopping at Edward's every weekend, it will pay you handsomely... for each week there is a useful gift given with every purchase of $2.00 or over... and look at the nice things you can get for Father... Belts, socks, wallets, shaving equipment, hankies... and naturally the card to tell him how much you love him. Don't forget they are open Friday evening for convenient shopping.

Have you heard?... that you could tell Dad with a real "He-man" lamp... Not a frilly dainty thing, but something he always wanted for his den, office... or summer home. You know, those gals at the Lamphshade Studio can wire just about anything... I have seen an old civil war musket fashioned into a floor lamp, a carriage light wired for a table lamp... antique coffee grinder, or even an old brown jug... All made into unique and intriguing lamps...

He will think you were very clever to think of it. Something to think about... Am I proud, Am I glad, to have the whole world's finest Dad...

Campus Notes On Newtonians

Three Newton members of the Northeastern University faculty will act as marshals at the university's 57th commencement at Boston Garden Sunday. They will be Richard W. Bishop, West Newton; Wheaton A. Holden, Newton Lower Falls, and Benjamin M. Perles, Newton Centre.

A check for $300 was presented to the Junior Division of the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children by the Jawyn Club of Newton, a group of high school students who raised the cash at a recent dance. The money will be used for expansion of the retarded children's program. Miss Martha Shapiro of Newton served as chairman of the dance committee.

Double honors at Amherst College were won by William G. Segal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Segal, 12 Morton road, Newton Centre, who will be a senior at the college next fall. William was elected president of Alpha Theta Xi Fraternity, and was also elected as one of four members of his class to serve on the Student Council. He has served as a co-chairman of the tutorial system and as business manager of the Amherst College Radio Station, WAMF.

David Jarratt, Newton Highlands, a tenor sang Gounod's "Salut! Demeure chaste et pure," from Faust at the graduation recital of St. Olaf's College, Northfield, Minn. David is a senior at the western college.

Justus P. Allen, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Justus P. Allen of Newtonville, recently was elected to the national history honor society at the College of Liberal Arts at Boston University. An honor student who has been on the Dean's List, Mr. Allen will be a senior in September. He is also president of the History Club and treasurer of the Spanish Club.

Bruce Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Hunt of 123 Annawan road, Waban, received departmental honors in English and the second Galpin Prize for Men at the College of Wooster in Wooster, Ohio. The Galpin Awards are made annually to the two men and two women in the senior class adjudged outstanding personalities from the viewpoint of scholarship, social and religious leadership, athletic ability and such qualities as are judged to make students of high value to the college and later on in service to the world.

Virginia Nichols of 100 Arnold road, Newton Centre, a freshman at Bradford Junior College in Bradford, Mass., was a member of the college glee club which gave a concert as part of the 155th commencement ceremonies. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Nichols, Jr.

Mrs. Etta Isenman of Byfield road, Waban, received the degree of Master of Education at the 48th Commencement exercises of Lesley College in Cambridge on Sunday.

Miss Rochelle Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myer Wolf of 119 Gordon road, Waban, graduated recently from the School of Medical Technology at the Mary Hitchcock Memorial Hospital in Hanover, N. H. She is now eligible to take the national tests to qualify as a registered medical technologist. Miss Wolf is also a graduate of the University of New Hampshire.

Mrs. Sandra Louise Kuten of 130 Washington street, Newton, received the degree of master of social work at the Washington University commencement yesterday. The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Morris H. Adler, she previously attended Cornell University.

Nancy L. Wernick of 28 Chestnut Hill terrace, Chestnut Hill, has been elected to Phi Beta Kappa at Pembroke College. A junior at Pembroke, Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wernick. She graduated from Newton High School in 1955 and was a member of the National Honor Society while there. She also was chosen as an exchange student and studied for a period in Delaware.

Judith A. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Smith of 46 Ashton avenue, Newton Centre, has been named to the chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics honorary society at Drew University in Madison, N. J. Election to the society is based on superior achievement in dramatics and related fields. A graduate of Newton High School, Judith is a sophomore in the College of Liberal Arts at Drew.

Mark B. Peterson of Newton Centre participated in a recent dramatic presentation at Bucknell University, where he is a sophomore. He served on the production staff as technical director of the modern French comedy, "Thieves Carnival," the son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Peterson of 47 Hancock avenue. Mark is enrolled in the arts and sciences program at Bucknell.

Arlene Freeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Freeman of 48 Grant avenue, Newton Centre, has been accepted for admission next September to Cazenovia Junior College in Cazenovia, N. J. Arlene, who is a senior at Newton High School and is expected to graduate next month, will take the general secretarial curriculum at the college.

Mary C. Ayres, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Ayres of 74 Elmhurst road, a sophomore at Jackson College for Women at Tufts University, was elected vice president of her class for the coming year at the recent Junior Day exercises at Jackson. She was class treasurer during her freshman year and this year has served as vice president.

YMCA Installs New Officers

Four new board members and five reelected board members of the Newton YMCA were installed last Thursday night at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the organization.

The installing officer was George O. Jenkins, Jr., a layman of the Brockton YMCA and member of the New England Area Council and National Council of the YMCA.

Approximately 40 members of the board, staff, and their wives, attended the dinner meeting prior to the installation.

New board members installed were: Sidney A. Marston, David W. Skinner, Harold Howe II and John M. Powell. Re-elected board members were Harrison, Elred M. Peterson, Charles E. Smith, and George R. Strandberg. In addition to the above, James G. Lord was installed as Assistant Treasurer of the Association.

The regular monthly meeting of the board followed the affair with reports of the camping programs appearing on the agenda as well as a discussion of the recently renovated senior locker-room. It was brought out that the YMCA can now accommodate twice as many senior members because of the new addition.

Building Inspector Retires in Newton

Stanford M. Acker of 14 Church street, Newton, an inspector in the Newton Building Department, retired on June 1. He is the holder of two medals won while serving in Mexico during World War I, and retired as a disabled veteran after more than 10 years of service.

Born in Nova Scotia, he came to this country in 1908 where he started in the carpentry trade. In 1917 he joined the Army and was sent to Fort Bliss, Texas, and was eventually promoted to sergeant. During an action against Mexican rebels he suffered a bullet wound in the shoulder.

Mr. Acker was appointed a building inspector in Newton in December of 1947, and his duties included inspections of the veterans development in Oak Hill, the new Williams School, and many others.

Wins Unitarian Attendance Pin

Twelve years of regular attendance at Sunday School won special recognition for Nathan Cobb at the Children's Day program last Sunday at the First Unitarian Church in West Newton.

Nathan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cobb of 19 River street.

Awarded ribbons for ten years of satisfactory attendance were Richard and Susan Skinner, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Skinner of 85 Prince street, West Newton.

Nine year winners were Pamela Bachrach and Beverly Townsend, and eight year awards went to Gretchen Bachrach and Eric Fisher.

Close to 200 other boys and girls won recognition for Sunday School attendance of periods from one to seven years.

Award Presented

Another important award went to Charles Snider, captain of the football team, member of National Honor Society, and Orange Shield captain and a home-room manager. He won the Meserve Fund Scholarship, given annually to "the senior boy who best typifies the well-rounded character which Charles D. Meserve, a loved and honored teacher of Newton High School, would recognize were he living."

Alan Howard was the recipient of the William E. Connors Memorial Award, given to the "senior boy who exemplifies outstanding spirit in placing team above self." Alan was a member of the varsity football, basketball, and track teams, and a member of the Orange Shield and the Senior Prom committee.

The Williams Book Prize went to Allan Paulson, who has served as vice-president of the National Honor Society at NHS and as chairman of the American Field Service Committee. In addition, Paulson has been a member of the Orange Shield, the Newtonian literary staff.

Winners of the Senior Improvement Prizes were Susan R. MacCloskey of 124 Allerton road, Newton Highlands, and Edward Cohen, 259 Homer street, Newton Centre.

A musical program by the Newton High School band directed by George V. Doren opened the evening's activities. Carole A. Berberian was trumpet soloist for the "Song of Jupiter," and Joan Lewis, Malcolm E. Bessom and Charles F. Stewart were student directors for other selections.

Bradbury H. Huff, Jr., president and drum major of the band, led the Semper Fidelis march.

Following the invocation by Rabbi Murray I. Rothman of Temple Shalom, senior class president Robert E. Calvert presented the senior class gift.

Selections by the A Capella Choir directed by Miss Geraldine Seaver preceded the principal address by Mr. Allen. He was introduced by Dr. Harold B. Gores.

Allen reminded his audience that every law which "enacts into workable form the principles of the bill of rights was written and placed on the statute books by men and women in the field which perfectionists deride as 'dirty politics'."

He declared that the "government will rule you without your consent unless you exercise the right of the citizen in a democracy to rule government."

After the presentation of 769 diplomas, including nine earned under the U. S. Armed Forces Institute and Service Training Courses, the following awards were announced:

Lieutenant Stafford Leighton Brown Memorial: John David Craig, Darrell Peter Gilson, Peter Paul Goldstein, Robert Michael Kantar, John Charles McCloskey, Charles Edward Nahabedian and Roger Lawrence Tucker.

Father of Four To Graduate at Northeastern U.

Ernest W. Conyer, 5 Brae Burn road, Auburndale, father of four children, two of them twin girls, will be graduated from Lincoln Institute, a subdivision of Northeastern University, at commencement exercises of the university in Boston Garden, Sunday.

He is a naval veteran and has been studying evenings at Northeastern, while working days at a Cambridge plant where his job involved steam engineering.

At Lincoln Institute, he has earned an associate degree in mechanical engineering. Originally from Cleveland, he is a Mason and a member of the Engineers' Blue Room Club. He graduated from Gardner High School in 1940.

On hand when he will accept his associate degree will be Mrs. Conyer and their children, Pamela, 11, Donna and Dianne, 9, and Bradford, 3.

10 Newton Boys Commissioned at Boston College

Ten Newton boys were recipients of military commissions during the Boston College commencement week exercises this week. The young Newton officers received commissions in the U. S. Army Reserve or in the U. S. Marine Corps in ceremonies conducted on the lawn of the Baptist Library at University Heights.

Commissioned in the Army Reserve were Joseph C. Clancy, West Newton; Robert J. Curran, Newtonville; Paul S. Grip, Newtonville; Richard G. Hartigan, Jr., Newton; James F. Higgins, Newton Centre; Leonard F. Murphy, Newtonville.

Awarded commissions in the U.S.M.C. were Frederick J. Jones, Newton Centre; Thomas E. Mahony, West Newton; David S. Ojerholm, Newton Centre, and James F. Sherry, Jr., Newtonville.

Final Program of H.S. Music Club

The Newton High Symphony Orchestra, a jazz trip, the school dance band and soloists featured a program of jazz, serious works and original compositions at the Newton High Music Club's final meeting in the school music hall.

President John Kattwinkel opened the meeting and reports were received from secretary Joan Lewis and Treasurer Carol Bean. Faculty Adviser Henry Lasker announced the $225 Music Club Scholarship had been awarded to Malcolm E. Bessom.

GRADUATE—Miss Charlotte D. Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Ellis, 98 Homer street, Newton Centre, was graduated from Bates College last Sunday. She was a Dean's List student, worked for WVBC, was a speech major, and member of the Future Teachers of America, Robinson Players, Chapel Choir and Choral Society.

Measles Cases High as Other Diseases Drop

Measles indicated no willingness to leave Newton during the month of May. A total of 143 cases were listed by Dr. Harry T. Phillips, director of Public Health, last month, as compared with a case-load of 82 in May, 1957.

While measles incidence remained high, however, there was a general decline in other reportable diseases in comparison with May, 1957. Even two fewer dog bites were listed—44 last month compared with 46 in May, 1957.

Figures on other diseases released by Dr. Phillips were as follows:

Chicken Pox	38	117
German Measles	44	230
Mumps	29	87
Scarlet Fever	12	35
Pulmonary
Tuberculosis	1	1
Whooping Cough	0	4
Malignancy	3	0

Big Turnout for Junior Olympics Seems Assured

Applications closed Tuesday for the first AAU Junior Olympics to be held in this area, and if the number received and the enthusiasm with which they were filled is any criterion the big track and field meet scheduled for Saturday afternoon will be an unqualified success.

The meet is co-sponsored by the Newton and Waltham Junior Chambers of Commerce. The program will get under way at 1 p.m. at Dickinson Stadium.

The contestants will be divided in two groups—the 12-13-year-olds and the 14-15-year age brackets.

Events for the younger group will include: 50-yard dash, 75-yard dash, standing broad jump, running broad jump, running high jump and softball throw.

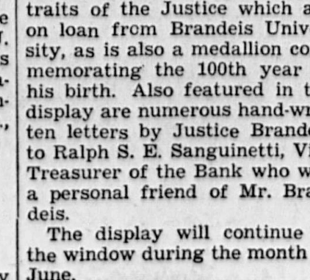

Events for the older bracket will include: 100-yard dash, 200-yard dash, 400-yard run, running broad jump, running high jump, 8-pound shotput and 440-yard relay.

Newton Savings Bank Honors Louis Brandeis

The late Justice Louis D. Brandeis is being honored by the Life Insurance Department of the Newton Savings Bank during the month of June when the 50th Anniversary of the founding of Savings Bank Life Insurance is being celebrated.

Savings Bank Life Insurance was the result of a study of life insurance needs and practices which was made by the late eminent Massachusetts jurist whose sound thinking and foresight brought him to the pinnacle in many walks of life. The window was prepared by John Langdon of the Department and has as its main focal points portraits of the Justice which are on loan from Brandeis University, as is also a medallion commemorating the 100th year of his birth. Also featured in the display are numerous handwritten letters by Justice Brandeis to Ralph S. E. Sanguinetti, Vice Treasurer of the Bank who was a personal friend of Mr. Brandeis.

The display will continue in the window during the month of June.

Close To 300 Participate In Five PTA Conference Panels

More than 280 people from Newton and surrounding communities attended the seventh annual conference of the Newton Council of PTAs on June 4 at the Warren Junior High School in West Newton.

Climaxing the dinner which opened the conference, Paul Scarborough, principal of the Warren Junior High School since it was built in 1927, received a "commencement" gift from the PTA and best wishes on his retirement after fifty years of teaching.

Dr. Harold Gores, superintendent of schools, spoke in tribute to Mr. Scarborough as did Allen Tepper, Warren president, who made the presentation.

The evening of workshop discussions ended with reports by recorders from each group, introduced by Mrs. L. Tillman McDaniel, conference chairman.

Charles Brown, recorder for the workshop on "The Academically Talented Child" which was moderated by Dr. Gores, outlined techniques in use at Newton High School which were discussed by Miss Margaret Otto from the Division of Instruction and Richard Batchelder from the high school faculty.

Miss Roberta Kellogg reported on advantages offered in the Fall River system for the superior child. She is on the staff of Brown University School of Education and is a consultant for several school systems.

Marshfield H.S. Defeats Sacred Heart in Tourney

Marshfield High School scored five unanswered runs—its total for the day—to eliminate Sacred Heart High School of Newton from the Class C Eastern Mass Tourney at the Wayland High School field. Final tally against the local entry was 5-4.

Pitcher Bob Nangle for the local entry showed enough stuff to win any ordinary ball game but his teammates' errors of omission and commission opened the gate for the South Shore League Champs to walk off with the decision.

The winning run was scored in the 7th when a fumbled ground ball enabled John Hubbard of Marshfield to cross the plate with a run which broke a 4-4 tie.

St. Charles High of Waltham which had tied Sacred Heart for the Catholic Suburban League championship was also ousted from the Class C tourney in the same afternoon on the same field when it yielded 7 runs in the 4th inning to Southboro High. The final score was 11-4.

David B. Sachar Gets Outstanding Harvard Award

David B. Sachar of 66 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville, a member of the 1960 class at Harvard and a graduate of Newton High School, is one of 48 undergraduates at Harvard who have won a John Harvard Scholarship.

The scholarships were established in 1896 for members of the senior, junior and sophomore classes who "... shall be deemed worthy of very high academic distinction..." In order to qualify for the honor a student must maintain a group I (7 A's and 1 B) rating for the entire academic year.

Beverlee Guild Gets Silver Key

Miss Beverlee Guild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Guild, 10 Hinckley road, Waban, was awarded the silver key for high honors at the Fisher Junior College commencement exercises in Boston, last Saturday.

She was one of ten young women in the graduating class of 100 students receiving an Associate in Science Degree who has maintained a high honor record during her entire college year.

Miss Guild majored in the legal secretarial program at Fisher Junior College and was a graduate of Newton High School, class of 1956.

Pack 18 Enjoys Annual Cookout

The annual picnic and cookout of Pack 18, Norumbega Council, sponsored by the First Baptist church, was held at the Auburndale playground, for cub scouts and their families.

Under the leadership of Cubmaster Charles T. deMoulin, the scouts enjoyed a baseball and kick-ball game and other sports.

Another panelist was Reinier Beeuwkes, senior at Newton High School and winner of the Westinghouse Scholarship this year, who spoke from the viewpoint of the academically talented student.

A discussion of how mathematics is taught in the elementary schools was led by Raymond F. Cook, principal of the Emerson and Hamilton schools. Miss Catherine E. Harney, Miss Marion R. Turner, all teachers at Emerson, explained the progression of teaching from kindergarten through the sixth grade and answered questions from the audience. Mrs. Ella Mae Gay, consultant, served as recorder.

Under the direction of Dr. Charles O. Richter, a panel reviewed the recent Teacher Utilization Study and answered questions. Panelists were Mrs. Richard Mintz, Mrs. Lawrence Onclay, and Robert Segal. Edward V. Hickey Jr. was moderator. All had worked on the committee which made the survey. It was pointed out that several recommendations made by the survey are being carried out.

Copies of a junior high school guidance survey were completed just in time for the use at a workshop led by Mrs. William Krebs, Jr. chairman of the committee making a continuing study of the guidance program in the Newton schools.

Members of her committee were panelists: Mrs. Louis S. Chase, Mrs. Bernard Ross, Mrs. George Rubin, and Mrs. Milton Schneider, while Dr. Joel W. Bloom acted as recorder. He pointed out that it had taken thirty people almost two years to write a 48-page report which he must summarize in five minutes. He made it clear that guidance means different things in each of the five junior high schools but that basically it is an attempt to meet special needs of individual students which are not met through the normal, everyday instructional procedures or through the administrative channels of the school system.

As recorder for the group which discussed "Why PTA?" Mrs. Herbert W. Rubin pointed out the value of such surveys as those covered by two other workshops in indicating public opinion to the school committee and administration. PTA serves to keep the schools in touch with the community by involving a large number of parents in the activities of their own schools. Melvin J. Dangel was workshop leader and panelists were Mrs. Roger S. Hamilton, Irving J. Helman, Edward C. Uehlein, and Frank Zervas.

Warren students who acted as guides were Peter Sahlin, Sally Ann Young, Sue Draslin, Helen Greenberg, Judy Gores, Debby Isaacs, Margaret Uehlein, Sally Day, Roberta Keller, Debby Kinsella, Nancy Cate. Other Warren students, pupils of Mrs. Daveda Movitz, provided posters and an art exhibit. Warren PTA mothers assisted with registration. Dr. Paul Deats, outgoing president of the PTA, said grace.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

City Hall

June 2, 1958

Justin T. Horan, Exec. Director,
Newton Chamber of Commerce,
1171 Washington Street,
Newton, Mass.

Dear Mr. Horan:

I was very happy to receive the letter sent to all Chamber retailers in the Newton Corner and Nonantum area and to learn of the drive for "Clean-Up Week" June 1. Needless to say I am glad to see this effort being made to clean up and paint Newton Corner area and I congratulate those who have had the initiative, desire and willingness to work on such a project, which I know will be beneficial not only to them but to the City. I only wish that all sections of the City would move in and do likewise, inasmuch as it would improve the appearance of the City generally, — and frankly, we simply do not have the money or manpower; nor are we able to go onto private property to do this clean-up job which reflects in the value of individual properties, as well as properties in all parts of the City.

Again, many thanks and congratulations to the Chamber as well as to the local group for assisting in this project. I assure you that we shall cooperate in every way we possibly can.

Sincerely yours,
HOWARD WHITMORE, JR.
Mayor

Scholastic Honors For Four Newton Boys at Harvard

Three Newton Centre boys and one from Waban have been awarded Harvard College scholarships at the university. Winners are Jonathan L. Alperin, 980 Commonwealth avenue, Robert W. Levine, 1085 Centre street, and Jeffrey D. Nason, 25 Dolphin road, Newton Centre, and William A. Cahill, 11 Kewadin road, Waban.

Alperin, '59, Levine, '59, and Nason, '60, are graduates of Newton High School. Cahill graduated from Glenville High School at Dartmouth, Mass.

They were among 280 undergraduates at Harvard to receive the honorary scholarships. The scholarships are awarded to upperclassmen "who have shown marked excellence in the work of the preceding year... and who do not receive scholarships with stipends."

In order to qualify for the honor, a student must maintain a Group I (5 A's and 3 B's) rating for the entire academic year.

Lasell Confers Degrees Upon 15 Local Girls

Degrees were conferred upon 15 young women from the Newtons at the 103rd annual commencement of Lasell Junior College. Speaker at the ceremonies was Dr. Edmund J. Gleazer, Jr., executive director of the American Association of Junior Colleges, who addressed a graduating class of 256, third largest in Lasell's history.

The degree winners included: Ann Avery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boris Avery, 58 Rangeley road, West Newton; Judith A. Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Campbell, 172 Washington street, Newton; Nancy Cincotti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Cincotti, 9 Elsworth road, West Newton; Sally M. Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Clarke, Jr., 23 Crehore road, Chestnut Hill; Elizabeth Crowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Crowe, 106 Lexington street, Auburn-dale.

Also, Grava Goodale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Goodale, 85 Ridge road, Waban; Marian Hume, daughter of Mrs. Theodore C. Hume, 16 Fountain street, West Newton; Jean Hyde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan J. Hyde, 1169 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton; Isabel Kaplan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kaplan, 82 Balcay road, Newton; and Myrna Gail Leshefsky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Leshefsky, 69 Longfellow road, Newton.

Others graduating were: Mary Nan McAuliffe, daughter of Mrs. Joseph A. McAuliffe, 21 Turner street, Newtonville; Portia Pantages, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christos Pantages, 240 Winslow road, Waban; Joan Seufert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Seufert, 193 Winchester street, Newton Highlands; Janice Shuman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shuman, 59 Moreland avenue, Newton Centre; and Margery Weinbaum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Weinbaum, 27 Chapin road, Newton Centre.

Rawson Brands Workman Comp. Hike as Harmful

Representative George E. Rawson of Newton branded as "very bad" a bill which won preliminary approval of the House of Representatives last week, providing for the increase of from $35 to $45 a week, benefits available under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

"All five Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee dissented from the bill," said Rawson. "Representative Frank S. Giles of Methuen, Republican floor leader, moved that the bill be rejected, but his motion lost on a standing vote of 34-56 and efforts to get a roll call failed."

"The rates for Workmen's Compensation insurance in Massachusetts are the highest in the country because that form of insurance has become a political football. Hence the General Court has been constantly tinkering with it. The insurance companies are forced to raise the rates every time the legislation is passed broadening the provisions of the law. All they can do is to pass the cost along to the employers, who pay the freight," Rawson asserted.

"It then becomes one more part of the unfavorable climate for industry existing here. Added to our high corporation tax-exceeded only by those of Georgia and Oregon, and our high unemployment tax, it makes a burdensome package for business and industry to carry and offers little inducement to new business to locate here," Rawson declared.

First Charter
Hartford — The first business corporation to sell life insurance in the U. S. was granted its charter in 1794.

SALLY N. WILSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wilson, 22 Southwick road, Waban, who received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Connecticut College this week.

Newton Girl Scout News

An open meeting of the Senior Planning Board of the Newton Council of Girl Scouts was held recently, with 22 adults, 24 senior scouts and 23 8th grade scouts in attendance.

Mrs. Henry C. Kneppenberg reported on the regional, national, and international opportunities for Girl Scouts in the coming year. Mrs. Robert Pettit discussed the Senior Scout program in Newton. These talks were followed by discussion fields.

The New Planning Board of scouts for the year 1958-59 were installed. They were Carole Berberian, president; Betty Anderson, vice-president; Barbara Williams, secretary; Joan Meyer, treasurer.

Memorial Neighborhood Girl Scouts held a World's Fair at the Memorial School Gym last week. France, Italy, Hawaii, Switzerland, Japan and the United States were represented by song, dance and refreshments appropriate to each nation. Troop 97, Mrs. Morris Lazar, leader; Troop 149, Mrs. Jacob Lasoff; Troop 177, leader, Mrs. Myron Segal; Troop 147, leader, Mrs. George Barbour; Troop 185, leader, Mrs. Harry Sudman; and the Brownie troop participated, with Mrs. Hershey Bernstein as coordinator.

Recently, 105 Girl Scouts from Countryside Neighborhood went on a hike and box lunch at Cedar Hill. They were led by Mrs. Frank Cottler, Chairman; Mrs. Gerald J. Hines, in charge of activities, assisted by Mrs. Edward Hausman and Mrs. Hyam Yamins. Troops represented were: Brownies, leaders, Mrs. William N. Papian, and Mrs. Edward M. Berly; Troop 195, leaders, Mrs. Sidney Glazier, and Mrs. H. H. Silver; Troop 196, leaders, Mrs. Al Gold, and Mrs. J. S. Lewis; Troop 119, leaders, Mrs. David Lieb and Mrs. H. Yamins; Troop 192, leaders, Mrs. H. F. S. Morris, Mrs. George Nelson, and Mrs. Donald S. Bishop. After lunch, games and songs alternated and the merry day culminated in a gigantic marshmallow roast.

This hike was so successful that the Girl Scouts and Leaders closed their year with a Father-Daughter Night at Cold Springs Playground on June 4th. Mrs. Gerald J. Hine made the arrangements for a box supper and entertainment, enjoyed by about 250 Scouts and Fathers.

All the Brownies and Girl Scouts of Clafin Neighborhood and their parents ended the 1957-58 season with a picnic supper and cook-out at the Auburndale Playground last Saturday. Following the supper at a campfire ceremony, Troop 194 (leader, Mrs. Abraham Aronson) received 2nd class badges; and Troop 167 (leader, Mrs. John Evans) received proficiency badges. Brownies of the Clafin Neighborhood held separate Fly-Up and Court of Awards ceremonies.

Happenings in the Newtons

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lawrence of 78 Mendeth circle, Newton, vacationed at the Half Moon, Montego Bay, B.W.I., resort hotel and cottage colony.

The third annual Straw Hat luncheon of the Dr. Joshua Loth Liebman Chapter, B'nai B'rith of Newton, featured an unusual "Sonnets and Bonnets" program featuring E. Sheeley Garfinkle this week.

Duncan Edwards, 83 Fairmount avenue, Newton, was elected a vice president of the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accounts.

A barbecue-luncheon featured the board and regular meeting of the Newton Ladies Auxiliary, J.W.V., at the home of Mrs. Hy Hurwitz, 328 Waverly avenue, Newton Centre, this week. Mrs. Benjamin Kaplan presided.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile paid a visit to Newton Highlands Wednesday taking up its station at the Newton Congregational Church on Lincoln street.

Local residents are prominent in plans for the Alumnae week-end at Simmons College on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Sydney J. Allman, Newton Centre is chairman of the 25th reunion class, Mrs. David Norzel.

Scholarship of State PTA Group For Betty Burke

Betty A. Burke of 9 Maple street, Newton, is one of the 43 recipients of the Webster-Fliske Teacher Training Scholarships awarded by the Massachusetts Congress of Parents and Teachers, Inc., among a field of 182 applicants.

Funds for the scholarship are raised through voluntary contributions of local Parent-Teacher units and councils in the State.

Candidates agree to teach in Massachusetts schools for one year after graduation.

SPORTS GOODS, GARDEN TOOLS, PORCH FURNITURE ARE WANTED NOW. TRY A D

Gals Urged to Keep Their Men Alive; Supply Is Low

More males than females are born each year in the United States.

Just why, then, are there more women than men later on in life? Why the female superiority—numerically, that is—when it comes time to find a husband?

"One reason," the National Safety Council says, "is because males 15-24 years of age—the age when they're either thinking of getting married someday or counting the days till the big event—are being killed in accidents almost five times as fast as females."

The Council isn't necessarily trying to promote matches between the sexes. It is concerned, though, with keeping people alive.

A recent estimate put the U. S. population at about 84,858,000 males and 86,371,000 females—about one and a half million more gals than guys.

"Men have always died at a faster rate than women, perhaps largely because of the more hazardous tasks they undertake and their chance-taking nature," the Council said.

"But men, especially those in the 15-24 age group, are dying far, far too rapidly."

Statistics for a recent year turned up these facts on the 15-24 age group:

1. Accidents of all types take the lives of nearly five males for every female.
2. More than eight out of 10 persons killed in motor vehicle mishaps are males.
3. Almost seven out of eight persons killed in nonmotor vehicle accidents are males.

Survey Shows Off-the-Job Accidents Are Mounting

Industry learned in 1957 that, indeed, there's no place like home—if you want an accident!

That fact came out in a survey by the National Safety Council of the off-the-job accident experience of 78 companies.

The companies surveyed, representing a cross section of U. S. industry, were of two categories—75 companies employing a total of 155,000 persons, and three with about 132,000 employees.

The companies—including some from Canada and the U. S. territories—are engaged in activities ranging from manufacturing heavy machinery to operating paper mills. Even stonemasonry operations are included in the Council survey.

The survey showed these facts:

1. Working for the three big companies was 12 times as safe in 1957 as being at home or in public places.
2. Injuries to workers employed by the 75 smaller companies occurred nearly five times more often off the job than on.
3. Old-fashioned slips and falls nosed out modern traffic as the No. 1 hazard to employees of the 78 companies. They injured 1,982 workers off the job in 1957, as compared with 1,967 persons injured in off-the-job auto or truck accidents.
4. Traffic was, however, the chief off-the-job death-dealer. It took more than eight times as many lives as did falls and slips.
5. The 75 smaller companies reported that each off-the-job injury kept employees away from work an average of 18 days.

"All this," said Harry C. Johnson, staff representative of the National Safety Council's Off-the-Job Safety Committee, "emphasizes the need for greater effort to prevent accidents outside the factory."

"A worker injured away from work is just as absent from his job as one who has been hurt while working."

Carnegie Tech Graduate Gets His Commission

Edwin H. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eliot F. Rogers, of 29 North street, Newtonville, received his degree in engineering and science at Commencement Exercises held at Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, on Tuesday.

He is a graduate of Newton High School, Class of 1954. At Carnegie Tech, he was active in the Chemistry and Math Clubs, National Honor Society, and was the recipient of one of the Westinghouse Scholarships in Carnegie.

He is a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, was elected to honoraries in journalism, PiDE, Phi Kappa Phi, a scholastic honor in all fields of study, and Tau Beta Pi, of engineering and science. He also was editor of the school paper, The Tartan.

Mr. Rogers also completed the Reserve Officers Training Corps program at Carnegie Tech and received his second lieutenant's commission at the Tuesday services. He is commissioned in the Ordnance Corps, U. S. Army.

During the summer, he will go to the Mediterranean with the Oceanographic Institution Research for two months. He will return to Carnegie Tech for graduate study on a grant from the institution.

Blinstrub Heads Group in United Palsy Campaign

Stanley W. Blinstrub, 34 Beacon street, Newton, will head the hotels and restaurants solicitation in the 1958 campaign of the United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Boston. Dr. S. Justus McKinley has announced. Mr. Blinstrub is president of Blinstrub's Village in South Boston.

In accepting the chairmanship, Mr. Blinstrub noted that to make the cerebral palsied employable, self-sufficient and psychologically independent, surgeons are needed to correct muscle and bone deformities that arise because nerve-muscle messages are scrambled and impede control. Also, the program of service and rehabilitation must be expanded in scope to provide for the more than 10,000 stricken annually. "Your contributions to the 53-Minute March on Cerebral Palsy will make this teamwork possible," he said.

Mulhern In Congress Bid

Attorney Joseph J. Mulhern, Jr. of Jamaica Plain this week launched his campaign for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 10th congressional district.

A former Assistant District Attorney of Suffolk County, Mulhern is the son of former State Senator Joseph J. Mulhern who has been active for years in Democratic affairs.

An alumnus of the Boston Latin School, Boston University and Boston College Law School, Mulhern has been practicing law for more than 10 years and worked four and a half years as an Assistant District Attorney.

"The trend in the 10th Congressional district has been steadily Democratic and will continue to be so, especially in an election year of predictable victories, locally and nationally for the party of the people," Mulhern asserted.

"I have announced my candidacy for the honor of serving my fellow citizens of the 10th district in the national Congress because I believe they have not received adequate representation under the present Republican incumbent," Mulhern declared.

Dorothy P. Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kelley, 4 Nonantum street, Newton, was graduated at the commencement exercises of the Pierce Secretarial School at exercises held at the Sheraton Plaza, Boston. Miss Ora Murray, daughter of Mrs. George J. Murray, 18 Hollis street, Newton, completed the first of her two-year course at the school this month.

Three Ceremonies Close Local Camp Fire Season

Newton Camp Fire Girls bring their year's activities to a close with Grand Council Fires in three different sections of the city this week. At this ceremony Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls and Horizon Clubbers receive awards for achievement and are promoted to the next rank. This year in Newton Mrs. E. J. Dunn and Sonya Loeb, both of Newton Centre, will receive the award of Torch Bearer in social leadership. This is one of the highest awards given in Camp Fire Girls.

The first Council Fire was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Erich Lindemann of Newton Centre. Mrs. Milton Levy, Mrs. Richard Gould and Mrs. Raymond Smith assisted the chairman and conductor of the program, Mrs. Benjamin Loeb. The candles of work, health and love were lit by Catherine Finnegan, Stephanie Krumm and Therese Woodie, and were extinguished by Ann Chambers, Andrea Leser and Jo Smith. Music was provided by Judy Gilbert and Mimi Kay on flute, Jane McGrath on clarinet and Joan McGrath on drums. The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Peter Coogan, is made up by the two groups of Mrs. Norman Crew and Mrs. Arthur McGrath.

Charlotte Robinson presented a flower to the following five-year award winners: Claire Beck, Janet Bernstein, Louise Case, Anne LeCompte, Leslie Robinson and Dierdre Smith. Each girl was welcomed to her new rank by special guest, Frank Chambers of Newton Centre. The following girls received their certificates of rank: torch bearers, leader Mrs. E. J. Dunn and Judy Gilbert, Mimi Kay, Lisa Loeb, Leslie Robinson and Diane Weiner; fire makers, leader Mrs. E. J. The second Council Fire will take place tonight, June 12, under the chairmanship of Mrs. David Krongard, at the home of Mrs. M. Moskow of Oak Hill. Mrs. Harold Hurst will conduct the program. The chorus will be made up by the two Camp Fire groups of Miss Isabel Onate and Mrs. Kenneth Lee. Lighting the candles of work, health and love will be Linda Kutnick, Susan Cicciariello, and Carol Ransom. Extinguishing the candles are Marcia Bloomberg, Karen Fortini and Debby Weiss.

Presenting the awards for the evening will be David Krongard of Oak Hill. Five-year award winners in the Oak Hill area are Carol Bernstein, Ronna Flaschner, Jeanne Ham and Marcia Hurst. The following girls will receive their certificates of rank, fire makers, leader Mrs. Harold Hurst and Carol Bernstein, Sue Bouthillier, Jeanne Ham and Marcia Hurst; trail seekers, leader Mrs. Harold Hurst and Peggy McPhee, Susan Okun; wood gatherers, Mrs. Richard Dunham leader and Judith Anderson, Catherine Babers, Christine Dunham, Karen Eckler, Minna Mayberry, Joanne McKee, Judith Pratt, Kathleen Sampson, and Judith Walsh; wood gatherers, leader

Crystal Lake Rules Issued

Here are the regulations which will govern the operation of the public beach at Crystal Lake this summer. Recreation Commissioner C. Evan Johnson warns that each and every one will be rigidly enforced. Their purpose is to insure the safety and enjoyment of all.

1. Bathing is restricted to permit holders. Season permits are issued to RESIDENTS ONLY.

2. All bathers must enter through the main bath-house entrance.

3. Bathing is restricted to areas under direct guard supervision and for the periods scheduled.

4. Bathers may swim only in the area that they are qualified by test to use.

5. Persons entering the water area should have a "Buddy" swimming partner, or choose one as soon as possible.

6. Bathers who need help in case of injury or illness should call immediately for the nearest guard.

7. Guards are your safeguards. For your own safety, please obey their directions and requests at all times.

8. Toddlers and Pre-School children require constant supervision by parents who must be constantly alert as to what the children are doing while in the water.

9. Bathing time is limited. Please do not plan to swim more than once a day.

10. Bathers may not loiter or lounge about the beach area. Beach chairs, umbrellas, robes, and blankets may not be used.

11. Clothing should be neatly placed in your check basket. Your permit will be presented to the attendant with your basket.

12. Baskets must be returned to the checking counter after use so that you may reclaim your permit.

13. No dogs are allowed on or about the premises.

14. Our beach area is small. It cannot be used as a picnic area. No refreshments may be brought to the premises.

15. The Recreation Department will take reasonable precaution to safeguard your property but assumes no responsibility for lost articles. Valuables should not be left in lockers or in clothing. It is safer to leave them at home. Valuables may be checked with the attendant.

16. Bicycles are to be parked in the area on the right hand side of the bath-house. They should be equipped with a proper locking device.

Newton Faculty Members at MIT Win Promotions

Massachusetts Institute of Technology this week announced promotions for two Newton residents, members of the Institute faculty.

Dr. Ithiel D. Pool, associate professor of political science, a specialist on public opinion and propaganda techniques, has been named to a full professorship. Dr. Rolf P. Scharenberg has been promoted from instructor to assistant professor in the Department of Physics. The promotions will be effective July 1.

Dr. Pool is now at the Center for Advanced Study in Behavioral Sciences in California, on leave from M.I.T. He holds B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees from University of Chicago, and has served on the faculties of Hobart and William Smith Colleges and the Hoover Institute at Sanford, Cal.

Woburn Man Is Candidate For Treasurer

Mayor William G. Shaughnessy of Woburn will be a candidate for the nomination for State Treasurer at the Democratic State Convention to be held at Mechanics Building on Friday and Saturday of next week.

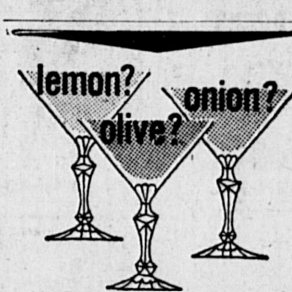

Treasurer John F. Kennedy is shunning the Democratic convention, will not allow his name to be placed in nomination and plans to carry his case directly to the voters in the September primary.

Shaughnessy, who has stepped into the race for State Treasurer, has been advertising manager and comptroller of the Woburn Daily Times for the past 12 years and is now serving his second term as Mayor of Woburn.

In a statement sent to the delegates who will vote at the Democratic conclave, Mayor Shaughnessy said:

"I have been urged by many of my friends in the Massachusetts Mayor's Association, by local and state government officials, to seek the office of State Treasurer.

"I would like to announce at

Newton Students Will Spend More Time In Class In Fall

A longer school day at the junior high and high school levels of the Newton public schools will go into effect in the fall as a result of action taken Monday night by the Newton School Committee.

Adopted to give greater flexibility to the daily schedule and allow time for special programs for both gifted youngsters and slower students, the program will add about 118 classroom minutes a week to the pupils' programs.

At Day Junior High and at Meadowbrook, classes will run from 8:50 a.m. to 3 p.m. and at Weeks, the bell will ring at 9 a.m. and school will close at 3 p.m. Junior high hours now are from 9 a.m. to 2:15 p.m.

At Newton High School, the new schedule calls for classes to begin at 8:25 a.m. and end at 2:45 p.m. This adds another classroom period giving students a six-period day.

The changes were made in an effort to enable the students to have more opportunity for choice of subject matter, and will make it possible for exceptional pupils to take more courses.

Ralph H. Morse, principal of Day, Donald K. Davidson, principal of Weeks, and Miss Bettina King, principal of Meadowbrook, interpreted the new system to members of the School Committee and described the results it is expected to obtain.

Problems Confront Fingold After Convention Triumph

Attorney General George Fingold, after emerging as the gubernatorial choice of the Republican pre-primary convention, is now confronted with the prospect of a rugged fight for nomination in the September primary and the problem of healing some badly bruised feelings within the GOP.

Executive Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., took his defeat in the battle for the Republican nomination for the Governorship with good grace and somewhat reluctantly accepted the endorsement for Attorney General.

His reluctance stemmed from the fact that he was not particularly interested in seeking election as Attorney General, and he would have preferred to step back and stand for a second term in the Governor's Council.

But top Republican leaders persuaded Herter that he could promote GOP harmony and unity by accepting the endorsement for Attorney General, and he finally consented to do so.

Herter is not the type to sulk in his tent or sit on his hands, even though he was bitterly disappointed both by his defeat and by the margin by which Fingold prevailed in the struggle to run as the Republican candidate for Governor. Herter is now one of Fingold's allies, not one of his problems.

Fingold's biggest headache is that he will have to battle former Speaker Charles Gibbons of Stoneham in the gubernatorial primary next September — if Gibbons holds to the intention he announced tersely and almost grimly in the nominating speech he made for himself at last Saturday's convention.

Republican leaders, anxious to avert a damaging and costly primary fight within their party, undoubtedly will endeavor to dissuade Gibbons from doing what he told the GOP delegates he is going to do.

Whether they can succeed in that attempt is something only time will disclose. Gibbons was pretty grimly determined when he walked out of the Worcester convention hall. He was unequivocal in his assertion that he will oppose Fingold in September.

Five Children Bitten by Dogs

Five Newton children have been bitten by dogs during the past few days. They were Craig Sweet, 9, of 15 Shaw st., nipped on the nose; Margery Helms, 7, of 18 Warwick rd., bitten on the thigh; Stephen Fine, 7, of 17 Morton rd., bitten on the forehead; Stephen Savalasky, 15, of 22 Oakwood rd., bitten on the leg; and Irving Sherer of 38 Indian Ridge rd., bitten on the finger.

Severe Sentence For $500 Newton Market Holdup

Ivan W. Brown, 28, of Hudson, was given 10 to 15 years in State prison for Newton and Somerville holdups in addition to terms of 15 to 20 years imposed upon him for crimes in Suffolk county.

The sentences in the Newton and Somerville cases were imposed in Middlesex Superior Court in East Cambridge by Judge Frank J. Donahue.

Brown received two concurrent sentences to be served on and after a sentence imposed in Suffolk County for a $500 robbery at the Hollis Loan Co., Boston.

In Cambridge Brown was charged with the armed holdup of Peter Di Pasquale, 299 Watertown street, Nonantum on March 19, and with an attempted holdup of a Somerville store.

Police charged that Brown entered DiPasquale's market, robbed the owner of $500 and drove away in a taxi ordered by an accomplice. In Watertown square, the pair paid for the taxi and then disappeared.

Inspector Joseph B. Lyons helped in the presentation of the court case against Brown.

$400,000 Flood Control Project Is Now Underway

The $400,000 project which authorities believe will make impossible any repetition of the flood which struck the low-lying area of Waban following the visit of Hurricane Diane in 1955 is now under way.

The project calls for the installation of about two-thirds of a mile of 84-inch pipe from Walnut and Homer streets, Newton Centre, to Cold Spring, Waban. It is believed the installation will cancel out any threat to homes in Mary Ellen road, Evelyn road, Paulson road, and the immediate neighborhood.

The State will assume half the cost of the project. The firm of Richard White and Sons of West Newton, have been awarded the contract by the State Department of Public Works.

Hammond Brook and Cold Spring Brook, which now meet on Homer street opposite City Hall, will be partly piped underground. Hammond Pond Brook will be piped under Homer street in a 400-foot culvert while Cold Spring Brook will be channeled under Homer street at the end of a new 3200-foot culvert.

The present open brook created by the junction of the two brooks will be filled and graded. Both new culverts will empty into the City Hall ponds, then into Bulbough's Pond.

The subsequent leveling of the area will permit the enlargement of the parking area now reserved for City Hall workers opposite City Hall. Screen planting is planned to shield the Edison Co. transformer at the site.

Centre Man Held In Federal Court

Howard A. Dunbar, 26, 26 Willow street, Newton Centre, arrested in his used car lot in Milford, was held in $5000 bail by U. S. Commissioner Peter J. Nelligan at a hearing in the Federal Building, Boston.

He was charged with complicity in the alleged operations of a stolen car ring.

Assisted U. S. Attorney Norman A. Hubley told the commissioner that Dunbar is wanted in Newark, N. J., on a charge of transporting a stolen car across State lines.

Local Republicans Play Leading Roles At Parley

By Phyllis B. Newton

A majority of Newton's 33 delegates to the Republican state convention in Worcester last Saturday supported fellow Newtonite Christian A. Herter, Jr., in his unsuccessful bid for the gubernatorial nomination.

The count on the first — and only — ballot for governor was 22 of the Newton GOP leaders for Herter, 10 for Fingold, and one for Gibbons.

The majority of the delegates backed Elmer Nelson in the three-way fight for the Lt. Governor nomination, with Nelson winning 25 of the 33 Newton votes, Joseph Nobile, 3, and Donald Nicholson, 0.

Newton Republican sentiment was somewhat divided on the question of whom to select to run for Secretary of State. Charles W. Deasy won 11 of the Newton votes, but Marion C. Boeh of Norwood captured 17 votes from Newtonites and won the overwhelming endorsement of the convention before the end of the first ballot.

Neighborliness apparently meant very little to the Newton delegates when it came to choosing between State Senator John E. Yerxa and West Newton resident Edward J. O'Donoghue, B. U. guidance counselor, for the post of State Treasurer. Twenty-two gave the nod to Yerxa, while 3 favored O'Donoghue, and 1 voted for Francis A. Walsh.

Prominent Springfield Republican Thomas Adams was nominated for auditor by acclamation, eliminating the necessity of a ballot. Edmund Burke withdrew his candidacy for Attorney-General to allow Christian Herter Jr. to accept a place on the ticket, and the Newton delegation appeared to unanimously approve his selection for that nomination by the convention.

Zoning Board to Hear 6 'Hardship' Petitions June 24

Requests for "hardship" variances contained in petitions before the Zoning Board of Appeals will be taken up at hearings to be conducted by the board at City Hall, at 7:45 p. m. next Tuesday.

Four petitions seek permission to construct new homes; one is for a new porch, and a sixth for a garage addition.

Francis B. Giordano, 51 Westland avenue, West Newton, seeks a setback line waiver from 25 feet to 15 feet for a garage addition; John A. Chambers, seeks to subdivide the lot at 1126 Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls for 100 by 48-foot dwelling lot.

David J. and Mary E. Vahey ask a set-back waiver from 15 feet to 10.5 feet for new porch at 16 Alba circle, Newton. Joseph Leone seeks waiver of a rear lot line setback from 15 feet to eight feet six inches, for construction of a house at the rear of 210 Adams street.

Ethel Ham of 343 Crafts street, Newtonville, asks permission to subdivide a 21,992-foot lot to permit the sale of 11,992 feet for a new dwelling. Ralph L. Fox asks approval to subdivide a lot at 76 Prairie avenue, Auburndale, for a new dwelling on 7785 square feet, leaving 10,400 square feet for an existing house.

Worker Injured In Fall at Centre Construction Job

Edward Murphy, 44, 176 Pine Grove avenue, Newton Lower Falls, suffered extensive injuries when he fell 15 feet while working at the funeral home under construction at 862 Walnut street, Newton Centre.

At Newton-Wellesley Hospital he was found to have suffered injuries to the head, ribs and back.

Murphy was working on the peak of the 2½ story structure when he lost his balance and fell to the first floor when he reached for a plank.

Patrolmen Peter J. Anness and Mario Marino brought him to the hospital in the police ambulance. He is employed by the Eastern Erection Co., Malden.

Six Local Young Women Are Graduated At Regis

Six Newton young women were among the 131 seniors who were graduated at colorful exercises comprising the 28th commencement at Regis College recently. Plans for a Tower Gardens ceremony were cancelled due to inclement weather.

Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing, archbishop of Boston, officiated at the awarding of degrees. Rev. Neil J. Mccluskey, S. J., associate editor of "America," gave the formal address.

Newton recipients of degrees included, Brenda Ann Coogan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Coogan, 24 Freeman street, Auburndale; Barbara Ann Caruso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Caruso, 11 Crown street, Auburndale; Mary Lee Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Sullivan, 19 Village road, Newtonville; Nancy E. Finnin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Caruso, 11 Crown

School Committee Will Study Junior College Accreditation

President Walter Taylor of the Newton Junior College has been requested by the School Committee to make up a list of specific steps required to enable the Junior College to meet the standards of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

He will also seek to obtain cost estimates for the committee so that it may consider action in the future.

A visiting committee from the N.E. A. of C. and S. C., refused to accredit the local junior college, mainly because it felt the library was not adequate. The visiting committee, however, did say, that it would "do all that it can to encourage this fine institution."

Although N.J.C. graduates have been able to enter Radcliffe and Brandeis with credit for two years work at Newton, national professional organizations are sometimes unwilling to accept the N.J.C. diploma because it is not on the accredited list.

Besides its belief that the N.J.C. library was inadequate the visiting committee also

Richard Jarrell New Head of Beethoven School PTA

Richard F. Jarrell of 173 Allen Avenue, Waban, was elected president of the Beethoven School P.T.A. at its recent annual meeting. Mr. Jarrell was vice-president and program chairman before his election to the P.T.A. presidency. He and Mrs. Jarrell also served as chairmen of the first Halloween party held in the Beethoven School. Mr. Jarrell, a physicist, is president of the Jarrell-Ash Company of Newtonville, manufacturers of scientific and optical instruments.

Elected to serve with Mrs. Jarrell were Alvin Caplan as first vice-president, Mrs. Percy Nelson as recording secretary, Mrs. Morton Gendelman as corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Louis Morrison as treasurer.

In his summary of the past year's activities, Dr. Thomas Brower, outgoing president, reported that the Beethoven School P.T.A. had contributed funds to enlarge the book collection of the new school library, purchased a bass drum and authorized purchase of an orchestra, provided colored slides which were used to depict school activities, sponsored a concert by Young People's Audiences, and subsidized a play by the Wheelock Players and trips for various class groups.

The many projects undertaken by the P.T.A. during the past school year were carried on under the direction of the following chairman:

Program, Mr. Jarrell; Ways and Means, Mrs. Alvin Ludwig; Bulletin, Mrs. John Schulman; Publicity, Dr. John Schulman; Harvest Dance, Mrs. S. Deaser; Halloween Party, Alvin Caplan; Beethoven Fair, Lester Geist; Room Mothers, Mr. Elvin Semrad; Activities, Mrs. Louis Winer; Scholarship Fund, Lester Geist; Skating, Mrs. Maurice Leeper and Mrs. Frank Popper; Nominating Committee, Mrs. Bernard Swartz. Elected officers who served under Dr. Brower were Mr. Jarrell, Vice-President; Mrs. Nelson, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Gendelman, Cor-

Summer Vacation Begins Today

The long-awaited summer vacation begins at noon today for thousands of Newton school children who complete the school year after morning classes.

Parties, programs and special celebrations of all kinds made the week memorable for youngsters of grade school age, while secondary school students put in just as unforgettable a week cramming for exams and preparing their parents for final marks.

Now the city's small fry and adolescents have a free rein for the hot months, with many of them departing soon for beach or camp to build up renewed vigor for next fall's return to classes.

At GOP Parley-

The Newton group divided evenly on the question of selecting a candidate to run against Senator John Kennedy. It was late in the day, and many of the delegates had left the hall, but the bulk of the Newtonites remained to cast 11 votes for John S. Ames Jr., state GOP finance chairman, and 11 votes for Vincent Celeste, East Boston attorney who served as secretary to Gov. Herter during his administration.

Undoubtedly the colorful oratory and determination of young Celeste, who was able to make a weary crowd sit up and listen to him, swung several of the Newton votes his way and helped him to win nomination by a large margin.

Alderman Carleton P. Merrill, chairman of the Republican City Committee in Newton, efficiently handled the polling of the Middlesex and Suffolk delegations and announced the results to the convention chairman, Senator Leverett Saltonstall.

It was a big day for Norman Moore of Auburndale, administrative aide to Atty. General George F. Ingold, who had worked long and hard for many months to win nomination for Fingold and saw his prediction of victory on the first ballot borne out.

Other prominent Newton Republicans attending the convention were Wilfred Chagnon, Alexander Beal, Senator Donald Gibbs, Rep. John Whittemore, and Rep. Irene K. Thresher who was seated on the platform in her role as vice-chairman of the state committee.

Metropolitan District Commissioner David Mintz, a Newton delegate, offered the motion for the election of Senator Leverett Saltonstall as the convention's permanent chairman. It was unanimously adopted. Mrs. Thresher was a member of the committee which escorted Saltonstall, a former Newton alderman, to the platform.

Adelaide B. Ball, president of the Women's Republican Club in Newton and a former alderman, was a member of the rules committee which officially adopted the "third man rule" excluding from all subsequent ballots any candidate except the top two on the first ballot.

Of interest to Newtonites was the four-way fight for the treasurer's nomination, one of the closest contests of the day. Carleton Merrill nominated one of the contenders, Francis A. Walsh, Medford real estate auctioneer.

Although Yerxa won the nomination on the first ballot after several delegations were given an opportunity to change their totals, E. J. O'Donoghue of 159 Prince street, West Newton, garnered close to 400 votes before the tide began to turn.

Several aldermen among the Newton delegates were Paul Rich, William Ripley, John McCarthy, Hardy Prentice, William Robinson, Melvin Dangel and Carleton Merrill. Another delegate was Henry Keyes, former chairman of the Newton School Committee.

an has been obtained and work has been started toward eliminating obsolete texts.

While N.J.C. needs about $5000 worth of new books it has the services of the Newtonville library, located directly across the street. President Taylor feels that the regulations which require that a junior college library be under sole jurisdiction of the college in order to attain accreditation is too severe and he has sought to obtain the cooperation of the State Department of Education in changing this statute.

Mr. Taylor also objects to a State accreditation regulation which limits the teacher's full-time teaching load to 18 semester hours in one institution, or if he works at more than one to an amount not "deemed excessive."

The visiting committee also expressed belief that the junior college was too closely connected with the high school. President Taylor pointed out that high school principal, Harold Howe, has the title of assistant director of the junior college. Mr. Howe could be given an advisory post to meet this criticism. The number of teachers employed in both the junior college and the high school is being kept to a minimum, Mr. Taylor said.

N.J.C. can make a new application for accreditation in March, 1959. In the meantime, it is expected the School Committee will explore ways and means to overcome present objections.

New Principal, Officers For Carroll School

The board of trustees of the Carroll School of West Newton this week announced the appointment of Mrs. Roscoe E. Brown as principal, and Roscoe E. Brown as treasurer of the school, effective July 1, 1958. Mr. and Mrs. Brown reside at the school on Prince street, West Newton and Mrs. Brown has taught at the school for fourteen years. The Browns replace Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Sears, Jr., Newton treasurer and principal since 1952, whose resignation becomes effective July 1st.

Elected chairman of the board of trustees at the annual meeting was Frederick E. Sears, Jr. The chairmanship of the board was formerly held by Miss Mary S. Barbour, West Newton, who was with the Carroll School as teacher and principal for fifty-two years. Miss Barbour was named honorary chairman. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were also elected trustees, and Mrs. Joseph R. Scott, Auburndale, clerk of the board. Re-elected to the board of trustees were the following: Loomis Patrick, Waban; F. Gorham Brigham, Jr., West Newton; Harry Healer, Dover; Mrs. Mary S. Barbour; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore L. Clapp, West Newton, and Mrs. Frederick E. Sears, Jr.

Re-elected members of the corporation were Miss Valeria Knapp, headmistress of Winsor School, Mrs. Harry Healer, Mrs. Joseph R. Scott, Dr. and Mrs. Theodore L. Clark, Newtonville; Mr. and Mrs. Courtney F. Bird, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kretschmar, West Newton; Carl J. Marold, Newton Highlands. New members of the corporation are: Paul deNapoli, Chestnut Hill, current president of the Carroll School P.T.A., and Dr. and Mrs. Stefan P. Kraus of Wellesley Hills.

The Carroll School was established in 1884 and has classes from the nursery through the second grade inclusive.

Newton Women Post, A.L. Elects Rachel Laughton

Mrs. Rachel Laughton of Natick was elected commander of the Newton Women's Post, American Legion. Other officers chosen for the coming year at a meeting presided over by outgoing commander Alice McLennan were:

Mrs. Virginia MacCorkle, Natick, senior vice commander; Miss Helen Keefe, West Newton, junior vice commander; Mrs. Barbara Dobb, South Boston, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Jayne Driscoll, Natick, chaplain; Mrs. Mabel McVean, Newton Highlands, historian; Miss Genevieve Sharkey, Watertown, Mrs. Jeanette Govoni, Natick, Miss Betty Lynch, Waltham, members of the executive board. Mrs. Keefe, Mrs. Driscoll and Mrs. McVean are past commanders.

Hal Cohen of Newton High School, it was announced at the meeting would be sponsored by the post at Boys State in Amherst, June 20-28.

Headlights And Highlights From Newton High School

By JUDY ARNOLD

HIGHLIGHTS . . . During the early spring, all Latin students at Newton High participated in a national Latin examination. The results were received last week and Carol Isenberg, with a score of 115 out of a possible 120, ranked highest in Newton High. She received a medal as a remembrance of this outstanding scholarship. Several other pupils received diplomas for scores of 90 and above.

After a difficult week of final exams, the sophomores and juniors were finally out of school as of last Tuesday. That day was spent getting marks put on the report cards.

On Friday, June 7, Barry Wish, Larry Yeo, and Judy Arnold, as representatives of the Civics Committee, junior class, and legislature, respectively, went with Mr. Rogers to Millis High School, in Millis, Mass. The students of Millis High are interested in organizing a school student government and were interested in hearing about how another school's student council operates. The visitors spoke at an all-school assembly and then ate lunch in Millis.

COLLEGE-WISE . . . Many students in addition to those mentioned last week, are making all types of plans for their first year at college. Ricky Adams will be going to Wesleyan; Claudia Aarons and Helene Getter to Wheaton; Bonnie Pearlstein to near-by Brandeis; Danny Arnet and Elaine Remley to Middlebury; Martha Schwartzman to Boston University; and Roger Tucker to Kenyon College. Walking around the campus at Ohio Wesleyan, Marion Young and Helga Mueller will be seen; at Northwestern, Bob Calvert; at Columbia in New York, Lewis Bolan; and John Brockman and Peter Isenberg at Babson. Living in other New England states for the next few years will be Penny Doswell, Patty Howard, and Judy Jordan at Westbrook Jr. College in Maine; Al Howard at Bowdoin; Stan Hamilton at Bates; Judy Foster at Bridgeport University in Connecticut; and Louis St. Amant at the University of Connecticut; Ruth Evans at the Rhode Island School of Design; Barbara Hallkman at Bennington in Vermont; Judy LeBaron, Marjorie Munrow, and Marilyn Cox, at the University of Maine; Phyllis Marder, Lynn Spencer, and Bruce Swerling, at Colby, also in Maine; Ann Sutherland at Vermont Junior College; again in Vermont, Janice Eavzan at Green Mountain College; and Brian Murphy at Providence College. Right around home will be Ronnie Berg and Dick Power at Northeastern; Frank Manguso at Harvard; Don Smith at Tufts; Arleen Wilson at Lesley; Elaine Shapiro and Lorraine Sakovitz at Chandler's; Lois Guptill, Carole Keoeoy, Arlene Blasky and Ellie Norton at Framingham State Teachers' College; Maureen Driscoll, Barbara Wheeler, and Janice Munro at Katherine Gibbs. Out toward the western part of the country Thomas Turner will be wandering around at Mark Eastman at the University of Chicago; John Deming and Barbara Boyle at Marietta in Ohio; Lois Bass and Peter Myerson at the University of Michigan. In New York, Judy Gladstone and Phyllis Andler will be at Syracuse University;

Robert Litzerman at the University of Rochester; and Charlie Snider at Cornell. Remaining right in Massachusetts will be Barbara Dubins, Pat Gravelle and Carol Schuman at Simmons; Harold Metcalf, Dushan Mitrovich, Julian Prince, George Hurley, Peter Goldstern, John McCloskey, and Earle Lane at M.I.T.; Marjorie Gilmartin at Gordon; Brenda Mann and Blanche Feeley at Bridgewater State Teachers' College. Attending some of the feminine Ivy League Schools will be Pat Gordon at Radcliffe; Seta Der Hohannesian at Smith; and Pam Hoyt at Mount Holyoke. Down south a-way will be Pat Hills at the University of Virginia; David Stafford at Bucknell University; Beverly Henrich at the Centenary College for Women in Virginia; and Judy Stein at American University in Washington, D. C.

Next year will find Charles Peck, Steve Shusterman, and Shirley Fishman at the University of Massachusetts; Brenda Marvotte at Springfield; Priscilla Newall at Beaver; Jane Koch at Garland Junior College; Marsha Wittenberg at Barnard; Phil Currier at Union; Rebecca Kane at the New England School of Art; Charlie Vento at the University of Rhode Island; Judy Schenk at Chatham; Ina Klamberg at Cedar Crest; Jim Bachman at Georgetown; Joel Adelson at Western Reserve; Gloria Mason and Jim Miller at the Carnegie Institute of Medical Technology; Diane Marquis at Westfield; and Paul Gleason and Kenny Rower at Haverford College in Pennsylvania.

Although a Legislature Committee has been working diligently all year long to present a new constitution to the body, there was not enough time at the end of the year to pass the new constitution as the one to lead Newton High School's student government next year. The chairmen of next year's legislature boards are quickly being appointed by Larry Yeo, as there will be a great deal of work to be done. The Civics Board is in charge of Orange Shield, the cafeteria, school grounds, general behavior of students, elections, and other student activities. The Finance Board works with the treasurer in handling all receipts and expenditures made by any clubs or organizations in the school. The Drama and Music Boards have similar responsibilities; they both are concerned with selecting and approving the dramatic and musical productions presented at Newton High each year. The Social Board sees that the social room, room 324, is kept in usable condition for all students who wish to relax before and after school and for meetings of various sorts. The Publications Board, although its duties are performed within a very short space of time, has a job of long consequence; they choose the editors of the yearbook and the Orange book. These selections are made after careful discussions.

This will be Newton High's first year to send two students abroad under the American Field Service. Thanks to the hard work and willing money-giving of the students at the high school Jane Glibern will be going to Turkey along with Jerry Rogell who will be visiting in Germany.

This past year, the first educational television to be tried by schools in the Greater Boston area was used in the elementary grades with a sixth grade science program. Next year, several different courses, under the direction of Mr. Rinker will be viewed by eleventh grade English pupils. The courses will include a twelve-lesson, three-weeks pilot course in the humanities. Several other series will be shown to the elementary school. The twelve-lesson course will include Clifton Fadiman on Our Town and contemporary drama; Professor Maynard Mack of Yale University on Hamlet and the Elizabethan Era; and Professor Bernard Knox on Oedipus Rex and the Greek drama. The courses are expected to start next September. It might replace the regular English program for some students. Literature and composition will be the backbone for the course and the humanities will be included at various times. The students will view a televised lesson for four days a week throughout the school year.

An IBM machine has been ordered for Newton High School next fall. The machines will be used to allay the many tedious marking, filing, and sorting jobs of teachers and secretaries. The keypunch and sorter are expected to arrive this summer.

At the Massachusetts State Science Fair Competition, recently held at M.I.T., in which all the state's high schools entered their science fair winners, Edward Cohen, a Newton High senior, was awarded second prize. Edward's prize-winning project was a testing device for determining the curve of a concave by relative radii of curvature measurement. Arthur Fremault, a boy who

Vacations and Discipline

School's out. Vacation time is here.

For the very young it's a time of fun, unlimited — or at least, a time of search for fun from the first rays of sun until exhaustion at night brings sleep.

For older brothers and sisters it may be a time for odd jobs without the demands of home work and the straitening influence of "classes tomorrow."

It's a time of the year when youth really has its fling and discipline isn't measured by school gongs and "marks" that have to be taken home on a card.

We treat our children pretty good in this country. We talk a lot about education—more so now, probably than ever before. We are currently engaged in a nationwide discussion of how to step up our education; to better it; to make it a more embracing.

We've also decided to do something about catching up with the Russians in the field of science. That's the same Russia which was turning out millions of poorly-educated or even illiterate only a few decades back.

The present Russia doesn't give its school children the entire summer off. The Kremlin would be shocked at the idea.

We like the American way, though. We think that in the long run we won't have to worry about any superiority in the Russian education system. We think, too, that the traditional American vacation from school will help to develop better young men and women, too.

However, "School's Out" isn't something which will cause those responsible for the public safety to know any cause for wild rejoicing.

For the police officials know from bitter experience that before the coming weeks have run their course; before the school bells start ringing again; a lot of tragedies are going to be written in the books of their station houses.

There will be names of children who lost their lives on our streets. There'll be children who'll dart across highways in pursuit of an elusive ball — forgetting that automobile coming down the street.

There'll be drownings at this swimming place and that beach.

There'll be accidents which never or rarely occur in the other months of the year when the four walls of the schoolhouse hold much of the time of our children.

The police and schools do a pretty good job in inculcating the rules of traffic safety into their charges during the school year. But being what it is youth has a way of forgetting those lessons and that training when it's summer time and the hours are carefree.

In many ways parents are obliged to take over some of the duties which the schools carry on at other times during the year.

It's hard to say "No" on a hot summer day when a couple of boys want to go to that unsupervised swimming spot. It's hard to rebuke the child who darts across the street and makes the other side even without looking right or left.

Yet, many of the tragedies which the police will be writing into their journals this summer will be traceable to the fact that forgetting parents forgot that attention to the rules of safety is more imperative during the summer than during the school months.

Many of the tragedies which will be listed across the nation could be avoided in the weeks ahead if that rein of discipline is properly maintained by parents.

Black Leather Coats

A clergyman in one of the Berkshire communities has banned Elvis Presley haircuts, black leather coats and levis from parish-sponsored dances.

It isn't that the clergyman has anything against the young man presently doing his bit with Uncle Sam's forces—minus the duck-tail haircut, the black leather coat and the levis. The good clergyman probably never saw Elvis in action.

We applaud his decision nevertheless.

It isn't likely that Elvis will be able to command anything like $1 million dollars a year after he serves his two-year stint in the army—unless he acquires some talent.

You can get into an argument right now with a segment of the entertainment world about whether or not he had any talent before he went away.

The fact remains that he did have some influence with the present generation of teenagers. To some extent it wasn't a good influence either.

The black leather coats and the levis became a sort of trade mark of these "mixed-up" young delinquents who adopted young Mr. Presley's attire and haircut.

Of course, they were a small percentage of our younger population. But they got more attention than their more serious brothers and sisters—those who were winning awards at science fairs or showing an aptitude for this or that branch of healthy athletic endeavor.

There's a big question among parents today as to the wisdom and the sacrifice of the current operation of the draft law.

Whether it's good or bad we aren't prepared to argue at the moment.

It did result in one good for the nation. That came when they marched Presley away to learn the gentle art of the close order drill—sans levis, black leather coat and strange-looking haircut.

Political Highlights

That is just one of the problems Fingold has to ponder as he savors the victory he gained last Saturday and charts his course for the coming weeks. Some prominent Republicans came away from the convention tight-lipped in silence but obviously stunned and abashed by what had happened to them.

The biggest mystery of the conclave surrounded the case of John S. Ames, Jr., of North Easton, who for the past year has been the top fund-raiser of the Republican party.

When Gibbons announced his withdrawal from the Senate race and his shift into the gubernatorial contest, a group of top GOP figures waited upon Ames and asked him if he would help the Republican cause by running for the U.S. Senate.

Ames was under no illusions as to his chances of unseating Senator John F. Kennedy. But to help the GOP ticket he consented to take the nomination to run against Kennedy and to enter a contest which he and everybody else realized would end in defeat — probably crushing defeat.

Such highly respected Republicans as ex-Mayor Hjalmar Peterson of Brockton and Vernon Hitchins of Dedham, former president of the Republican Club of Massachusetts, were contacted and asked to make the nomination and seconding speeches for Ames. The requests were made to Peterson, Hitchins and the others by GOP leaders, not by Ames.

Amid the accepted fanfare, Ames' name was placed in nomination and the speeches made for him. Political reporters covering the convention felt a little sorry for Vincent Celeste of East Boston as he made a fiery plea for the right to run against Kennedy. They understood the word was being passed up and down the delegations to vote for Ames.

What was really happening, it developed, was that agents for powerful Republican leaders were spreading instructions to vote for Celeste.

While Ames sat on the platform, stunned and shocked and the men who had made his nominating speeches looked at each other in open-mouthed astonishment, he suffered a crushing, humiliating defeat in a fight he never wanted to enter.

It may be that Ames is a good enough political soldier to go on enthusiastically raising money for the Republican party and to shrug off what happened to him at Worcester last Saturday. He's made of stern mettle if that proves to be the case.

While the Republican ticket endorsed at last week's conclave isn't the strongest slate the GOP ever has put together, neither is it the weakest. It has fairly good geographical and racial balance and it contains some colorful and attractive personalities.

The most rugged and two-fisted campaigner on the ticket is Elmer C. Nelson of Mendon. He's a hard-hitting speaker, and when he makes an attack upon the opposition he takes off the gloves and does it in bare-knuckle fashion.

However, what this writer couldn't help wondering, as he sat listening while the votes for Nelson piled up to the point where his two adversaries conceded and called off the contest, is what the reaction was of the persons who had been prominent in Sumner G. Whittier's campaign two years ago.

Only a short time before the 1956 Republican convention was to be held, Whittier achieved the ouster of Nelson from the chairmanship of the GOP State convention.

That was a move which generated considerable bitterness, and it undoubtedly impaired Whittier's election chances. Now Nelson, who was given the heave-ho from the post as chairman of the State Committee a little more than two years ago, is the Republican nominee for Lieutenant Governor.

It's another illustration that anything can happen in politics.

Battle for Attorney General To Feature Dem. Convention

Present indications are that the Democratic convention to be held this weekend at Mechanics Building will be much quieter than the Democratic conclaves in 1956 and 1954.

The most important development at the coming assembly will be the endorsement of a candidate for Attorney General to run against Christian A. Herter, Jr., in the November election.

Boston City Councillor Edward J. McCormack, Jr., looms as the probable winner of that contest over Executive Councillor Endicott (Chub) Peabody of Cambridge and ex-Representative Joseph D. Ward of Fitchburg.

If the three contenders do what they say they are going to, the convention will not settle too much in that fight, because McCormack, Peabody and Ward all have asserted they will run in the September primary, irrespective of what happens at the convention.

As a result, Democratic State Committee Chairman John M. Lynch has suggested that the convention battle for the endorsement for Attorney General be limited to three ballots and that it be referred to the Democratic voters in September if it isn't settled then.

McCormack appears to be leading, and he may have the necessary support to win the contest on the first ballot. It is rather surprising that the Democrats don't follow the Republican procedure and adopt a rule providing that the low man be eliminated in any cases where a ballot does not give any candidate a majority of the votes.

What was shaping up as a bitter struggle between Democratic State Senate Leader John E. Powers and Speaker John F. Thompson for the right to serve as the chairman of the Democratic conclave has been resolved, halting a fight that might well have split the party into two warring factions.

A lively tussle will be staged for the Democratic endorsement for State Treasurer, but the man who wins it will have the somewhat dubious privilege of opposing Treasurer John F. Kennedy in the September primary.

Kennedy, who was spurned by the 1956 conclave, is boycotting the proceedings to be held Friday and Saturday.

The leading contenders for the convention endorsement and the right to contest with Kennedy in the September primary appear to be Boston School Committee Chairman George F. Hurley of West Roxbury and Mayor William Shaughnessy of Woburn. The other candidates in that field are Selectman Michael J. Ward of Framingham and Selectman Myron D. Donoghue of Saugus.

Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin, who is being challenged by Representative William K. Keenan of Dorchester, is in ill health. There is some doubt whether he will be physically able to conduct a campaign, but the delegates nevertheless are expected to give him their endorsement.

Governor Furcolo is certain to be renominated. Whether he will have opposition is still uncertain, however, as this is written. Both Lieutenant Governor Robert F. Murphy and State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley will be renominated by acclamation. It is possible that the same thing may happen to Furcolo.

READY, WILLING AND ABLE!

Living With Your Heart

By MARILYN DAVIS

MHA Homemaking Consultant
("Living With Your Heart" is a weekly public service of the Massachusetts Heart Association. This is the first of four articles designed to show Massachusetts homemakers—cardiac or otherwise—how to lighten the burdens of housework.)

Does homemaking tire you out? Would you like to have more time for rest or other things you want to do?

There are easier ways to do your work. The less energy you use for housework, the easier it's going to be for your heart, so we will think first about where your energy goes. This is true whether you are well or sick.

Do you know what you do when awake that takes the least amount of energy? Yes, of course—lying still. And it requires 8 per cent less energy to sit down to work than to stand, so why not sit down whenever it is possible? Sitting to work is a skill that you can acquire. However, your chair must be comfortable and it must be the right height.

Walking moderately uses about seven times as much energy as standing still. When you walk downstairs, you increase the energy use again. Needless to say, the trip upstairs consumes the greatest amount of energy, in fact 1300 times as much as you use lying still.

There are many ways to cut down on the use of energy. One of the best ways to make work interesting is to do it efficiently. Drudgery often comes from wasting energy.

Take time out to examine your usual methods. Good work habits can help greatly in simplifying tasks.

To save energy in your home tasks, spread out the jobs. Make yourself a simple chart—first put in the "must be done"—then add the "should be done if time is available." Now you can take a good look to see if you can eliminate, shift, or shorten some of the routine homemaking tasks to ease your schedule. Perhaps someone else in the family can take over some of the "chores."

Named low Bidder On Sewer Project

T. D. Sullivan and Sons, 114 Dedham street, Newton, has been declared low bidder by the Newton purchasing agent for the construction of sanitary sewers at Hazelhurst avenue, High street and Columbia street, Newton.

The local firm according to Gaine's Construction Newsletter, daily New England building reporter, submitted a bid of $14,583.50.

Zoning Bd. Turns Down Lot Division

The Newton Zoning Board turned down a proposal for the construction of four new dwellings on Harding street, West Newton, on the grounds that the buildings would result in a "crowding" situation.

David Zyssman of 122 Christine street, Newton Highlands, had brought the petition in behalf of the Albermarle Construction Co., which wished to subdivide the 20,400-foot lot on Harding street and Ivanhoe avenue, into two lots of 4800 square feet each and two lots of 5040 square feet each.

The board in turning down the petition said the construction proposed would result in "overcrowding of the immediate area," resulting in a detriment to the public.

"The installment collector has a hard time keeping up with the Joneses, too!"

Campus Notes On Newtonites

At the Smith College commencement Sunday, June 8, three Newton girls received their degrees. They were Miss Pauline F. Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Harris, 31 Homewood road, Waban; Miss Rosalie Horne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Horne, 814 Chestnut street, Waban, and Miss Betty Shirley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Shirley, 67 Annawan road, Waban.

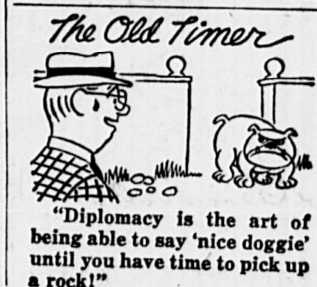

For outstanding work in the field of economics, Joel Corman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Corman of 412 Fuller street, West Newton, was awarded the Sidney S. Cohen Prize Award at Brandeis University. He is a member of the graduating class and served as student manager of both the football and basketball teams.

Eileen Marie McDewitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. McDewitt of 12 Albion place, Newton Centre, received her Bachelor of Science degree from Framingham State Teachers College at commencement exercises held recently. She will assume a position in the Woburn school system following her graduation.

Jean Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Perkins of 998 Kirkstall road, Newtonville, was one of the graduates at the Memorial Day commencement exercises of Sarah Lawrence College at Bronxville, N. Y.

Mary Fell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Fell, 29 Prairie avenue, Auburndale, was elected secretary of the Social Club at Emmanuel College. She is also a member of the Sodality and the Glee Club at Emmanuel.

Five Newton women took part on committees for the 25th reunion of the class of '33 at Radcliffe, on Friday and Saturday, recently. They are Mrs. Edward Knezek, 20 Peach Tree lane, Newton Centre; Mrs. Carlisle Levine, 1821 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale; Miss Helen Finnerty, 25 Braemore road, Newton; Mrs. P. Kervin Goldman, 112 Gordon road, Waban; and Miss Pearl Steinmetz, 823 Chestnut street, Waban. The program includes a "family supper" at Radcliffe Graduate Centre and a clambake at Castle Hill, Ipswich.

"Diplomacy is the art of being able to say 'nice doggie' until you have time to pick up a rock!"

Active in the deliberations of the New England Dental Advisory Commission at a one-day session at Hotel Statler, was Dr. George J. Fink of 178 Grant avenue, Newton Centre, past president of the Massachusetts Dental Society. The commission is considering proposals and recommendations concerning the future dental needs of New England under sponsorship of the New England Board of Higher Education.

Hail Workers for Multiple Sclerosis at Sidney Hill

The Woman's Division of the Massachusetts Multiple Sclerosis Society held its annual Achievement luncheon at the Sidney Hill Country Club.

Co-chairman of the event was Mrs. Saul Rubin, of Albemarle road, Newton, and Mrs. Leo Becker, of Browne street, Brookline. M. S. "Women of Achievement" were honored for a series of fund-raising projects during the past season, including a Rummage Sale at Horticultural Hall, Canister Collection at the Boston Garden, and a Cake Sale at Filene's in Chestnut Hill.

During the current, statewide fund drive M. S. women have manned the canister collection front under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Arnold Levison, of High Rock terrace, Newton; Mrs. Harry Blank, of Stanley road, Newton, and former M. S. Women's Division President, Mrs. Harry Rosenfield, of Jordan road, Brookline.

Active on other M. S. "Women of Achievement" fronts are Mrs. Ramon Sifton, of Collins road, Newton, Life Membership Chairman, and Mrs. Al Lerner, of Greenwood street, Newton, Chairman of the Collection Counters' Brigade.

The state-wide fund drive, which extends through this month, is headed by active chairman, Major General Otis M. Whitney, State Public Safety Commissioner, and Senator John F. Kennedy, honorary chairman. Mrs. Dwight B. Eisenhower is national chairman of the Multiple Sclerosis Hope Chest Campaign.

Is there anything lovelier than a radiant June Bride... unless it is the beautiful gifts she has received. That darling Gift Shop that everyone raves about is called Allets and you will find it near the corner of Walnut and Washington Sts. in Newtonville. Jean has filled it with the most unusual gift suggestions in every price range to suit the most discriminating taste... I just love the display of Blenko Glass in gleaming shades of blue, green and purple and amber. Lovely vases in uniquely different designs that are fascinating... and beautiful... for every home.

Once again I want to remind bride and groom or proud young graduates to visit the Summer Frame Shop opposite the Newton Centre Post Office when they plan to frame their newly acquired certificate... About this time of year many artists will be framing pictures to send to galleries and they will be especially interested in the custom framing service with the never ending variety of moldings in every imaginable shape and size... tinted to accent the color highlights of their precious work... Get acquainted with this friendly shop.

Those pests are at it again... Garden pests that are... You can't let them get out of hand. Keep spraying them with insecticides. The boys at Clapper's will advise you according to your particular needs. I found the plastic squeeze container for Rose dust very simple and easy to use... and it is refillable.

Kivie Kaplan Gets Temple Reyim Brotherhood Award

More than 200 members of the Temple Reyim gave a resounding ovation to Kivie Kaplan of Newton as he was presented recently with the Brotherhood's fourth annual Award by Nathan Goldstein, first president of the Brotherhood and one of its founders.

The award breakfast was especially eventful since it marked the first Brotherhood function in the new Temple.

Mr. Goldstein, in presenting the award, outlined Mr. Kaplan's achievements in the field of human relations and his continuous efforts to help his fellow man, regardless of their color, creed or religion.

"In honoring Kivie Kaplan for his tireless endeavors with minority groups and charitable organizations, we are, indeed, paying honor to ourselves," Goldstein declared.

Mr. Kaplan, in accepting the award, thanked the Brotherhood for the honor conferred upon him and accepted the plaque not only in his own behalf but also for his wife, family and business associates who had given him their complete cooperation.

The program was closed with Benediction by Rabbi Harold D. Kastle of Temple Reyim. Former President Myron Idelson acted as toastmaster. President Arthur Galer expressed his thanks to the committee members who helped to make the affair an outstanding success.

le so it is economical... By the way they tell me that there is an amazing new product to control Powdery Mildew on Roses called Actidione P.M. It is an antibiotic fungicide formula that not only stops mildew from developing but promises to kill the existing growth even when roses are badly infected.

It is off to the beach again, as soon as school closes... How about all the equipment you promised yourself, to make summer living at the beach comfortable and convenient... Naturally you will not bring your good china and silver... but you would like an inexpensive set of dishes... baking utensils and kitchen gadgets... The B. S. Edward have about everything you will want... and they are so inexpensive that you can get a complete stock of kitchen equipment from rolling pin and pie pans to dishes and glasses... Handy extra towels, dishrags and dusters... And don't forget they are open every Friday evening for convenient shopping, they have free parking in the rear of the store... and you get a free gift with every purchase of $2.00 or more on the weekends... All good reasons for shopping at Edward's, the store that has everything.

Something to think about...

1100 Newton Students Will Attend School This Summer

It won't be a long, carefree summer sans books and school bells for all Newton boys and girls. Ten percent of them will be going to school from June 30 to Aug. 8.

About 1100 are expected to attend the summer sessions. The Harvard-Newton summer school, which liberal arts college graduates start on a Master of Arts in Teaching program, will be conducted at Bowen School for Grades 3-6; at Weeks for Grades 7-9, with some classes at the high school.

This year four courses will be given for credit for high school students.

These courses, Math 12, Biology, World History and U.S. History, will be for students who want to fill certain academic requirements so that they will be able to take more elective courses in the fall.

According to Superintendent Harold B. Gores, who believes that only able students would be capable of handling the work in the credit courses which meet for four hours a day, five days a week.

The Harvard-Newton program will include 380 elementary school students, 360 junior high students and 157 senior high students.

There will be a third school for remedial reading, in co-operation with Boston University. Eighty boys and girls in grades 3-6 have been chosen to take part in the school, which is also designed to give special training to remedial reading teachers.

The classes will meet at Claffin School, Miss Olive Eldredge, principal of Memorial School, and two Newton University teachers, will work with about 20 teachers in training.

The boy and girl pupils are those with IQ's higher than their reading material. They were nominated by a special committee on the basis of which ones would profit most by remedial reading work. A total of 590 names were nominated and the committee had to bring the number down to 80.

Barbara J. Loud Becomes Bride of Luther S. Davis

In an exquisite heirloom gown Miss Barbara Johnston Loud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams Loud of Newtonville, and Hampstead, N. H., became the bride of Mr. Don E. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Spencer Davis of Lockwood, Ohio.

The four o'clock ceremony was performed Saturday afternoon, June 7th, by the Rev. Benjamin Richard Andrews, Jr., at the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville. An organ program of classical music by D. Ralph MacLean, organist of the First Church of Newton Centre and former music teacher of the bride, preceded the double ring ceremony. The candle-light altar was decorated with white peonies, snapdragons, and gladioli.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore the wedding dress of her great-grandmother, her grandmother, and her mother. The Queen Elizabeth style gown of uncut velvet had been redesigned by the bride's mother for her own wedding and showed an ivory satin slip which was embroidered by the bride's great-grandmother. Her cap and mitts were antique rosepoint lace, the veil of ivory tulle. She carried a cascade bouquet of gladioli, lilies of the valley and ivy.

Miss Barbara Loud of Newton was maid of honor. Miss Ruth Birkhead of Midlothian, Illinois and Mrs. Nancy Childs of Orwell, Ohio, sister of the groom were the bridesmaids. Miss Cynthia Childs, niece of the groom, was the flower girl.

Russell French of Mesopotamia, Ohio was best man and the ushers were Raymond Childs of Orwell, Ohio and Edward Kringman of Elizabeth, N. J. The reception was held in the Boyden Room of Central Church.

A Chinese wedding bouquet tablecloth belonging to Mrs. Ralph Brown of Newtonville was used for the occasion. It has the four Chinese symbols for good luck, much happiness, many offspring, and wealth.

Mrs. Lorraine Holmes of Newtonville and Mrs. John Johnston, the bride's grandmother, of Oak Park, Illinois assisted Mrs. Loud at the reception.

After a wedding trip to the Poconos, Mr. and Mrs. Davis will spend the summer in Newtonville and then return to Oberlin, Ohio, for their senior year at college.

Girl Scouts Give Play For Parents

A medieval romance, in colorful costume, was presented to parents and friends by Girl Scout Troop 148, sixth graders at the Mason School in Newton, last Thursday evening at the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre.

The play was written and directed by their leader, Mrs. Bernard Rogell, a piano and harpichord teacher in Newton. Talented young performers sang English Rounds and folk melodies of the 14th, 15th and 16th centuries.

The cast of characters in the play were: Gillian Rogell, Susan Dietz, Nancy Baer, Lynn Strong, Linda Cummins, Ann Waters, Jeanne Finkel, Mary Norton, Virginia McArdle, Ruth Seltzer, Jennifer Burns, Debra Stone, Nancy Nizari, Joyce Pearson, Mary Klein and Joanna Higley.

Following the play, the Girl Scouts were awarded proficiency badges for completing their requirements in Interior Decorating, Sewing, Painting and Drawing, and Boating. Mrs. Rogell expressed her appreciation to the following who helped her with the badge work: Mrs. David Stowe, Mrs. Theodore Pearson, Mrs. Kenneth Seltzer, Mrs. Stephen Stone, Mrs. Ernest Dietz, Mrs. Michael McArdle, Mrs. Mark Strong, Mrs. Victor Baer, and Mrs. David Cummins.

Council Board members present were Mrs. Russell Broad, Mrs. Arthur Gregorian and Mrs. Joseph S. Kaufman.

An exhibit table of the troop's badge work was on display. Refreshments were served by the girl scouts.

Newton Girl Wins Club Scholarship

At the 48th Commencement exercises held recently at Lesley College, Cambridge, Marie Giordano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Giordano of River street, West Newton, was the recipient of the Cambridge Quota Club Scholarship.

PTA Presidents at Council Conclave

PTA presidents from 25 of Newton's schools met at the old Peirce School on Monday night to discuss next year's agenda for the PTA Council.

Irvyng Helman presided at the meeting, and members present voted to subsidize another day-per-week of tennis instruction for Newton young people if the present teaching series of one-day-a-week proved popular.

Dr. Lowell Coulter of the Peirce School asked that a committee be formed to study the feasibility of introducing a program of foreign language teaching at the elementary level in Newton. PTA's at three grade schools already sponsor such a program and Dr. Coulter asked that the information existing on this subject be gathered for study by the PTA Council.

Daniel Gordon of the Bowen School spoke on the relation of the Boy Scout program to the PTA's, and urged a close correlation of the two organizations be fostered in each school district.

Brilliant Upper Falls Harvard Boy to See Europe "For Free"

It requires David M. Brahms seven hours a week to negotiate the distance between his home at 1208 Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls, to Harvard College, where he completes his junior year this month.

The rest of the summer he'll take a look at what's worth seeing in the Low Countries, France, and Spain — not only for free but in a most leisurely manner. No buses to worry about. No lectures for which to be on time. No telescoping the hours in order to fit the demands of the curricular and the extra-curricular in the matter of precious hours and minutes.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brahms, has been awarded the trip by Dudley House, Harvard's non-resident center, for his outstanding contribution to the House and the college despite the disadvantage of living away from the college.

The award was announced by Charles P. Whitlock, Allston Burr Senior tutor of Dudley House, gathering points at Harvard for some 500 undergraduates who commute to college from the Boston area.

"We select the student who commutes and still manages to participate in all sides of the Harvard community."

For the winner each year the trip is underwritten from a

Ford Foundation grant made to Harvard two years ago.

Brahms has been on the Dean's List ever since he entered Harvard. He's now a Group II student (two A's and two B's) in psychology. He has been on the cross country team and won his varsity letter in track as a middle-distance runner. He is a member of the Dudley House Social Committee and plays on the House football team.

Since his sophomore year, he has been on a scholarship and works 10 hours a week in the Kresge Dining Hall of the Harvard Business School.

At Newton High he was on the Student Council and placed in State track meets in the 440 and 600-yard runs. Two younger brothers are still in Newton schools.

Every Harvard junior automatically becomes a candidate for the Ford Foundation award at the start of his third year. However, all those below Group III scholastic standing (Dean's List, or 3 1/2 Cs and 1/2 C) are just automatically dropped. Survivors are then checked for contributions to Dudley House and the college.

This narrows the field to six, who are interviewed as to their plans for the trip if they win.

In addition to seeing the World's Fair at Brussels and the rest of the itinerary, Brahms plans to visit an aunt in England.

He will return to classes at Cambridge in September to arrange a job at the Business School and when college starts he will resume the commuting grind from Newton by way of bus and the MTA.

One-Room Schools

New York — About one-half of the elementary schools in the U. S. are still of the one-room variety, but they now contain only about five percent of the grade school enrollment.

Hundreds Of Civic Leaders At Gores' Testimonial Dinner

Several hundred civic and educational leaders gathered at the Meadowbrook Junior High School last night to pay tribute to Dr. Harold B. Gores, Superintendent of Schools, who will leave Newton this summer after 23 years in the school system.

Honored guests were Dr. and Mrs. Gores, their children, Judy and Richard, and Mr. Gores' mother, Mrs. Boothroy.

Others at the head table were Mayor and Mrs. Howard Whitmore, Jr., Assistant Superintendent of Schools Charles O. Richter and Mrs. Richter; Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Freedman; PTA Council president Irving Helman; Teachers' Federation President Harold Hawkes; Justin Horan and Dwight Colburn of the Newton Chamber of Commerce; Wendell Bauckman, president of the Board of Aldermen, and Miss Gwendolyn Fredrickson, Dr. Gores' secretary.

Also present along with School Committee chairman Haskell Freedman, were the six members of the committee. The invocation was given by Rev. Joseph Cony MacDonald, minister of the Union Church in Waban.

Mayor Whitmore acted as toastmaster and introduced the head table guests, who lauded Dr. Gores' service to the community over more than a score of years, and cited his many accomplishments in bringing the Newton school system to its present state of nationally-recognized excellence.

Among the hundreds of guests, including scores of Newton teachers, were Alderman Franklin Flaschner, Mrs. Gertrude Locke, Alex Miller, Arthur T. Gregorian, John Cahill, former Mayor Theodore Lockwood, Orville Clapper, Harry L. Walen, Dr. Albert I. Gordon,

Will Attend West Coast Convention

Mrs. Charles Peirce Olton of Newton Highlands and her daughter, Miss Carroll Olton, are flying to California this week to attend the 42nd biennial convention of Alpha Phi women's fraternity at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena.

The convention theme will be "An Investment in Youth," featuring the fraternity's newest project, the Alpha Phi Foundation. Through the foundation the group will assist colleges by bettering housing facilities and helping deserving students with scholarships and awards. A report will also be given on Cardiac Aid, another Alpha Phi philanthropy, to which more than $266,000 as well as many thousands of service hours have been donated since its establishment in 1946.

Mrs. Olton is a delegate from Boston alumnae of Alpha Phi. Miss Carroll Olton is president of Alpha Phi at Cornell University where she will be a senior next fall. Miss Olton was also recently elected to Mortar Board, senior women's honorary for scholarship and service to her college.

Cornell Award To Martin Tormey, Jr.

Martin T. Tormey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin T. Tormey of 91 Shady Hill road, Newton Highlands, a member of this year's graduating class at Newton High School, is one of 11 Massachusetts residents who has been granted a scholarship by Cornell University.

He will begin his collegiate career as a freshman at Ithaca, N. Y., in September. The 11 scholarships granted outstanding Massachusetts secondary school graduates have a total value of nearly $8000.

Women Voters Hear New President Outline Plans

Mrs. Isidor Slotnik, recently elected president of the Newton League of Women Voters, presided at her first board meeting, held for the purpose of board organization. The league program includes items on three levels of government — local, state, and national. On the local level, the League voted to continue its study of Newton's relationship to regional planning for the metropolitan area and a study of special programming for the academically talented student in elementary and junior high schools.

The League will also study the problems of state revenue and parole, as well as United States foreign policy and national water resources.

The following assignments were made: Mrs. Arnold Mork, Legislative Chairman; Mrs. Harold Stein, Finance Chairman; Mrs. Harvey Karp, Public Relations Chairman; Mrs. Harold Isaacs, Membership Chairman; Mrs. Paul Bronstein, Publications Chairman; Mrs. Lester Readlo, Voters' Service Chairman; Mrs. Herbert Berman, Unit Organization Chairman; Mrs. Joseph Schaffer, Communications Chairman; Mrs. Mark Gordon, Water Resources Chairman; Mrs. Edward Richmond, Foreign Policy Chairman; Mrs.

Highlands Church Organist Returns To The West Coast

Harold Schwab, organist and choir director of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church for the last 11 years, has resigned in order to return to his native California.

He first came to this area in 1920. He studied organ with Henry Dunham and piano with Charles Dennee at the Boston Conservatory of Music, took choral training in classes at the Fontainebleau School, and summer choir training courses under Father Finn of the Westminster Choir Training School.

As organist and choir director, he has served at All Saints Church, Lowell, and the Waban Union Church, Waban. He has been a member of the faculty at Lasell Junior College since 1924.

115 New Teachers Have Been Named

Assistant Superintendent of Schools Charles O. Richter reported to the School Committee this week that 115 new teachers have been appointed to the Newton public school system in preparation for the reopening of school next September.

Richter disclosed that 53 of the 115 will be assuming teaching duties for the first time and have had no past experience.

Sixteen remaining vacancies in the city's school system are now being filled, but it is expected that further openings will develop during the summer months.

At their meeting this week the School Board members approved 25 appointments and three resignations and granted a leave of absence to Gertrude R. Welch who is to spend the coming year teaching at an army school in Germany.

The new appointments, all of which become effective next Sept. 1, are:

Ona K. Brameld, to be librarian at the Bigelow Junior High School. She has had 13 years' experience as teacher and librarian.

Mrs. Ouida L. Bailey, Newton High School, who comes here from Wayland High School, with 10 years' experience.

John L. Benson, Newton Technical High School, who has had 14 years' experience, now doing graduate work at Fitchburg State Teachers College.

Vincent J. Arone, Weeks Junior High School, two years' experience, teacher of slow learners in Wakefield, honor graduate of Boston College.

Mrs. Hazel J. Craig, Weeks Junior High School, three years' experience, has done substitute work in Newton, graduate of B.U.

Maurice J. Deschenes, Newton High School, nine years' high school teaching experience in Maine, New York and Massachusetts, graduate of Montreal University, will join mathematics department.

Mrs. Robin G. Abedon, teaching intern in English and social studies at Weeks Junior High, is a graduate of Newton High School and Jackson College.

Leroy M. Gatzkiewicz, teaching intern of English and social studies at Bigelow Junior High School, Harvard graduate.

Rhona Ginn, full-time substitute in music at Newton High School, graduate of Barnard College.

Elizabeth Ann Hauk, not yet assigned, has had half-year experience as teaching intern at Weeks Junior High, graduate of Middlebury College.

Mrs. Frances M. Hoagland, laboratory assistance in science department at Newton High School, graduate of Brandeis University.

Ann Huffer, intern in elementary schools, honor graduate of Vassar College.

Elizabeth Johnson, not yet assigned, graduate of Connecticut College for Women, received A.M.T. degree at Harvard.

Judith S. Levine, Warren Junior High School, graduate of Colby College.

Diana S. Marston, intern in the junior high schools, graduate of Mt. Holyoke College.

Graham B. Place, teaching intern in math and science at Weeks Junior High, graduate of Brown.

Mrs. Barbara B. Roemer, not yet assigned, graduate of Antioch College, seven years' experience in New York elementary schools.

Joan M. Stanley, teaching intern at Claffin School, graduate of Wheaton College.

Shirley M. Surrence, Newton High School, 11 years' experience as speech and drama teacher and dean of girls at high school level.

James L. Tattersson, Newton High School, 2½ years' experience in Cincinnati schools.

Those whose resignations were accepted were Eleanor E. Smith, Beethoven School; Isabel S. Onate, Countryside School; and Gloria Barron, Newton Junior College.

Atomic Force In Man's Life To Be Sermon

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at Christian Science services Sunday.

Matthew's account of Christ Jesus' healing of the man "possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb" (Matt. 12) will be included in the readings from the King James Version of the Bible.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (180:25): "When man is governed by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible. The only way to this living Truth, which heals the sick, is found in the Science of divine Mind as taught and demonstrated by Christ Jesus."

The Golden Text is from Hebrews (1:10): "Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth: and the heavens are the works of thine hands."

Craig Top Man as Tigers Take Esmass Class A Championship

Demonstrating a lot of reasons why he's considered Newton High's most valuable player of 1958, Dave Craig led the Tigers to an easy 10-3 win over Durfee High of Fall River at Victory Field, Watertown, and the Eastern Massachusetts Class A Championship.

It was the fourth Esmass flag collected by Garden City boys since 1944. It brought the Tigers seasonal record to 20 wins against 3 defeats.

The Tigers will seek the State championship Saturday.

Until Newton had taken a 10-0 lead in the seventh inning, Craig was practically untouchable on the mound. The victory was his 12th of the year. He fanned 12 Fall River batters and walked only three.

For the first seven innings he faced only 24 batters.

Dave figured in Newton's offensive plans as well. He got two hits out of four trips to the plate, batted in one run and scored three times himself. His seasonal earned-run average is close to a remarkable 1.00.

Durfee helped the Newton cause along by kicking in with six errors while the Tigers were playing faultlessly. The issue was settled pretty much beyond recall in the seventh inning when the Newton batters came up with five runs to add to five runs they had picked up in piecemeal fashion in the first, third and fifth.

Bill Woodlock drove home Steve Gordon with the first run with a single. He got another single to score Dave Craig from second in the third.

Two hits and four walks were good for three runs in the fifth then came the deluge which brought five runs in a single cluster in the seventh.

Craig opened the run producing with a double.

With the score 10-0 in his favor and a lot of base-running in the first seven innings Dave tied a bit in the final inning

5 Newton Girls At Wellesley Win Elections

Five Newton girls won election as organization and dormitory officers at Wellesley College. They will serve until late spring, 1959.

Those chosen from this city were:

Miss Camille Baller, 9 Kirk-stall road, Newtonville, is the photography editor of the Wellesley College News, the weekly campus newspaper. New circulation manager of the paper is Miss Paula Goldman, 112 Gordon road, Waban. Miss Baller, a zoology major who has just completed her junior year at Wellesley, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin D. Baller, while Miss Goldman's parents are Mr. and Mrs. P. Kervin Goldman. Miss Goldman will be a junior at the College in the fall.

Miss Josephine Kaplan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kaplan, 37 Radcliff road, Waban, is secretary of the Art Club. This has been her first year at Wellesley. Secretary-treasurer of the Classical Club is Miss Lynda Gregorian, of the Class of 1960, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Gregorian.

Miss Emily Goldberg, an art major who will be a senior next year, has been chosen treasurer of Phi Sigma Society, an extracurricular organization concerned with modern poetry. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Goldberg.

to allow three unearned runs but they were merely consolation scores.

Hospital Beds

Chicago — Of all the hospital beds in the U. S., about 71 percent are government-operated—44 percent by states, 14 by the U. S., and 13 by city-county.

RECIPIENT OF the annual Achievement Award of the Alumni Association of the Mass. College of Pharmacy is Commissioner Wilfred Chagnon, right, of the Hubbard Drug Company, of Newton. Presenting the award is Walter Lang, left, president of the alumni association. This is the second award of its kind to be given by the college to an outstanding alumnus. It was presented at the recent alumni banquet held at Norumbega Park, Newton.

Spring and summer clothing and sports equipment will be on sale next Wednesday at the Hyde School PTA Outgrown Shop, located in the basement of the school building on Lincoln street, near Newton Highlands Square. For this annual Rummage Sale, the shop will be open its usual hours, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Proceeds swell the PTA treasury, and all articles remaining after the sale will be donated to charity.

Campus Notes On Newtonites

Eleanor M. Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter L. Kelley of 387 Washington street, Newton, and Miss Winnie L. Redd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Redd of 44 Stony Brae road, Newton Highlands, received Associate degrees in science at the commencement of The Garland School.

Jean M. Casten, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. V. G. Casten, of 1038 Centre street, Newton Centre, added an M.S. degree to her B.A., at the graduation of the Western Reserve University at Cleveland. She received her B.A. from Oberlin College.

Leona Vanni, recent Newton High graduate, will enter St. Elizabeth's School of Nursing in the fall. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo D. Vanni, 399 Waltham street, West Newton.

Patricia Humphrey, 12, of Waban, was one of the featured young pianists participating in a special recital at the B. U. School of Fine and Applied Arts' division of Music this week. Her teacher is Professor Jules Wolfers of Waban.

Something Can Be Done

This column is provided by United Community Services to describe various rehabilitation facilities available in the Metropolitan Boston area for handicapped children and adults.

During the war years, handicapped and even severely disabled people proved they could perform productive work. Contributing to the industrial efforts of the nation were workers in wheelchairs, with artificial limbs, with arrested tuberculosis.

This mass demonstration of the work ability of physically handicapped people led to increased training of disabled people to help them return to employment. In the Boston area there are several organizations and facilities for testing, training and help in finding jobs for handicapped people. Some facilities also provide employment for people too disabled to enter competitive employment.

Community Workshops, Incorporated, gives vocational training and employment to handicapped people over 16 years of age. Morgan Memorial also provides both training and employment. The Jewish Vocational Service provides guidance, evaluation of work skills, training and job placement.

The Massachusetts Division of Employment Security has a program of selective placement of the handicapped in each of its 42 offices throughout the state. The State Rehabilitation Commission provides all possible services for any person with a mental or physical handicap other than blindness. The State Division of the Blind provides vocational guidance, training and placement for the blind. The Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped (Easter Seal Society) sponsors the J. O. B. Program for job placement of handicapped people.

These are commonly asked questions and answers about another of these facilities, the Rutland Training Center:
It is an institution, located near Worcester, which provides both physical restoration and job training for people with arrested tuberculosis, cardiac conditions controlled epilepsy, certain neuro-muscular and orthopedic handicaps.
Who Can Attend The Center?
Any handicapped person in

Gals Urged to Keep Their Men Alive; Supply Is Low

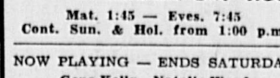

More males than females are born each year in the United States.

Why, then, are there more women than men later on in life? Why the female superiority—numerically, that is—when it comes time to find a husband?

"One reason," the National Safety Council says, "is because males 15-24 years of age—the age when they're either thinking of getting married someday or counting the days till the big event—are being killed in accidents almost five times as fast as females."

The Council isn't necessarily trying to promote matches between the sexes. It is concerned, though, with keeping people alive.

A recent estimate put the U. S. population at about 84,258,000 males and 86,371,000 females—about one and a half million more gals than guys.

hicle accidents are males.
4. The young people are seven times as likely to die in an accident than from cancer, the No. 2 cause of death to persons in the category.

Both sexes are living longer today than their grandparents did, the Council noted, but the so-called weaker sex has widened the gap.

"Men have always died at a faster rate than women, perhaps largely because of the more hazardous tasks they undertake and their chance-taking nature," the Council said.

"But men, especially those in the 15-24 age group, are dying far, far too rapidly."

Statistics for a recent year turned up these facts on the 15-24 age group:

1. Accidents of all types take the lives of nearly five males for every female.

2. More than eight out of 10 persons killed in motor vehicle mishaps are males.

3. Almost seven out of eight persons killed in nonmotor vehicle accidents are males.

Retirement Benefits Lure Air Force Men

Retirement benefits now top the list of reasons why Air Force men—first termers and career men alike—are rocketing USAF enlistment rates to new highs, according to the local recruiter, Sgt. Charlie Bryant.

In view of the zooming re-enlistment rates, Air Force headquarters recently conducted a survey among airmen to discover why so many are signing over. The results show that the airmen appreciate the many actions taken this past year by the Air Force to make service life more attractive.

The sergeant stated that along with the retirement benefits, the man listed these other reasons for deciding on an Air Force career: satisfaction with job and duty assignments, opportunities for education and training, family satisfaction with the Air Force, long-range job security, and the love of aviation and flying.

N.E. Taxpayers Receive Refunds From Fed. Govt.

Over $2 hundred million dollars of refunds on Federal Income tax has been processed by the Federal Government in the 6-state New England area, according to Acting Regional Commissioner Maurice J. Taggart of the Internal Revenue Service.

As a result of the Federal program to expedite the release of refund checks this year, the refunding program for 1958 has been completed ahead of schedule. Checks for $257,848 New England taxpayers have been mailed or are in process of release, totaling $211,443,942; this represents an average refund of $93.64 per taxpayer.

The $2,093,694 of the New England refund returns, totaling $180 million, were processed in the Northeast Service Center at Lawrence, Massachusetts. The Service Center processed a combined total of $7,703,071 refund returns aggregating over $790 million for the Internal Revenue Districts covering the six New England states and, in addition, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, and New York.

Mr. Taggart stated that about 70,000 of the New England tax returns claiming refunds still have to be processed. Most of these involve returns selected for Audit examination before the refund payments can be made. About a third of the 70,000 consists of incomplete returns filed by taxpayers which involve signatures being omitted, addresses not stated, and so forth. Mr. Taggart said that refunds on these problem returns will be processed as quickly as adjustments can be made or the necessary information obtained from the taxpayers involved.

Stored Inflammable Liquids Can Be Lethal Cellar Bombs

Gasoline looks like nice, clean innocent fluid in a glass jar. It's dynamite. In a glass jar it's a Molotov cocktail. In a glass jar it may separate you and your family from life about as quickly as an yother agency of death, Fire Chief Frederic A. Perkins, Jr., of Newton, knows about.

"The scarcity of metals, both steel and tin," the chief points out, "has brought about a condition where some other materials must be used for storing and handling of such danger-liquids as ether, alcohol, cleaning naphtha, kerosene, lighter-fluid, anti-freeze solutions and the heavier oils.

"If you want to stay around the terrestrial planet a little while longer, if you don't want to endanger the lives of household, if you don't want to see your property go up in flames, the chief has a few tips about the storing of these volatile substances about the house.

Here are some tips concerning the sort of container you should use:

- "1 — It must be of a shape and size that can be readily stored and easily handled.
- "2 — It must be tight so that the liquid or vapor from the liquid will not leak.
- "3 — It must not be easily broken, punctured or corroded when in storage.
- "4 — It should permit a reasonable amount of rough handling, such as an accidental drop to the cement floor, without spilling of its contents.
- "5 — It should not rupture with violence and scatter its contents over a large area, if involved in a fire.
- "6 — It should be capable of resealing, to a reasonable degree of tightness after being opened.
- "7 — It should not be so large that, in case of breakage or rupture, the amount of liquid or vapor liberated will produce a serious hazard to life and property.

YW Camp at Denmark, Me. Opens June 27

Three Newton Centre teenagers and one from Newtonville will spend part of their summer vacation at Camp Blazing Trail in Denmark, Me.

They are Adria Cimo, 200 Mill street, Newtonville, Miss Janet Bernstein, 229 Greenwood street, Jane Badgers, 75 McCarthy road, and Shirley Klein, 50 Marvin lane, all of Newton Centre.

The camp's two four-week terms are scheduled for June 27 to July 25 and July 25 to August 22. It is operated by the Boston Y.W.C.A. for girls from 13 to 16. With more than a mile of waterfront, swimming and canoeing are popular activities. Archery, tennis and other sports are available.

Newton Golfers Lose to Walpole In State Finals

Newton High golfers went all the way to the finals in the State Tournament but lost the title to Walpole High when Dick Benkavitch scored a par four for Walpole on the second extra hole. Benkavitch's performance gave Walpole a 5 to 4 1/2 win.

Newton reached the final round by defeating Gloucester High in the morning round, 6-3. Walpole defeated Dartmouth, 5-4, to gain the finals.

The tournament was on the links of the Hillview Country Club, North Reading.

Cellar's Wrong Place to Overhaul That Outboard Motor, Says Chief

Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins Jr., even as you and I smile, every time some cartoonist drags out that old idea about the man who builds a too-big boat in a too-small cellar.

The chief, however, doesn't get any kick at all out of the boat enthusiast who picks out the cellar as the just-right place to get the old (or new) outboard marine engine in tip-top shape for its summer work.

"Outboard marine engines," warns the chief should be stored in a garage or some other approved place and repair work should be done there. The fact that they have a gasoline storage tank, many of which are not always tight, creates a definite fire hazard. To bring a machine of this type, without draining the gasoline out of the tank, into a home is one way of inviting disaster.

"Gasoline and its kindred products should never be taken into the house, much less stored there.

"Consider for a moment what has happened and can happen again—maybe to you," the chief urged.

"A person in his haste to get to work on the motor failed to drain the gasoline tank outside the building.

"As the connections were undone the gasoline flowed on to the cellar floor. At the time the person could have been thoughtlessly smoking or the furnace was burning. All that was needed for the 'grand opening' of the cellar was to allow time for the fumes to travel to some source of open flame or light, and then trouble really starts with a bang. The persons involved rarely know just what happened. The explosion is usually followed by a rapidly spreading fire. A little thought could have avoided this disaster," the chief asserted.

Yankee Tryouts Offered Local Diamond Stars

Young local baseball players—those between the ages of 16 and 20 are being given a chance this week to show whether or not they may be potential to become future New York Yankees.

The Yankees are running a three-day tryout camp at Mansfield. The camp opened yesterday (Wednesday) and sessions will be held today and Friday.

The workouts start at 9 a.m. Aspirants are invited if they come within the 16 - 20 age group. They must bring along their own shoes and gloves.

American Legion Junior players must bring a letter of approval to attend the camp from the Legion coach or post commander.

High School players whose school year is still unfinished must bring a letter of approval from their high school principals.

The camp will be under supervision of Yankee Scout Phil Page, who will be assisted by Scouts Pete Gebrin and Jimmy Kelly.

Mrs. Brugler Will Attend Pa. Conclave

Mrs. Guy W. Brugler, 17 Old England road, Chestnut Hill, will leave next Tuesday to attend the 42nd Biennial Convention of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity to be held at Bedford Springs Hotel, Bedford Springs, Pa., June 26 to July 2. As president of Boston Intercollegiate Alumnae Association, Mrs. Brugler will be the delegate from the local association. She will be among the representatives from 320 alumnae groups in the United States, Canada, Hawaii, and the British Isles who will attend the convention in addition to delegates from the 85 chapters of the sorority in college throughout the United States and Canada.

Many outstanding speakers will be featured on the program including Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president of Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio and newly appointed secretary of health, education and welfare to President Eisenhower's cabinet. Among other speakers are Mrs. Arynne Joy Wickens, Washington, D.C., deputy assistant secretary for employment and manpower of the United States Department of Labor and Dr. Alice Parker, St. Charles, Missouri, both members of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

YMCA Camp To Open June 23

More than 250 boys will begin a summer of day camping when Camps Massasoit and Chickamall of the Newton YMCA open their doors for the first period, a week from Monday, June 23.

Camp Massasoit, the day camp at the Association building, will be opening for its 15th season and will feature archery, swimming, tennis, baseball, softball, nature and overnight camp-outs. The camp is directed by Edward R. DiPersio, physical director of the Newton YMCA and is staffed by qualified college and adult counselors. There are still some openings for all four 2-week periods at the present time.

Camp Chickamall, the day camp situated in Wayland, features camping in a country setting with 12 acres of wooded landscape together with a large playing field, outdoor swimming pool and lodge type facilities for indoor activities. Campers are brought to the camp each day by bus and returned at the close of camp in the afternoon. Activities include swimming, baseball, softball, archery, volleyball, track

Newton Doctor Gets Hospital Chief Position

Dr. Samuel L. Katz of Newton has been appointed Pediatrician-in-chief at Beth Israel Hospital, Abram Berkowitz, president of Beth Israel Hospital announced this week.

Dr. Katz is a research fellow in pediatrics at Harvard Medical School and division of infectious disease research at Children's Medical Center, and is doing research in tissue culture especially in the field of virology or infectious diseases.

A former exchange registrar to the Pediatric Unit, St. Mary's Hospital Medical School, London, England, Dr. Katz received his A.B. degree magna cum laude from Dartmouth College and his M.D. degree cum laude from Harvard's Medical School.

He received his postgraduate medical education at Beth Israel, Mass. General and Children's Medical Center.

A native of Manchester, N. H., he resides at 122 Shornecliffe road, Newton, with his wife, Betsy Jane. They have three sons and one daughter, ranging in ages from one to seven years old.

Walter P. Engel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Engel of 14 Hope street, Auburndale, was commissioned as an ensign in the U.S.N.R. during the commencement exercises at Holy Cross College. He was assigned to the Bureau of Ships, Naval Reactor Branch at Washington.

meets, treasure hunts and trips to places of interest.

Both camps feature free milk with lunch, complete camper accident insurance, and free towels each day. There are four 2-week periods for each camp. For further information contact the Newton YMCA Building 4-6050.

Aldermen Approve Sale Of Rice School Land To Bank

The Newton Board of Aldermen approved the sale of the Rice School property in Newton Centre for $35,000 to the Newton Savings Bank for a main office building at their meeting Monday night.

The Aldermen authorized Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., to enter into a contract for sale of the school property for delivery not later than June 30, 1959. The school will be replaced by the new Mason-Rice School which is under construction on the site of the Newton Centre playground.

An offer from the bank of $30,000 was reported by Chairman Earle D. Wood of the Finance Committee, but he said that the committee felt that the bank would pay $35,000. He said that an option would be obtained by the city to repurchase the property if the bank has failed to erect a building costing at least $200,000 within two years.

Walter Channing Company was named executive agent to dispose of the Mason School property until May 1, 1959.

Frank L. Howley Elected Head of Newton AL Post

Frank L. Howley of the Newton fire department was elected commander of Newton Post 48 of the American Legion to succeed City Clerk Monte G. Basbas.

Other officers chosen for the coming year were Paul O'Donnell, senior vice commander; Harvey D. Preble, junior vice commander; John P. Barton, chaplain; Robert A. Edwards, adjutant; John L. Foley, finance officer; Thomas L. Peterson, historian; Joseph Greco, sergeant-at-arms; Charles Burgess, building fund chairman.

Named to the executive committee were Edward Edmunds, Edward Cunningham, Dr. David Stearns, Lionel J. Sadler, Wilfred Doucette, Francis Daley, Howard Carley, Peter L. Kelley, James Inman and Charles Moriarty.

$200 Taken From Wallet

Sam Stone of 396 Chestnut street reported to police that he had $200 in his wallet when he hung his trousers containing his wallet on a bedroom door of his home at midnight last Saturday.

At noon the next day, Mr. Stone told the police, the wallet was still in his trousers, but the $200 was missing. Police on investigating could find no sign to indicate that a burglar had forced his way into the Stone dwelling.

New Garbage Collections to Start Tuesday

Improved garbage collections will be started in Newton next Tuesday, Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., announced today.

With an increased number of trucks scheduled to be placed in service, collections will be made twice a week at all homes and at business places as often as is necessary.

The better and more efficient service will cost the city an additional $68,000 per year.

Twelve garbage disposal trucks and two pickup trucks will be used, starting Tuesday, where for the past three years there have been nine disposal trucks and one pickup vehicle.

Two working foremen will supervise the collections to make certain that every dwelling is covered twice weekly.

Capello Brothers, Inc., of Newton are the new garbage — TO START TUESDAY — (Continued on Page 7)

Local Firm Has Contract

F. L. Frazer Engineering Inc. of 63 Court street, Newton, has been awarded a $64,500 contract for heating and ventilation by the Sudbury School Superintendent in connection with the construction of a new elementary school on Fairbank road in Sudbury.

Early Copy Next Week Requested For News and Ads

News and advertising deadlines have been moved up for next week's issue of The Graphic because of the Fourth of July holiday on Friday.

It is requested that as much news copy as possible be in the editorial rooms by Saturday with a news deadline set at Monday noon. Advertising copy not later than Monday at 5 p.m.

Newton Democratic Delegates Backed Peabody For Atty. Gen.

A majority of Newton's 27 delegates to the Democratic State Convention in Mechanics Building last Saturday supported Endicott Peabody in his bid for the nomination for Attorney General.

On the first ballot, with two Newtonites absent, 18 members of the Garden City contingent cast their ballots for Peabody, with six voting for Edward J. McCormack and one supporting Joseph D. Ward.

On the second and third ballots, with the full Newton delegation present, Peabody picked up three votes, McCormack lost one, and Ward retained his solitary partisan.

All but a few of the Newtonites stayed in the hall until efforts to conduct a fourth ballot broke up the convention in an uproar. A score of weary Newton Democrats arrived at their homes in the wee, small hours of Sunday morning.

Some of the local Peabody supporters underwent a subtle change of attitude as the evening wore on. By the third ballot they were not so much Peabody supporters as voters who wanted to "stop McCormack."

Newton's 32 Playgrounds Open Monday, Programs Seek to Carry Out President Eisenhower's Plea for "Youth Fitness"

Newton launches another playground season, Monday, June 30. All 32 playgrounds of the city will open on that day. The hours will approximate those in years. So will the dates that measure the season's span.

But this is NOT going to be a usual season. If the earnest dictum of the President of the United States is carried out: If the efforts of Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., and the entire Recreation Department from Commissioner C. Evan Johnson down to the newest employee count — it's going to be a very unusual season.

It's going to be the finest in history — if they can make it so.

President Eisenhower started the ball rolling in that direction when he asked that a "Youth Fitness" program be made the theme of playgrounds all over the United States.

He has designated Monday, July 21, as "Youth Fitness Day." That will be sort of a climax to the season's endeavors; programs and vacation-time activities.

Here in Newton the Presidential proclamation has been digested from every angle. The program planned to bring it into action is the most ambitious ever conceived by the city's recreation department.

Said the President's order — "Since the youth of our nation is one of the greatest of our assets, it is imperative that the fitness of youth be improved and promoted to the greatest possible extent."

"Such fitness is the responsibility of the government at all levels, as well as the responsibility of the family, the school, the community and other groups and organizations."

City - Wide Epidemic Of School Vandalism Seen; Police Warn of Penalty

Expense for Shattered Glass May Total $15,000 This Year

Wanton destruction of windows in Newton public schools has increased sharply since the city's children began their vacations from studies and classrooms.

Only a small percentage of Newton youngsters are responsible for the vandalism, but their actions result in higher tax bills for every property-owner in the city.

During the past few days 29 windows have been shattered in the Weeks Junior High School, 11 have been broken in the Emerson School, six in the Hyde School, while several have been smashed at the new Pierce School.

School officials have watched the mounting toll of broken windows with dismay and apprehension since the start of the summer vacation season.

They are fearful that the bill for replacing shattered window panes in Newton school buildings may exceed the usual figure which generally runs about $6400 for a 12-months period.

Newton Slice of State Tax Melon Down to $592,000

Newton's share of the second 1958 division of corporation and income taxes collected by the State was $591,989 — a sizeable sum, but somewhat less than had been anticipated several months ago. The shrinkage was due to the fact that the State's own collection of corporation and income taxes was down approximately $18 million at the end of May.

Red Cross Blood Mobile at City Hall, July 1-2

A doubleheader visit of the Massachusetts Regional Blood Centre Bloodmobile is scheduled for Newton. The bloodmobile is coming to Newton City Hall on July 1 and 2.

The need for blood at this time of the year is particularly urgent in view of the approach of the Independence Day weekend which, as in three-day holiday periods of the past, is expected to overtax the supply.

Blood Program Chairman Harry M. Meyers of the Newton Red Cross Chapter has arranged for the use of the City Hall cafeteria as a collection depot on the two days. Donor hours will be from 2 p. m. to 7 p. m.

All previous donors are being asked to make a special effort on this occasion to help the Newton Chapter to fulfill this extraordinary need at this time. Of particular importance is any — AT CITY HALL — (Continued on Page 7)

MTA Service on Highland Branch to Start in Year

MTA service on the old Highland Branch of the Boston & Albany railroad should be started just about a year from now.

That was estimated today after the MTA trustees announced that they had executed a $6,994,339 contract with the Perini Corporation of Framingham for the conversion of the railroad tracks to rapid transit use.

Under the terms of the agreement the Perini concern must complete its work by July 1 of next year.

Earlier it had been expected that the tremendous conversion job would require between 12 and 18 months.

As part of the big project a tunnel will be built linking the Highland branch tracks to the Kenmore-Park street subway line.

Work also is to be done on the tracks from a point near the Sears Roebuck building in Boston through Brookline, Chestnut

Elks Name Jim Fitzpatrick State's Outstanding Athlete

James Fitzpatrick, brilliant Sacred Heart High School baseball and basketball star, has been chosen the State's outstanding athlete by the Massachusetts B.P.O.E.

At the Elks convention in Boston he was named as the 1958 recipient of the Massachusetts' Elks' Babe Ruth Award. The award carries a grant of $500 with its citation.

Fitzpatrick, sought by seven colleges and the recipient of overtures for major league baseball tryouts, will enter Notre Dame University in the fall.

The award was one of the highlights of the Elks State convention. It was personally received from State Youth Chairman Bernard Ward of the Elks by Fitzpatrick. Jim's coach, Hank Barry of Sacred Heart, outlined the star's brilliant high school career. He was presented to the convention by J. Arthur Brouillette of the Newton Lodge.

Dem. Conclave Showed Furcolo Is Strong With Party Members

The principal thing the Democratic pre-primary convention has proved is that Governor Furcolo was right in not wanting any conclave held.

It also revealed that Furcolo, despite any impressions to the contrary, is tremendously strong at least with the politicians in his party.

Another conviction left with this onlooker is that the Democratic convention planners made a real blunder in not following the Republican example and adopting a rule providing for the elimination of the low man after any ballot which failed to give some candidate a majority of votes.

The reason the Democratic assembly broke up in such scenes of disorder early last Sunday morning was that the supporters of former Executive Councillor Endicott Peabody and ex-Representative Joseph D. Ward apparently were convinced that Boston City Councillor Edward J. McCormack, Jr., would win the convention's endorsement for Attorney General if the contest went to a fourth ballot.

So a portion of the Peabody and Ward adherents staged a near-riot which made it impossible for a fourth ballot to be taken, and Speaker John F. Thompson, presiding at the time, had little alternative but to adjourn the proceedings.

New Commonwealth School Opens in Hub in September

Commonwealth School, a co-educational institution, will open its doors to students at Commonwealth avenue and Dartmouth street, in Boston's Back Bay, in September. The school, under the headmastership of Charles Merrill, will accommodate about 50 students in grades eight, nine and ten. Grade 11 will be opened in 1959 and grade 12 in 1960, when there will be a total enrollment of about 100.

The full-time faculty will consist of six members and the classes will average 16 to 18. About 30 students are already enrolled from Newton, Cambridge, Brookline, Wellesley and Boston. One German girl, now living in Munich and English twins from London will arrive in time for the opening of classes. On the average one applicant in three has been accepted for admission.

Headmaster Merrill, the father of five children, was raised in New York City. He attended Deerfield Academy and graduated from Harvard in 1942. During the war he participated in the D-Day landing at Salerno as infantryman with the 36th Division. He served for more than two years overseas in North Africa and Italy.

In 1946 he helped found the Jefferson School in St. Louis, working a year in Vienna and Graz as a member of the first Fulbright Exchange group to work in Austria. He moved to Boston in July, 1957, from Paris, where he had spent two years with the U. S. Information Service, writing and studying French educational system. One of his main interests has been that of organizing opportunities for foreign study for negro students. In April he was elected chairman of Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga.

The school will take over the site of the Katharine Gibbs School. Its entire renovation is now being completed. There will be 10 large and seven small classrooms, painted in bright colors. Many of them will be sound-proofed.

To the rear of the building a concrete-roofed gymnasium is being built, one of the first new structures to be erected in Boston's Back Bay since before depression days.

The gym will serve as a dining and assembly hall and will also allow opportunity for basketball, fencing, wrestling and ballet.

In the local community it will be possible to use sailing facilities on Charles River, the tennis courts at Science Park and the pool at the Y. To add to these, Mrs. Merrill has purchased a 300-acre farm, north of Peterboro, N. H., where the whole school can go in fall and spring for hiking, mountain-climbing, and science field work.

Newtonites that solid blocks of votes cast for McCormack were backed up in many cases only by empty chairs. A convention rule prevented challenges except from members of the delegation involved, and it was over this controversial issue that the meeting dissolved in chaos after more than 16 hours.

Betty Taymor of Newton was monitor for the Middlesex-Suffolk district, which includes parts of Brighton and Cambridge, polling the delegates and announcing the results to the convention chairman.

Challenges were made of this delegation by certain of its members on the first two roll-calls, but were withdrawn before the polls were taken at the close of the ballots.

Mrs. Jean LeCompte, chairman of the Newton City Committee, who was one of the delegates, said she objected strongly to the rule allowing only members of a delegation to challenge that delegation's totals.

The number of Newton delegates eligible to attend the convention was the highest ever. The total is based on the gubernatorial vote in the last election, which enabled Newton to send eight more Democrats to the party's pre-primary convention this year than two years ago.

It was decided prior to the opening of the meeting that ballots for attorney-general would be limited to four. Although this rule was made with the consent of the candidates, there was some sentiment that it was a mistake in that it offered anyone of the three an invitation to deadlock the convention.

No matter how small a total any of the aspirants had, he could stalemate proceedings simply by refusing to withdraw until the four ballots were over, if he could hold his strength.

In addition to Mrs. LeCompte and Mrs. Taymor, who is a member of the state Democratic committee, the Newton delegation included Alderman Joseph G. Bradley, who was introduced from the platform as a candidate for the Governor's Council seat now held by Christian A. Herter, Jr., Republican candidate for Attorney General.

Other prominent Newton Democrats in the group were Alvin Hochberg, and Lawrence Sullivan, vice-chairmen of the Newton city committee; Ward 1 chairman John Barton; Ward 4 chairman Dennis Cronin; Ward 5 chairman Sidney Berkman; Ward 6 chairman Milton Cook; and Ward 7 chairman Melvin Chalfen.

Local Milkman Gets 25-Years' Service Honor

Bernard J. Geagan, of 299 Center street, Newton, a long time and well known milkman in the Newton area, has been honored by the H. P. Hood Company with a membership in its Quarter Century Club this week.

Geagan joined the company in 1932 and was one of 63 veteran employees admitted to the Quarter Century Club which now has some 855 members from all parts of New England and some sections of New York State.

He is employed at the Watertown milk branch of the Hood company.

Indiana Degree

Mrs. Felice Cole Levine, 41 Thaxter road, Newton, is among the degree recipients at the 129th June commencement of Indiana University.

The Hoosier state university at its commencement ceremonies conferred degrees in 53 fields of study ranging from bachelor to doctor of philosophy. Its 1958 graduating class was composed of approximately 3,800 students.

Mrs. Levine received the A.B. degree in English with honors.

Incorporation Papers For Community Council Signed

Papers for the incorporation of the Newton Community Council, as a non-profit organization, were signed at the recent June meeting held at the council office in Newton Lower Falls.

Albert R. Beisel, Jr., retiring president of the council, was elected temporary chairman of the meeting of incorporation, with Paul M. Siskind officiating as notary public.

Other incorporators were: Mrs. Meyer Armet, Mrs. Raymond W. Blaisdell, Dr. Donald E. Bowen, Mrs. Riley J. Hampton, Mrs. Stanley O. Robinson and Harry L. Walen. A unanimous vote of appreciation was given Mr. Beisel for his work in preparing details of the incorporation.

Five members of the Newton Human Relations committee, were guests at the meeting and gave a review of activities since the committee's inception. The next Governing Board meeting will be held on September 17; the fall delegate meeting has been set for October 16.

Robert Mitchell, head of the Counseling Dept. at Newton High School, was elected to fill a vacancy on the governing board created by the election of Mrs. Philip A. Segal as vice-president of the Newton Community Chest and Council. Dr. Donald E. Bowen, Rev. John O. Fisher and Mrs. Riley J. Hampton were named to serve on the joint executive committee of the two organizations. Alvin Allen, Mrs. Raymond W. Blaisdell and Mrs. Seymour S. Getter were elected to serve as institutional directors from the Council on the Chest board of directors.

Mrs. Blaisdell gave a report of the Homemaker Service Committee with its recommendation that Newton accept the offer of the Boston Homemaker Service to extend its services into Newton, which was unanimously accepted. Recruitment and training of prospective homemakers will take place early in September.

Mrs. Parkhurst reported on a meeting she attended as a representative from the Council for the cleaning up and beautification of the city, called by the Federation of Women's Clubs. The Council voted to be one of the endorsers of the project.

Newton Man Reappointed Notary Public

Robert E. Gubbins, 37 Clyde street, Newtonville, has been reappointed as a Notary Public, the office of Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin has announced.

Renominated by Gov. Foster Furcolo, the reappointment was confirmed by the Executive Council, following which the commission was signed by Cronin.

School Vandals--

expense for replacing broken windows in schools and other public buildings in the city may run as high as $15,000 this year.

Both school and city officials appealed to parents to join in a concerted campaign to reduce the needless expense which is caused for Newton taxpayers by the wanton smashing of windows and the destruction of other public property.

At the same time stern warnings were issued that police officers are maintaining a periodic vigil on school buildings and that any youths apprehended for breaking windows or otherwise destroying property will be punished and their parents required to pay for the damage caused.

It was pointed out that the bill for broken school windows alone in the course of a year represents an expense of 40 cents per pupil for each child in the city attending a public school.

One high public official described the situation as "disgraceful in a city such as Newton" and declared that the time has arrived for meting out stiff punishment to any child who is apprehended smashing a window.

Newton parents also were urged to impress upon their children the serious result from hurling a rock through the window of a school or any other building.

threw for Newton all afternoon. When the ball was returned some 420 feet from the deepest point in the Holy Cross ball yard, Paul was beating the dust off his pantaloons at third base with a triple and St. Stephen's had taken over complete charge of the ball game.

His work wasn't done for the day, however.

In the sixth inning Don Riedl, the Stevedore's ace moundman, (10-1 for the year with three straight tournament wins), was obviously tired. Besides he'd wrenched an ankle rounding second in the first half of the game.

Coach Tivnan signalled Morano to give up his shortstop play for the day and come into pitch. That Paul did. Newton continued to press the rest of the way—they had men on bases all afternoon.

The Tigers couldn't cross the plate on Paul.

They filled the bases in the seventh through the medium of a couple of singles and a pass. Then Captain Ron O'Loughlin produced a high chopper between third and home. Paul Morano was quickly off the mound to spear it. There was no play at any base—it appeared. Save possibly at third. But third baseman Bill Penny had come in for a play on the chopper and no one was covering third.

So Paul Morano dove to third base himself to beat base runner Bill Woodlock by a whisker. The records say that classy Don Riedl was the winning pitcher. That's what the rules provide. It was non-star, unheralded Paul Morano who wrapped up the State flag and carried it off Fitton Field.

It's rarely the big league scouts have seen a better played baseball game anywhere—even in their boss's parks.

On hand for Joe Cronin were Nell Mahoney, Jack Onslow, Fred Maguire and Larry Woodall. Lennie Merullo was eying the boys in the interest of the Chicago Cubs.

Here are some of the things they saw:

In the first inning lead-off batter Davis for St. Stephen's lashed a routine but perfect single to right field. It wasn't a single. Despite Davis' speed Bill Woodlock threw him out at first in a great play.

In the second inning, Dave Craig burned swinging third strikes across the plate against the heart of the Stevedore's lineup—Bill Penny, Bob Arena and Frank Prizzio to send the Worcester boys down in order.

In the third Craig rifled a bullet to Ron O'Loughlin to catch Riccardi, who had taken only a so-so lead off first base. Whitey Ford couldn't have done it better.

In the eighth Morano got to second on a single and a wild pitch. Catcher, John Connerney snapped a throw to Jim Leonard to catch Paul inches off the bag.

In the fifth, with Dave Seeley on second, Connerney connected with one of Riedl's fast balls and drove it far and deep to left field. Davis was off with the crack of the ball—back-to-the-plate. He galloped many parasangs, turned at the last

The scouts saw enough to fill several notebooks.

The Rev. George C. Holland, athletic director at St. Stephen's had seen all he wanted to see after Paul Morano poured a fast strike over the plate on Ron O'Loughlin in the ninth. That strike ended the game and gave little St. Stephen's the State flag.

Father Holland is a member of the 1943 class at Newton High School.

As he told coach Howie Ferguson a few minutes later—Newton High had no need for discouragement. It sent a grand

Lt. John Magner Finishes Course

Lt. John F. Magner, of 32 Walsh road, Newton Centre, successfully completed the Operations Course at the U. S. Naval Reserve Officers' School in Boston and graduated on June 19 in ceremonies held at the Boston Naval Shipyard.

Lt. Magner is a veteran of World War II, during which he served as commanding officer of an LSM. He is presently the manager of the Courtney Hardware Company in Dorchester.

baseball team up to Fitton Field.

There was no way it could handle a slender shortstop and part-time pitcher named Paul Morano—who made nobody's all-star team.

MTA Asks OK to Seek $5½ Million For Highland Br.

The MTA took the first steps toward underwriting its eventual operation of the abandoned Highland Branch when it went before the State Public Utilities Commission to seek permission to float a $5½ million bond issue.

The cash it hopes to realize will be approximately half of the total sum which, it is expected, will be required for installation of its commuter service.

Some of the money now sought, a total of $1,347,000, MTA trustees informed the State board would be used for the purchase of rolling stock—a fleet of 60 Diesel-powered buses.

In contrast to the stern fight made by Newton officials and Newton members of the Legislature when the initial moves were made to turn over the branch to the MTA, no one voiced objections when the MTA trustees still hold to their expressed belief that once the transit is in operation it will serve approximately 30,000 commuters and realize a profit of $300,000 annually to cut down the multi-million losses each year.

All legal hurdles for operation of the branch from Boston through Brookline and Newton to Riverside have been cleared.

Actual "spade work" hasn't yet begun although the necessary engineering preliminaries were started soon after the MTA proponents had beaten back the stormy opposition offered by Brookline and Newton.

"What this country needs is for us to stop referring to it so slightly as this country. It is our country."—Industrial Press Service.

Aid for Minorities Ousted by Toll Road Planned by Group

Definite steps to assure fair treatment in finding new homes for minority group families who are expected to be dispossessed by the toll road extension or for other reasons have been taken in Newton with the creation of the Newton Citizens Committee for Fair Housing Practices.

The committee plans to function as a permanent organization although its immediate concern will be to find homes for colored families who may be obliged to move because of the East-West toll road extension to Boston.

Committee spokesmen, explaining its purpose, declare to make certain that "all persons of good character should that the committee will seek

Boat Stolen

A 12-foot wooden boat with a life preserver was stolen from the Auburndale Playground last weekend, Recreation Commissioner C. Evan Johnson notified police.

for their families without restriction based on color, creed or national background."

As a result of conferences with the Turnpike Authority, many residents of the neighborhood on Hicks street, Curve street and Prospect street have reached the conclusion that a number of their homes will be seized for use of the new extension.

The committee will endeavor to contact real estate firms and enlist their aid to find replacement homes in other sections for colored families and those of other minority groups. A file will be compiled showing homes that would be available and the names of families who might expect to be displaced.

Mrs. C. Leon Hopper, Jr., will serve as secretary of the committee. The steering committee will include Robert Segal, executive secretary of the Boston Jewish Community Council; Dr. Paul Deats, B.U. professor; Mrs. Francis McGill of the Walker Missionary Homes; Mrs. Alice White, secretary of the Myrtle Baptist Church.

Also, Mrs. Lillie Jefferson of the Newton Parents Organization, a civic group of colored parents; William Byrne, executive director of the West Newton Community Centre; Sam Turner, moderator of the group; Mrs. Rose Cannon, wife of the pastor of Second Church; Mrs. Helen Evans, president of the Newton Community Fellowship; Henry Shepard, Jr., secretary of the Social Action Committee of Second Church, and Mrs. S. Roy Remar.

Mrs. Hopper, wife of the executive director of liberal religious youth, a Unitarian-Universalist organization, declares that while the toll road extension has given the group a certain urgency for action at this time, the committee's basic concern is "open occupancy," — freedom for any person of any minority group to buy a home in the same way as would anyone else.

She said that conversations with realtors are already under way and that information gained from these talks is being assembled. Mrs. Hopper expressed belief as result of her investigations that colored people do not seek special treatment in finding homes and that the values of real estate are not affected by colored families moving into an area.

She said that out of a dozen cases, only one valuation drop was recorded after a colored family moved into a neighborhood. In some cases, she said, an actual increase in value was recorded.

The Citizens' Committee plans to work with the Newton Human Relations Committee and other civic organizations. Among individuals cooperating with the group are Allan Knight Chalmers of B.U. and former State Senator Richard H. Lee of the Newton Council of Churches.

A $4,125,000 bond issue has been authorized by the State

Now that the sun is shining again, let's talk up a storm with tid-bits of good news from local shops.

A few weeks ago I remarked the clever art work on the back door of Atwood's Camera Shop. I remember describing how realistic the painting of a flash camera looked on the door, facing the parking lot . . . but I missed the boat . . . That isn't just good to look at, it serves a mighty handy and practical purpose. Atwood's has introduced a new quick service feature that we all will appreciate.

You know how often you capture wonderful pictures of the family on an outing and the films get put aside until the next time. You remember them as you go shopping . . . Now, drop them in Atwood's handy slot as soon as you arrive in Newton . . . (the light will be flashing to direct you). Chances are, the films will be processed before you have your morning coffee the next day . . . How is that for fast service . . . And by the way Atwood's will furnish you with mailing bags and tags for your summer address, so no matter where you go . . . you can take Atwood's wonderful service with you . . .

Here is more exciting good news from Allets, Jean

Miss Gibbons To Attend Conclave And Pacific Tour

Miss Mary Gibbons of 1569 Washington street, West Newton, will join a group of 23 New England delegates to the Quota International Convention in San Francisco, July 2-5.

The group will leave Boston Saturday, June 28, via United Airlines for San Francisco. A program of sightseeing has been arranged preceding the convention dates, including an all-day coastal trip to Carmel, Monterey and the Giant Redwoods as well as a 2½ scenic boat trip of San Francisco Bay.

Sunday, July 6, immediately following the convention, the group boards a giant Pan-American Clipper for Honolulu, where they will be guests at the Halekulani Hotel.

A round of activities has been planned for them here, including a Hawaiian Luau, an all-day Circle Island tour, Pearl Harbor cruise, and the Mt. Tantalus tour.

Miss Gibbons plans to leave Honolulu, July 12, returning home via New Mexico.

Public Utilities Commission to finance a part of the vast undertaking.

Fear has been expressed by public leaders in both Newton and Brookline that persons who formerly rode on the Highland Branch will acquire new riding habits during the next 12 months and that the MTA will operate at a huge loss when it does begin service on the line.

Women Voters Set For Early Primary Information Drive

The registration and voters' information program has been launched by the voters service committee of the League of Women Voters of Newton, in anticipation of the early date of the state Primary on September 9th.

Plans now well launched include sending greeting cards to prospective new voters — those who reached the age of 21 before the primary and are now eligible to vote — and to new residents, urging them to register before August 8 in order that they might vote in the September 9th primary.

An intensive publicity campaign is planned to get underway on September 10th. This will inform local residents that registrations will again be open until October 3rd, to qualify them as voters for the November 4th election.

Letters also will be sent to all the women's organizations in Newton requesting them to publicize registration dates and to encourage their members to register and vote.

The vital registration work of the league is under the direction of Mrs. Morton L. Mitchell, Mrs. Arthur Goldwyn and Mrs. Irving Sigelman.

Mrs. Irving Radio, chairman of the Voters Service Committee has announced that the campaign to inform local voters in the coming elections will again include a Candidates Meeting.

Candidates whose names appear on the ballot will be invited to appear at this meeting. Mrs. Phillip Paisner, chairman, and her committee will complete arrangements for the meeting during the summer so that the community will be able to hear the candidates before the election in the fall.

What are you doing this summer? Perhaps you'll want to join the smartest class in your town who most likely have already enrolled for the 6-week summer course at Boston's famous finishing school, the Académie Moderne. Here, in a beautiful mansion in the heart of historic, cultural Boston, you'll become "A New You." After personal analysis, courses include posture, grooming, wardrobe, make-up, and social dancing — plus a gay round of social activities.

In 6 short weeks, you'll emerge with a "new look"—more poised and radiant, ready to face friends and family, boss or beau, a crowd or a camera with happy confidence.

Classes start Monday, July 7th, for this intensive vacation-time course that combines fun-with-learning. For interview or catalog, phone CO 6-1282 or write 35 Commonwealth Ave., Boston. (Adv.)

Manager's Club Annual Meeting Elects Officers

The annual meeting of the Personnel Manager's Club of the Newton Chamber of Commerce was held Thursday evening at the Simpson House, Newton Centre. Guest speaker was Donald L. Marshall, personnel director of the Sanborn Company, Waltham.

Chairman George O'Donnell, presided at the meeting.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Ralph S. E. Sanguinetti, Newton Savings Bank, chairman; Mark Cross, Ucinite Company, first vice chairman; George E. Lewis, Raytheon Manufacturing Company, second vice chairman; William E. Coulton, Security Mills, secretary-treasurer. The slate was presented by Stanley Ebb, chairman of the nominating committee.

Mr. Sanguinetti thanked the members for their vote of confidence and praised Justin Horan, Chamber of Commerce executive director, with whom he anticipated many mutual activities for the benefit of the community and the entire Chamber membership. It was announced that the next meeting will be held September 18th.

The American Foundation for the Blind granted 20 scholarships to blind persons in the last twelve months.

Four Newton Men Contributors To New Book on Law

Four Newton residents were among 36 contributors to the new book, 1957 Survey of Massachusetts Law, prepared by Boston College Law School and just published. They are:

J. Marshall Leydon, of 44 Grove Hill Park, Newton; Richard D. Huber, of 406 Woodward street, Waban; Peter F. Coogan, of 219 Homer street, Newton Centre; and Cornelius J. Moynihan, of 239 Cypress street, Newton Centre.

Mr. Leydon contributed a chapter on insurance; Mr. Huber, a chapter on contracts; Mr. Coogan was a contributor to a chapter on second transactions under the uniform commercial code; Mr. Moynihan contributed a chapter on property and conveyancing.

The book surveys the development in Massachusetts law from October 1, 1956 to October 1, 1957. It is the fourth in a series.

Political Highlights

Actually, not all the persons participating in the wild demonstrations were delegates. Many of them were simply Peabody and Ward camp followers, but they made so much clatter and clamor that Speaker Thompson was forced to stop the call of the roll for the fourth ballot in the Attorney General fight.

That was the objective of the Peabody and Ward followers, and they succeeded in accomplishing it.

Any disposition to blame Speaker Thompson for the astonishing disorder Saturday night and early Sunday morning at the Democratic conclave would be completely unfair.

Thompson stepped into a poorly planned convention. He had no way of enforcing the rulings he made or of restoring discipline early Sunday morning unless he wanted to summon police riot squads. He did about as good a job as anyone could have done under the circumstances.

Some of the top figures in the Democratic party might have helped to maintain greater dignity at their party's pre-primary convention by their very presence if they had remained at the proceedings instead of accepting their nominations, making their brief acceptance speeches and hustling for the nearest exit.

Possibly, however, they foresaw to some degree the disorder which occurred and were reluctant to be on hand during it.

The convention produced mostly frustration for the McCormack backers. They felt their man had the necessary strength to win the Attorney General endorsement, but the victory in the three-way struggle eluded him by a hairbreadth.

However, the manner in which Peabody and Ward held their lines to prevent McCormack from winning on the second or third ballot was amazing. Usually when a candidate piles up as big a lead as McCormack did on the first ballot there is an immediate stampede to him. That didn't happen in this contest although it seemed obvious that neither Ward nor Peabody could emerge the victor.

McCormack came within 61 votes of winning on the first ballot, was 40 votes away from victory on the second ballot and was nine votes short of a triumph on the third ballot. That's about as close as it's possible to come to winning and still not win.

The circumstances were operating in McCormack's favor as Speaker Thompson ordered the roll called for the fourth ballot.

Members of the Suffolk County delegations, where McCormack packed his greatest strength, were remaining in their seats. Their homes were in close proximity to Mechanics Building.

But the delegates from more distant sections of the Commonwealth were leaving and heading homeward. That was hurting Ward and Peabody more than McCormack.

What will happen when the Democratic convention reconvenes Saturday is uncertain.

An all-out attempt undoubtedly will be made by Co-chairmen John F. Thompson and John E. Powers to maintain some measure of discipline and to keep the proceedings from getting out of hand, as they did early last Sunday.

So much bitter feeling has been built up, however, by the charges and counter-charges hurled during the past few days that their task is not likely to be an easy one.

Only two things can happen in the contest for the conclave's endorsement for Attorney General. 1. McCormack might win on the one remaining ballot. 2. The deadlock might continue, with all three contenders carrying their cases to the Democratic voters in the September primary.

There appears to be no real possibility that either Ward or Peabody can pick up enough additional support to emerge the victor.

McCormack's hopes of emerging a fourth-ballot winner hinge on two possible developments. 1. He was close enough to victory last Saturday so that he might be able to attract additional votes. 2. Some of the delegates from distant sections of the State who attended the conclave last Saturday may not be able to return for the second round this week.

Ward and Peabody undoubtedly will seek to maintain the deadlock. Since both have declared their intention of going into the September primary, they obviously would prefer a stalemate rather than to have McCormack go into the primary as the convention nominee.

Peabody has opposed the resumption of the convention and has indicated that he is uncertain whether he would remain in the fight for a fourth ballot.

Since his withdrawal almost certainly would make McCormack the winner, however, it is expected Peabody will fight down to the finish to maintain the deadlock he already has helped to create.

Some legal experts, incidentally, have expressed doubt that the convention rules committee acted properly in limiting the battle for Attorney General to four ballots.

Under the law the convention is supposed to endorse an entire State ticket. It fails to fulfill that requirement if no choice is made for Attorney General. That could invalidate all the other convention actions.

When the Democratic delegates finally dispose of the fight for Attorney General, they will then face the task of nominating candidates for State Treasurer, Secretary of State and State Auditor.

Auditor Thomas J. Buckley will be renominated by acclamation, but the indications are that stiff battles will develop for both Treasurer and Secretary of State.

Sentiment among the delegates indicated that Representative William F. Keenan of Dorchester has very substantial support in the fight he is making

Homes and Vandals

Our various municipal department heads—particularly those who have been around for awhile—take quite a bit of pride in being able to estimate for as much as a year ahead the dollars-and-cents tabs they'll be required to meet.

Some of them are really pretty good. You'll find they'll be able to guess to within a few dollars what it will cost to run their departments—unless, of course, circumstances beyond their control intervene.

One thing most veteran public officials can figure fairly accurately is the cost of vandalism. For some departments, of course, it will be more than others. The School Department, for instance. Or the Recreation Department.

We were talking to a man concerned with the maintenance of school properties the other day. He's a pretty solid citizen. Loves kids. Yet, his brow furrows and his jaw muscles tense as though he had a "chaw" of tobacco when he talks about the unnecessary impost placed on taxpayers by mischief-minded children.

He finds the cost of replacing broken windows alone most appalling.

According to him 90 per cent of the damage occurs in the summertime. It's simple. Every year he adds about 10 per cent greater damage than the year before. He says his guesses are most discouragingly accurate.

The broken window damage alone runs into the hundreds of dollars.

He's not a philosopher. That is, he isn't one of those men who figures that when those children grown up—the children responsible for the vandalism—they'll turn out to be candidates for prison cells. Listen to him:

"Most of them just don't think. I suppose the basic reasons for the costly mischief can be traced to their homes. These days parents don't seem to be too concerned about public property. We grabbed three youngsters—the oldest about 12—for smashing about $58 worth of glass in a schoolhouse a couple of summers back.

"The police got into the case at our request. They went around to each home; interviewed the parents. In each and every instance each parent was astounded. Not because their brats had destroyed property.

"They all had the same tune. 'He's only a little boy—whaddya expect—ya want blood just because he broke a few windows.'

You can see what a respect for public—and private—property is being built in the minds of those children."

Of course, schoolhouses aren't the only target. The child or adult who deliberately tramples newly seeded grass at a public spot; the big teen-agers who get a thrill out of smashing a water bubbler or destroying recreational equipment set out for their benefit; the hare-brained children who will stone a passing train—all have something in common.

The common denominator is a lack of respect for the deencies of human dignity.

That's a sort of respect that's built in home, church and school—mostly, perhaps, in the home.

Every dollar that will have to be spent for vandalism because of depredations during the weeks just ahead will serve to underscore that right here in our own fine community there are a lot of homes which don't deserve the appellation of home, at all.

Happenings in the Newtons

Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin, 16 Arundel terrace, Newtonville, was unanimously elected secretary of the Archdiocesan Council of Chi Rho (Young Adults) of the CYO at Boston's Hotel Somerset. Thomas Cox, 1238 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, made the second-inning speech in her behalf.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Cole, 30 Rosalie road, Newton, and their son James, flew Pan American World Airways to start their European vacation with a fine send-off from friends.

Highlight of the social held at Congregation Beth El-Atereth Israel, Newton, was the presentation of a shofar to the Congregation by Chairman Lawrence Laskey of Israel Bonds.

Member When Garden Sprinkler Was Verboten?

You may take the position that the weatherman hasn't been unduly over-kind in denying this part of the Greater Boston area of a nice balmy spring. However, even lots of rain and well-below normal temperatures can also bring along a few benefits if you harken to the word of Sanitary Engineer Frances H. Kingsbury of the State Health Department.

The weather, thus far, says Mr. Kingsbury that for this area, at least, has made up the rainfall deficiencies which were accumulated during those arid months which will be remembered as the drought of 1957.

Keenan's supporters declare that he entered the contest when he believed that Cronin was going to retire from office. They asserted that he had gone too far to withdraw when Cronin changed his mind about running again.

Boston School Committee Chairman George F. Hurley and Woburn Mayor William Shaughnessy loom as the top contenders for the endorsement for Treasurer. Selectman Myron D. Donoghue of Saugus and Selectman Michael J. Ward of Framingham both have some backing, however.

Whether that contest will go more than one ballot is uncertain. It probably depends on the strength shown by Ward and Donoghue.

Rudsten Faced Hopeless Odds In Struggle for Endorsement

There was a pathetic aspect to the fight made by former State Senator Daniel Rudsten of Dorchester against Governor Furcolo for the Democratic gubernatorial endorsement.

Rudsten was an able and dedicated member of both the House of Representatives and the State Senate. He was a down-the-line Democrat who never strayed or bolted from the party reservation and held strictly to Democratic policies and principles.

A good many delegates who might have been disposed to vote for Rudsten were reluctant to do so for a variety of reasons.

They knew he had no chance of defeating Governor Furcolo. Perhaps some delegates may have feared the power of the Governor's office.

The great majority, however, were apprehensive that a vote for Rudsten would have been construed as a vote for the repudiation of the present leader of the Democratic party in Massachusetts.

That was why Rudsten did not receive a single vote up to the time that he himself stepped in and stopped the call of the roll.

Bennett Award To Ernest Winsor

Ernest Winsor, son of Edward A. Winsor, 393 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, has been awarded the James Gordon Bennett Prize at Harvard University for his senior honor thesis, "Desegregation by the Federal Courts."

The prize, approximating $180, comes from a fund established by James Gordon Bennett. It is awarded each year for the best essay on some subject of American governmental domestic or foreign policy of contemporary interest. It is open only to seniors or special students in their third or fourth year who have taken courses in political science and American literature.

Winsor received his A. B. degree magna cum laude in government at the Harvard commencement.

Job Training for High Schoolers Starts in Sept.

Newton High School is seeking the cooperation of Newton employers to establish "on-the-job" training for seniors enrolled in the school's general curriculum. The new program will get under way in September and will allow students to begin work between 12 noon and 12:30 p.m., after morning classroom studies.

Students who will be candidates for such training are those who could expect success in any competitive job. They could do assembling and packing, work in restaurants, laundries, service stations, hospitals, retail stores and in factories.

Potentially interested employers are requested to contact Mrs. Dorothy Huss at Newton High.

Loomis School Graduate Plans To Enter Yale

William Williams, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Williams, of 223 Dorset road, Waban, was graduated recently from the Loomis School, Windsor, Conn. He was one of 89 seniors to receive diplomas at the school's 44th Commencement.

The Waban boy was editor of The Loomis, the school literary magazine in his junior year.

During his senior year, his activities included serving as co-editor in chief of The Loomis, managing editor of the Loomis Log, the school newspaper, member of the Senior Scholarship Committee, and the Dining Hall Committee.

He was also a member of the Press Club and the Student Endowment Fund. He intends to enter Yale in the fall.

Give Dad a Break When You Figure Vacation Plan

The Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health Association and its local affiliate suggest planning a vacation for the father and breadwinner of the family.

The Association has a few pointers to offer: What kind of recreation will recreate him? What will give him the kind of rest from the job he needs to build up his health for the year ahead.

Ask him what he really wants to do, the Association urges.

The seashore or the mountains? A long motor trip or a cottage at the lake? These are the dilemmas facing millions of families across the nation this summer. How will your family decide?

The older girls may want to go to a resort where unattached men abound. Your swimming champ is interested only in water. The boys have mapped out a 200-mile tour of the National Parks. Little sister gets car sick. Mother would like a vacation from dishes and meals.

Who will win? What about father? What does he want? Anybody ask? The youngsters will survive a disappointment. There are many summers ahead of them.

The Association challenges you to name any of the major diseases, then look at the vital statistics. It's the men in the middle years of life who are hardest hit.

Take TB, for example. Almost twice as many men as women have TB, and the proportion of deaths from this disease among men is even higher. Why should this be? The Association knows that a healthy person can usually fight an invasion of TB germs to a standstill. Be sure and take good care of Dad's health.

Newton Men Are Honored For Safe Driving Records

Local men are among a group of 78 Boston Gas Company employees with faultless driving records of 10 to 20 years who have been commended by the Massachusetts Registry of Motor Vehicles and company officials for their outstanding performance in the company's safe driving program.

Among the Star Drivers honored, are John L. Boston of 9 Coolidge road, Newton Centre, 22 years; John A. Swift, 139 Bridge street, Newton, 19 years; and Robert J. Hanlon, 55 Capitol street, Newton, 18 years.

Clement A. Riley, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, commended the outstanding drivers at a banquet in their honor in the company auditorium, 100 Arlington street, Boston, and pins and certificates were presented to the men by W. H. Eacker, president of the Boston Gas Company.

The 78 men honored are among 425 employees operating company motor vehicles, every work day who have completed from one to 22 years of perfect driving. Altogether, Boston Gas Company vehicles traveled over 3,500,000 miles last year.

Newtonville Man To Conduct Course

Joseph A. Barry, AB, LL.B., of 211 Highland avenue, Newtonville, will conduct a new course in administrative practices and services at M.I.T. this fall under the auspices of University Extension, according to an announcement this week from Frank P. Hawkes, director.

The course will acquaint supervisory middle management aspirants with administrative techniques, practices, control and services. Mr. Barry is associated with the Raytheon Manufacturing Company.

He is a graduate of Harvard College, Boston College Law School and has done graduate study at Boston and Northeastern Universities. He is a charter member of the Charles River Management Club and a member of the Research and Development Group, American Management Association.

Postcards to Cost Three Cents Aug. 1

It will cost you more to send out that letter or postcard beginning Aug. 1.

Beginning that date, first class mail will be increased from 3 cents to 4 cents per ounce; postal and postcards will be increased from 2 cents to 3 cents. Domestic airmail will be advanced from 6 cents to 7 cents per ounce and airmail postcards will go up from 4 cents to 5 cents each.

Increases in the second class and bulk third class mailings are also to be revised upwards, but the hike will not be effective until Jan. 1, 1959.

Teacher At Conference

Charles L. Peltier, a teacher at Newton High School, is taking part in the DePauw-College Entrance Examination Board conference on advanced placement in history. The event will last until Sunday at the Indiana school, at which time Mr. Peltier will return to Newtonville.

Where You Save DOES Make a Difference

by don herold

When saving's a habit, you can coast down hill

You have to push and pedal a little to get a bicycle started, and you have to EXERT A LITTLE EFFORT to get yourself started on the savings habit at Watertown Federal.

But, after that, boy (or girl!) saving is a downhill breeze! You'll find yourself placing savings in Watertown Federal almost without thinking, and usually without strain. And what a thrill it is to watch these dollars pile up, and the dividends "happen" happily, to add to your pile.

collectors who will take over on Tuesday. Their phone numbers are BI 4-1256 and LA 7-9490.

The Newton street department today made public these regulations covering garbage collections.

"1. It is directed that garbage should include only waste material from animal and vegetable matter. The garbage shall not include paper cartons, grass, razor blades, glass bottles, rags, newspapers, broken glass, disinfectants, ashes, vacuum cleaner dust bags, tin cans or any similar foreign material. These materials are part of the trash, and should be put out in the regular way for collection by City Trucks.

"2. The use of single paper bags or wax paper liners as garbage containers is permissible, but the use of heavy newspaper wrapping is not permissible.

"3. The contractor will not collect garbage containing the unsuitable material listed in (1) and (2).

"4. It is the responsibility of the owner to maintain the garbage storage unit in good condition, as the contractor will not collect if bottom is out of bucket, pail is without a handle, or if there are similar defects.

"5. Container should be kept clean. It is recommended that garden hose be used on container and that it be washed regularly to eliminate vermin. Be sure water is removed from container.

"6. Contractor will not collect during Fall and Winter seasons if the contents of the container is frozen in place or if a pathway is not shoveled to container."

Mulhern Predicts Democratic Trend In 10th District

A voting shift of less than 3 per cent in the 1956 10th congressional district election "would have moved the district into the Democratic column where it rightfully belongs," Attorney Joseph J. Mulhern, Jr., candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in that district, declared in an address to Democratic State convention delegates.

Mulhern cited an analysis by Kenneth R. Harding, assistant to the chairman of the Democratic National Congressional Committee, which indicated that the 10th congressional district is a marginal area which can go Democratic in a Democratic year.

"This is a Democratic year," Mulhern asserted. "It has happened in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and California. With the strongest, best qualified nominee, it will happen here."

Mulhern expressed the belief that he will be the Democratic nominee and predicted he will win election in November. He pointed to his "training and tradition" in making that forecast.

Retiring Teachers Honored By Staff

Miss Emily P. Burdon, chairman of the Language Department at Newton High School, was honored recently at a dinner given at the Abner Wheeler House by members of her department.

Sharing honors with Miss Burdon, who retires this year after 36 years of teaching at the Newton High School, was Miss Helen White, also of the language department, retiring after 33 years at Newton High.

Miss Burdon, who became the head of the department in 1953, has been active in the Modern Language Association, the Salon Francais in which she has served as president, and the Education Committee of the French Center of New England.

At the High School she has been a member of the Program Committee, the Committee on Advanced Standing, and the Guidance Staff. She has traveled extensively in this country and is planning a trip to France this summer.

Miss White, an instructor in the French Department, has served the school in many extra-curricular assignments. An enthusiastic supporter of the drama, she has taken part in many faculty plays and is an active participant in the Lend-A-Hand Masque.

A member of the Modern Language Association, she has served also as vice-president of the Boston Chapter of the

Joins Playhouse In Michigan For Summer Programs

Susan McClintock, of 147 Chestnut Hill road, Chestnut Hill, has joined the Cherry County Playhouse at Traverse City, Michigan, as assistant director of apprentices for the summer season.

She is an actress of quite some experience. She acted in the Boston Children's Theatre and at the Boston Drama Workshop. In March, she played one of the leading roles in the Post's Theatre presentation of Denis Johnson's "The Scythe and the Sunset." She repeated this role with much success on television.

Miss McClintock also was with the Playhouse, which is located in the heart of the Lake Michigan resort country, last summer as assistant stage manager.

Greer Garson, noted stage and screen star, has recently narrated a film for the American Foundation for the Blind.

American Association of Teachers of French, Miss White also has traveled extensively in this country and abroad.

Raymond Ethier, instructor in French, who will succeed Miss Burdon as chairman, presented both retiring teachers with gifts from the members of the language department.

Garden Reception Follows Clotilde Sheehan's Wedding

(Andre Snow Photo)
MRS. WILLIAM FARRELL

Miss Clotilde Emilie Sheehan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Joseph Sheehan, of 64 Gray Cliff road, Newton Centre, and William Edward Farrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Farrell, of 7 March avenue, West Roxbury, were united in marriage on June 21. The 10 a.m. ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie, assisted by Rev. Paul Phinn at the Sacred Heart Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a princess-style gown of parchment satin, designed with short sleeves and a chapel train. Seed pearls and crystal beads outlined her scoop neckline, and her Juliet cap of matching satin was decorated with seed pearls and caught to an illusion veil. White roses and stephanotis decked her prayer book.

Miss Jane Caffrey of Newton Centre was maid of honor, while Miss Mary Hayes of Winchester, Miss Louise Moriarty of Wilmington and Miss Ruth O'Neil of Cambridge were bridesmaids.

John J. Farrell of West Roxbury was best man; the usher corps included Robert Farrell of New York City, Frederick Walsh of Roslindale, William E. Sheehan of Newton Centre.

A garden reception at the home of the bride preceded a motor trip to Florida and a plane trip to Nassau.

The couple plans to live in Brighton. The new Mrs. Farrell attended New Rochelle College, New York, and was graduated from Emmanuel College; she is a teacher in the Lexington School system. Her husband served in the Marine Corps for three years and is now attending Boston College Intown.

Brandeis Reading Room To Be Named For Newtonites

The major reading room in the Judaic Studies area of the proposed $2,000,000 Goldfarb Library building at Brandeis University will be resigined in honor of a Newton couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Shapiro of 42 Nonscott road, Newton, are underwriting the reading room, which will contain reference material and reading matter on Hebrew, Judaic, and Near Eastern archaeology, civilization, and culture.

Various collections related to these studies, including the personal Judaic Civilization collection of Mr. Shapiro, will be housed in this reading room. Many of the volumes in the Shapiro collection are presentation copies from distinguished authors.

One of the first Boston couples to support Brandeis University, Mr. and Mrs. Shapiro have for many years been outstanding leaders in Jewish and Hebrew culture. Mr. Shapiro, a former men's clothing manufacturer and now president of Sapir Investment Co., Inc., is a trustee of the Combined Jewish Appeal, chairman of the Greater Boston Histadrut Campaign, and honorary president of the Yiddish Culture Club.

The recipient of a Brandeis University award, Mr. Shapiro has also been cited by the National Histadrut Campaign of the United States and Israeli Bonds Organization. He is a member of the Pine Brook Country Club and Masonic United Lodge.

The Alexander and Pauline Shapiro Reading Room will be used by faculty and advanced students for research, study and discussion groups. Book stacks, seminar tables, and reading areas will make this modern room the center of the Judaic Studies area in the library area.

for emergency labor and repairs to the kitchen refrigerator at the City Infirmary on August 13, 1957.

Increases in two mortgages and a new loan were approved for the Horace Couzens Industrial Fund. Other appropriations were approved as follows:

Street Department — Acceptance of Reservoir drive from Woodlawn drive to Manet road, Chestnut Hill, $19,700; sewer construction in Fairlee road from Woodward street to near Woodward street, Waban, $40,000; installation of traffic lights at Washington and Channing streets and Centre avenue, $4,500.

Public Works Department for the removal of two old buildings on the easement in connection with the flood control project in Newton Centre and Waban, $200; to lower water mains in connection with the same project, $5,465.

Building Department, for installation of water coolers in City Hall, $650.

Public Works Department, for the construction of an access road from Greenwood street northerly for 1,000 feet and for loaming and seeding to the site of the proposed south side high school, $30,000.

A request by Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr. for $235 for a typewriter for the Jackson Homestead was disapproved by the Board.

Also disapproved was the request for $80,000 for the purchase of an 800 KW engine with a generator for the Newton High School power plant. Chairman Warren A. Sutherland of the Public Buildings Committee reported that the committee recommended the appropriation of about $1,000 for a new Edison Company power line to serve as an auxiliary to the present power plant.

The Board approved a bond in the amount of $5,000 with the New Amsterdam Casualty Company for Comptroller Arthur A. Marr Jr., through February 13, 1961, for the New Retirement System.

City Solicitor — $288.50, to retired Assistant Fire Chief Francis J. Linnehan for expense incurred during due to injuries received during a fire on February 20, 1954.

A request for an appropriation of $300 for the installation of 16 all-day parking meters in the Richardson street municipal parking area, Newton, was sent back to committee after Alderman Paul S. Rich objected that all day parkers would deprive shoppers of parking areas.

C of C Looking Ahead to Bright Yule in Newton

If advance planning will make it so, Newton is pretty sure of presenting its most attractive Christmas appearance of all time when the Yule-tide season of '58 rolls around.

Among the problems being tackled this month by Executive Director Justin T. Horan of the Newton Chamber of Commerce and a Chamber-sponsored committee made up of representatives from each of the village shopping centres are Christmas decorations and lighting.

"Purpose of a recent meeting of the committee," says Mr. Horan, "was to discuss the possibilities of combining the efforts of the different shopping areas so that a better financial arrangement might be made in setting up and taking down, renting or purchasing of necessary equipment."

"The possibility of asking for city-wide contributions by all Newton firms toward this city lighting program including interested residents and firms, whether they be retailers or not was also discussed. Additional meetings of the committee will be required before final plans are formulated."

Newton Students Get Promotions

Five Newton residents recently completed their first or second year of study as a student of the School of Practical Art in Boston. Those completing their second year were Donald A. Aceto of 18 Talbot street, West Newton; Brenda Lee Haywood of 13 Prospect street, West Newton; and George D. Guzzi, Jr., of 11 Randlett park, West Newton. Those who have completed one year at the school are Donna C. Macfarlane of 31 Freeman street, Auburndale, and Anne Davis of 440 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville.

Southern Ass'n Little Leaguers Feted at Dinner

The Southern Association of the Newton East Little League held a successful Father-and-Son dinner at the Meadowbrook Junior High School in Newton recently.

Invited guests included Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., Park Commissioner Evan Johnson and Artie Gore and Jack Barry of the Boston Globe. More than 200 boys and their fathers, including Joe Cronin and his son, attended the dinner.

Each boy was presented a Certificate of Merit for participating in an extremely successful Little League season. Mayor Whitmore presented a trophy to each of the managers. Norman Buchbinder, of Allied Research Associates, Inc., presented a gold watch, on behalf of the managers, to Joe Oppenheim, of the Raytheon Manufacturing Company, who was commissioner of the Southern Association.

Openings Still Available At Nursery School

Following a meeting of the Carr Nursery School Board of Directors recently at the home of the president, Mrs. Dexter Bernstein, it was announced that applications for enrollment are still being accepted for the 1958-59 year.

The school, a non-profit organization, is conducted at two adjoining rooms at the Carr School in Newtonville. Sessions correspond to the Newton Public School kindergartens, with 18 children attending the morning sessions and a like number at the afternoon program.

Further information concerning enrollment may be obtained by calling LA 7-9286 or DE 2-0835.

TELEVIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

Mr. Bertie grabbed one of the top funny men in Hollywood to produce his new NBC show next season. Hal Kenter, who wrote and produced for George Gobel and others, inked the contract with Uncle Miltie.

Patricia Benoit, who was Mr. Kenter's girl friend, and Patrick O'Neal, from Dick and the Duchess program, will co-star on NBC June 30 in a new afternoon show called "Today Is Ours." Star of a new western, "The Rifleman," which ABC will drop into its Tuesday night line-up next season is Chuck Connors, Brooklyn Dodger and Los Angeles Angel first baseman turned actor.

Rod Sterling's fourth Playhouse 90 drama of the season is "A Town Turned to Dust" — set for viewing June 29. NBC has renewed the Alcoa - Goodyear Theater package for another season. Danny Thomas is now in the radio broadcasting business, with the purchase of KGOE in Bakersfield, California, for $175,000.

CBS says it will have the famed British Old Vic Company doing a 90 minute version of "Hamlet" in 1959. Seems that old boy Hamlet never ceases to attract interest. Something else that's attracting interest these days is high quality TV service. Service is only as reliable as the dealer who provides it. Our servicemen are experts in the field. If you are not already one of our satisfied customers, come in or phone and let us convince you that there is a big difference in TV service. And, don't forget—we also service all brands of air conditioners and specialize in sales of the famous Pedders air conditioners.

Presents His Exclusive BODY WAVE $10.00

The Body Wave is a form of permanent waving used on hair that either has a little natural wave or hair that waves easily.

It does not add appreciably to the amount of wave already in the hair, but gives such strength and resilience to the wave as to make the hair seem naturally wavy and remarkably easy to put up.

It is for hair to which the ordinary permanent wave (however soft) gives too much curl.

DEATHS

John J. Hines

John J. Hines, 37 George street, Newton, died in the seat of a coach of a Boston & Albany commuter train at South Station shortly after boarding the train at the conclusion of his day's work. He was 67.

Mr. Hines was a cashier at Tucker Anthony & R. L. Day Co. He was a member of the Newton Lodge of Elks, the Holy Name Society of Our Lady Help of Christians Church and the Friary Retreat League of Brookline.

Funeral services were held at Our Lady's Church, Newton. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary E. four sons, Francis X. and William J. of Cleveland, Robert E. of Hingham and Paul A. of Needham, and two daughters, Mrs. Margaret E. Delaney of Newton Highlands and Mrs. Maureen Riley of Westwood.

Dr. Fred A. Simmons

Dr. Fred Albert Simmons, 128 Chestnut street, West Newton, died at his home at the age of 51.

He was a past president of the American Society for the Study of Sterility and a former associate visiting surgeon at Massachusetts General Hospital and a past consulting surgeon at Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary.

Funeral services were held at Second Church in Newton.

Dr. Simmons was a native of Brockton. He was a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy, Yale University, '29, and Harvard Medical School, '33.

He was a fellow of the American Medical Association and of the American College of Surgeons, a member of the Endocrine Society, the Obstetrical Society of Boston, American Therapeutic Society and the New England Obstetrical and Gynecological Society.

He leaves his wife, Nona H., three sons, Fred A. III, George R. and David P., and two daughters, Nona J., and Geneva A. Simmons.

Newton Woman Is Speech Therapist

Miss Sybil Siegel of 107 Upland avenue, Newton Highlands, has been appointed speech therapist at the Rehabilitation Center of Worcester, the Eastern Seal center at 295 Lincoln street, it was announced yesterday by William R. Humphrey, director of the center.

Miss Siegel was graduated from Newton High School and from Emerson College, Boston. She will assume her new duties at the Rehabilitation Center next Monday.

Zone Changes And Tennis Lights Get Aldermen's No

The Newton Board of Aldermen were in no mood to say "yes" Monday night as they denied without prejudice two petitions for changes in zone, and turned down a request for overhead lighting of tennis courts in a split vote.

The Board voted 10 to 9 to deny the request of the Newton Squash and Tennis Club for an extension of the non-conforming use to permit lighting at the tennis courts located at 11 Chestnut terrace, Newton Centre.

Previously, the Claims and Rules Committee had voted, 4 to 3, to grant the request for the middle court only. Since the Planning Board disapproved the request, 16 votes of the Aldermen would have been required for the petition to be successful.

Denied without prejudice, which permits the petitions to be brought back within the year, were the requests of Margaret B. Hughes and others for change of zone from Private Residence to Residence "D" District of 1 and 19 Parker street; 41 Cypress street, 18 and 24 Paul street, Newton Centre, and of Thomas F. McDonald for change of zone from Residence "D" to Manufacturing of land bounded by North and Farwell streets, Newtonville.

Chairman Leo M. Cannon of the Claims and Rules Committee reported that the McDonald request was denied pending an amendment to the zoning ordinance providing for "garden-type" manufacturing, and the Hughes petition was denied because she had no specific plans for the development of the land.

The Baptist Home of Massachusetts was granted permission to add a wing to the home at 66 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill.

Licenses to store inflammables were granted Mabel Louise Riley, 93 Bellevue street, Newton, and the Clapper Company of 1121 Washington street, West Newton.

A report to the Secretary of State was authorized on Anthony J. Camutis, 31 Whitlow road, West Newton, as an incorporator of "Bowlers Associates" to be located in Boston.

The Board approved the request of the Longwood Cricket Club for permission to hold national tennis doubles during the week of August 17 through 24.

Charles T. Hale was granted permission to move his second-hand articles dealer's license from 1301 Washington street, West Newton, to 1277-79 Washington street.

The auctioneer's license of Dorothy H. Ingersoll, 40 Newtonville avenue, Newton, was approved.

George L. McIntosh, doing business as Newton Highlands Taxi Company, was granted a first class taxi license at the northeast corner of Chestnut

Curtis Appoints Newton Namesake To Naval Academy

Congressman Laurence Curtis this week announced the appointment of Laurence M. Curtis, Jr., of Newton Centre, to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Although the future Midshipman is a namesake of the Congressman who appointed him, they actually are not related in any way.

Young Curtis, who has been ordered to report at Annapolis next Monday, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Morse Curtis of 56 Charlotte road, Newton Centre.

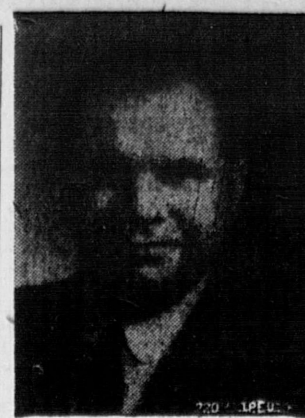

He graduated earlier this month from Newton High School where he played football and participated in both indoor and outdoor track.

Congressman Curtis makes his appointments to both West Point and Annapolis on the basis of competitive examinations, with the appointments going to the candidates who achieve the best records. The young men are then tested further by the academies themselves.

Miss Peterson Medical School Honor Graduate

Miss Joan Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Peterson of Needham, formerly of Waban, recently received the degree of doctor of medicine, cum laude, from the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania.

The former local girl, who was graduated from Newton High School in 1946 and from Colby Junior College in 1949, received her bachelor of science degree from Tufts University Pre-Medical School in 1953. She will intern at Philadelphia General Hospital.

Whittemore Seeks Reelection to 2nd Legislative Term

Representative John W. Whittemore of Newtonville this week announced his candidacy for renomination and re-election to the Massachusetts House of Representatives from the 4th Middlesex legislative district which takes in Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 of Newton.

Whittemore was a member of the Board of Aldermen for four years, serving as an Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2. A resident of Newton for more than three decades, Whittemore has been active in municipal, civic and community as well as political affairs.

He served on several Aldermanic committees under Mayor Howard Whittemore, Jr., among them the committees on public works, legislation and municipal parking problems.

In both his campaigns for election to the Board of Aldermen, Whittemore led the field of candidates in his home Ward 2 section.

Representative Whittemore was overwhelmingly elected to the Legislature in his first campaign for a seat on Beacon Hill. His attendance record at the House sessions has been excellent. He is one of the most active members of the legislative aeronautics committee and the legislative committee on pensions and old age assistance.

In private life Representative Whittemore is secretary-treasurer of the Eastern Commercial Travelers Accident and Health Associations and also is a director of the Connecticut Travelers Insurance. He is executive secretary of the International Federation of Commercial Travelers Insurance Organizations.

Representative Whittemore vigorously opposed the extension of the Toll Road through the heart of Newton, protesting that it would divide the city, necessitate the rebuilding of churches and the relocation of families now located along the route of the B & A railroad.

Whittemore always has manifested an interest in the youth of Newton and has sponsored a Little League team since the league was first established. He also served as co-chairman of the Halloween celebration in the city.

He is a member and director of the Newtonville Improvement Association, a director of the Ward 2 Republican Committee, an active Red Cross worker, a member of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, the Newton Republican Committee, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery, and the Middlesex Club.

Representative and Mrs. Whittemore reside at 43 Otis street, Newtonville. He has a daughter, Mrs. Angus MacLeod, and two grandchildren.

Whittemore will stand for renomination in the Republican primary next September.

Local Men Attend Chicago Conclave

Paul E. Tierney, Centre street, Newton Highlands, Howard Greene, Angier Circle, Auburndale, and Norman Vincent, Walnut street, Newtonville, are attending the 39th International Conference of the National Association of Accountants this week at the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Chicago.

Mr. Tierney and Mr. Greene are past presidents of the Boston Chapter; Mr. Vincent is currently national vice-president of the association. A record attendance of over 2500 members is expected from the association's 137 chapters in the United States and from 60 foreign countries.

Boston Chapter, represented by the Newton men, will receive the coveted Remington-Rand Trophy for excellence in such categories as educational programs, manuscripts and special activities of a business, civic and community nature.

Is Nearing Goal As Fighter Pilot

Naval Aviation Cadet George F. McCormack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCormack, 217 Pearl street, Newton, has completed the gurnery and carrier landings qualification phase of naval flight training at the Barin Field, NAAS, at Foley, Ala. Upon completion of this phase, students undergo advanced training in single engine fighter type aircraft at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Nursery School Being Planned By Eliot Church

A weekday nursery school for children ages three and four is planned by the Eliot Church for the fall. The school will be operated three hours daily from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., five days a week.

The schedule of days will coincide with that of the Newton public schools.

Enrollments are now being taken with preference being given to Eliot Church children. However, children outside the parish, of any religious denomination, will be accepted in order of application. Forms may be obtained by calling the church office at BI 4-3639.

For further information on the school and its program, parents may call the church office, or Mrs. William Powers at DE 2-6637.

Returning Home After Long Cruise

Ensign Peter W. Hobbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Hobbs, 23 Frederick street, Newtonville, is scheduled to return to Norfolk, Va., July 4, aboard the heavy cruiser U.S.S. Salem after an extended cruise with the U.S. Sixth fleet in the Mediterranean. During the 26-month cruise, the Salem served as the flagship for the commander of the Sixth Fleet and for Cruiser Division Two. The young officer is the husband of the former Verity Smith of Garden City, New York.

Insurance Men Reelect Gordon

George E. Gordon of Newton has been reelected president of the National Association of Public Insurance Adjusters, at the organization's eighth annual convention at Atlantic City. He is the only New England resident honored with a top office.

Seven Graduate From Wentworth

Seven local students were recipients of degrees and certificates in engineering and technical commencement exercises of Wentworth Institute held at Symphony Hall in Boston. They were:

William L. Goldberg, 17 Westbourne road, industrial electronics, associate in engineering department.

Joseph P. Cotoia, 18 Beech street, industrial electronics, associate in engineering degree.

Paul A. Barrett, 31 Maplewood avenue, machine construction and tool design, associate in engineering degree.

Lawrence E. Tocci, 86 Jassel street, machine work and tool making, certificate of graduation.

From Waban, David C. Grise, 873 Chestnut street, steam and diesel engineering, associate in engineering degree.

Newton Officer Gets Assignment To Southern Post

Lt. Colonel Frank J. Vassalotti of Newton, formerly the commanding officer of the 19th Engineer Battalion at Fort Meade, left Saturday for a new assignment at the U.S. Army Ballistic Missile Agency, Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala.

Before his Fort Meade assignment, Colonel Vassalotti was the post engineer for the Ascom area command in Korea. He graduated from the Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1937 where he received his bachelor of science degree in civil engineering. Prior to college, he attended Newton High School.

Upon completing his college studies, he was commissioned in December, 1940, and came on active duty as a second lieutenant. His first assignment was in the military construction and he has been in the engineering branch of the army ever since.

During World War II, Colonel Vassalotti was assigned as the area engineer of the Delta Area in Helioopolis, Egypt. While there, he was responsible for construction of a $15,000,000 repair depot and a 1000-man hospital. The depot was used to repair all American equipment that was being used by the British Eighth Army in its North African campaign.

From Auburn, David C. Grise, 873 Chestnut street, steam and diesel engineering, associate in engineering degree.

Charles P. Brown, 170 Pine Ridge road, building construction, certificate of graduation.

WILL TEACH IN ITALY—Dr. Irving Glickman, of 24 Manor House Rd., Newton, head of the department of Oral Pathology at Tufts University School of Dental Medicine, will give an intensive course next month at the University of Turin, in Turin, Italy, for professors of various Italian and European dental schools. Dr. Glickman will demonstrate the method of treating pyorrhea which he has been teaching at Tufts.

Studying Aerography
Rosario F. Guzzi, Jr., airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rosaria F. Guzzi of 40 Oak avenue, West Newton, is attending the aerographer's Mate School at the Naval Air Training Unit at Lakehurst, N.J. The class is scheduled to graduate Aug. 15.

Joseph B. Hatch Has Certificate

Joseph B. Hatch, owner-operator of the Washington Park Nursing Home in Newtonville, was one of a group completing a course of lectures and studies aimed at better care of the aged which was jointly sponsored by Boston College School of Nursing and the Massachusetts Federation of Nursing Homes.

Mr. Hatch, who received a certificate on completion of the course, studied such subjects as rehabilitation and the latest methods and practices of nutrition.

The Healing Power Of Christ Will Be Sermon Discussion

The ever-availability of the healing power of the Christ, Truth will be brought out in Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the lesson-sermon on "Christian Science" is the Golden Text from Isaiah (40:5): "The glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (146:23-26): "Divine Science derives its sanction from the Bible, and the divine origin of Science is demonstrated through the holy influence of Truth in healing sickness and sin."

Scriptural selections will include the following from Habakkuk (2:14): "For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

Local Naval Men Get Certificates

Three Newton officers of the U. S. Naval reserve received certificates at the commencement exercises of the U. S. Naval Reserve Officers School at the Boston Naval Shipyard.

Commander Edward L. Davis, 63 Avondale road, Newton Centre, executive secretary of the New England Shoe and Leather Association, was awarded a certificate for completion of a course in industrial relations.

Lieutenant Anthony L. Cimo, 200 Mill street, Newtonville, sales manager of Colonial Liquors, Inc., also won a certificate for the industrial relations course.

Lieutenant (jg) Gregory E. Lindon (227 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands, an engineer with Photon, Inc., Cambridge, was presented a certificate in engineering.

Completes Naval Reserve Studies

Commander Alfred H. Rosen, USNR, of 135 Truman road, Newton Centre, successfully completed the strategy and tactics course at the U. S. Naval Reserve Officers' School, Boston, and graduated on June 19, at ceremonies held at the Boston Naval Shipyard.

Commander Rosen is a veteran of World War II and is head of patents division, Naval Research Reserve Company 11, Boston. He is presently employed as counsel to International Division of the Raytheon Manufacturing Co., in Waltham.

Raytheon Names New "Lab" For Dr. P.L. Spencer

The new Burlington Laboratory of the Raytheon Manufacturing Co., will be named the Percy L. Spencer Laboratory in honor of Dr. Percy L. Spencer, 31 Agawam road, Waban.

The honor has been bestowed on the local man in recognition of the major role he played in bringing radar tube into mass production in World War II.

The new laboratory will be constructed on Route 123 for Raytheon's microwave and power tube division. Dr. Spencer has been manager of the division for the past 16 years. He is now senior vice president of the Raytheon firm.

Keany Will Coach Newburyport H.S.

Walter (Huck) Keany of Dedham, whose major league career was cut short by an automobile accident three months after he joined the Baltimore Orioles, has been appointed football and basketball coach at Newburyport High School.

Fort the past two years Huck has been football and basketball coach at Brewster Academy, in Wolfeboro, N. H.

He was considered an outstanding big league prospect when Baltimore signed him to a contract in 1956 but injuries suffered in an auto crash ended his active playing days.

Mrs. Keany is the former Janice Louise Regan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Regan, 14 Larkin road, Newton.

Carr School PTA Plans To Make 9 Improvements

A nine-point work program was endorsed at a special meeting of the newly-elected executive board of the Carr School PTA of Newtonville, held June 18 at the Newton Cooperative Bank.

The projects to be undertaken are installation of floodlights as a safeguard against vandalism, gymnasium facilities, playground ice skating rink, improved snow removal, auditorium repairs, PTA kitchen, outside telephone for playground emergencies, police protection at the Crafts and Watertown streets intersection, and improvement of school grounds.

A get-aquainted tea for mothers and teachers will be held early in October, and gifts will be given to the three teachers who are leaving the school this year. The board also voted to sponsor two concerts by the Young Audience Series during 1958-59.

John Ford was elected to the PTA Council as a representative to replace Mrs. John P. Murphy who resigned.

President Ira L. Berman urged that the group emphasize "the T in PTA." He called upon the teacher representatives to submit requests from teachers for materials and teaching aids which the association might be able to furnish.

It was revealed at the meeting, at which all members of the board were present, that the association ended the year with the largest treasury balance of all the 30 PTA's in the City.

LaCroix, president; Mrs. Ralph Rich, vice president; Mrs. Thomas Ganley, secretary; Mrs. Mario Marino, treasurer; Mrs. John Murphy, program chairman; Mrs. Rocco Marzilli, membership chairman; Mrs. John McGuinness, hospitality chairman; Mrs. Ambrose Dougherty, publicity; Mrs. James Kiley, chairman; Mrs. Harry Cooper, sergeant-at-arms.

Trustees installed were Mrs. Hawley, and Mrs. James Vecduccio.

Outgoing officers were Mrs. Howley, Mrs. John Quinn, vice president; Mrs. Ralph Rich, secretary; Mrs. John McCaughey, treasurer; Mrs. Salvatore Arico, program chairman; Mrs. Charles Rivers, membership; Mrs. M. Francis Greeley, hospitality; Mrs. Stephen Madden, publicity; Mrs. Thomas Ganley and Mrs. Rocco Marzilli, trustees.

Harvard Medical Names Two Local Men To Faculty

Two Newton physicians, Drs. Hadassah S. Daniels of 62 Beaconwood road, Newton Highlands, and Dr. Morris Simon of 206 Waverly avenue, Newton, have been appointed assistants on the faculty of Harvard Medical School.

Dr. Daniels, named as assistant in psychiatry, received his M.S., in 1945 from the University of Chicago, and his M.D. in 1950 from Indiana University School of Medicine. He is connected with McLean Hospital at Waverley.

Dr. Simon has been appointed an assistant in radiology. He received his M.D. and B.Ch. in 1948 from Witwatersrand University, his D.R.R.D. in 1952 from London and F.R.C. in 1956 from London. He is associated with the Beth Israel Hospital Boston.

Wives of Police Install Officers At Annual Banquet

The Newton Police Wives Association at its annual banquet at the Marlboro Country Club feted its outgoing officers and installed the new in a highly enjoyable evening.

New officers are Mrs. Joseph
